Democratic Caucus Gets Revised Tariff Bill From Committees

Washington, June 20.—The Senate finance committee, today, presented to the Democratic Senate caucus the revised tariff bill. There are many additions to the free list.

Wheat, ten cents per bushel in the Underwood bill, was added to the free list but the Senate committee retained a retaliatory provision for a duty of ten cents a bushel on wheat, 45 cents a barrel on flour and 10 per cent ad valorem on other wheat products when imposed by a country that imposes duty on American wheat or wheat products.

A retaliatory duty of 10 per cent upon potatoes imported from countries imposing duties against the United States also was inserted. Potatoes were unreservedly on the free list in the Underwood bill.

EXCITEMENT OVER BIG VARSITY RACE AT NEW LONDON

Regatta Course, New London, June 20.—All New London turned with excitement, this afternoon, and long before the crews had put their shells overboard, throngs left the town for the river banks to secure positions of vantage to view the struggle between the big Yale and Harvard eights.

The rain had ceased and an brilliant sun occasionally broke through the leaden skies and tipped with in-lucent light the colors and pennants that were flung from many yachts that lay in sorted lines along the Thames course.

Weather Indications

New Haven, June 20.—Forecast: Unsettled weather with local showers, tonight and Saturday. Slightly warmer tonight.

For Connecticut: Unsettled weather probably with showers tonight; light to moderate south and southwest winds.

An area of low pressure extending from the lake region eastward to New England is causing unsettled, showery weather in the northern districts from the Massachusetts valley eastward to the coast. The temperature continues high in the central districts.

FISH DYNAMITER FINED.

ASSESSOR FOUND GUILTY OF FALSE TAX BOOK ENTRIES

Boston, June 20.—Samuel A. Segee, chairman of the board of assessors of Revere, today, was found guilty of making false entries in the tax valuation books.

The state charged the defendant employed fictitious names to transfer property in which he had an interest so that the real estate tax was not collectable. The defense claimed that Segee was the victim of a conspiracy to injure him before the public.

REP. MIDDLETON DIES IN MELROSE

Hartford, June 20.—John Middleton, who represented the town of Enfield in the general assembly in 1883, 1884 and 1905, died at his home in the village of Melrose, today. He was born in Ireland and was 73 years of age. He was interested in the grocery business in Broad Brook and owned a farm of 200 acres, engaging largely in the raising of tobacco.

Mr. Middleton is survived by his widow, a son and a daughter. The son is Former Senator Howard A. Middleton.

Maxwell roadster. The four are all of the Cornell Alumni and will remain over for the varsity races tomorrow, returning by way of White Plains and New York.

Francis Emroy Warren of Wyoming, one of the wealthiest members of the United States Senate, was born at Hinsdale, Mass., sixty-nine years ago today. During the civil war he was a private and later an officer in the Forty-ninth Massachusetts Volunteers, and received a Congressional medal of honor for gallantry on battlefield at the siege of Fort Hudson. Although the owner of millions, Senator Warren recently applied for a $16 a month pension, explaining that he did so in order to officially establish his army record. He went to Wyoming in 1868, and soon became prominent in Republican politics as mayor of Cheyenne, territorial governor of the State, and United States Senator. Sheep were the source of his fortune, and he became one of the largest wool producers in the world. He has been subjected to many bitter attacks in the press, but he has been Wyoming's choice for senator since 1890. As a young man in Wyoming he was prominent in the campaign that resulted in the granting of suffrage to the ladies. That was in 1869, when Wyoming was a territory. Throughout his subsequent career "the shepherd king of America" has been a champion of the cause.

Arriving in his native city, he went to the California Theatre, where he told the manager he was an actor, and secured a minor role in "The White Slave." He was soon discharged as an actor, but hired as a call-boy at seven dollars a week. Brady became a manager twenty-five years ago, when he organized a road company. For a time he was the manager of Jim Corbett, and later of Jim Jeffries, when those gentlemen were heavyweight champions. In 1896 he invaded New York, and is now one of the principal producers of the American metropolis, with interests in many other cities and connections in London.
