Ancient Woodbury. "T." in the Hartford Times tells of an interesting time in old Woodbury on the Fourth as follows: Of all the celebrations in the various towns of this state on "The Glorious Fourth," I venture that none were more enthusiastic or patriotic and that no more originality, taste and skill were displayed in the various representatives of the "Goddess of Liberty of America," of "Cinderella" (in the shoe display), of the original thirteen states, and many others equally deserving of notice, than were shown in this beautiful village snugly reposing among the hills in the Pomperaug valley.

Among the "antiques" were found the costumes, the vehicles and the manners of the most primitive days in our early history. Those old yellow wagons and harnesses and the old sleigh would cheer the heart and broaden the smile of our old friend "Peter," if he could for any reasonable sum get them in his possession. The street parade in the morning through Main street, consisting of citizens in carriages and on horse-back (one of whom lacks only a few months of one hundred years) the display of the trades and business industries, which were all highly creditable, occupied almost the forenoon, and it was nearly 12 o'clock when the procession, led by the Father Matthew Drum corps of Hartford, halted around the platform erected for the speakers, musicians and others, for the literary exercises of the day.

The Grapes Was Abused. A still alarm of fire was sent in 60 No. 8's house yesterday afternoon from a small fire among grass in a yard in Pine Place. The flames were extinguished by the judicious use of a bucket of water.

Plenty of Beef Arriving. F. S. Andrew was engaged of last evening in regard to the supply of dressed beef in this city, and he said that they had just received two carloads and that it was enough to last them all the week. He stated that he can assure the public that there will be no beef famine in this city.

COURT RECORD.

Superior Court-Criminal Side-Judge Robinson. After an unusually brief session yesterday this court adjourned for the term. The cases of Alton Russell and Stephen Gillis of Ansonia, charged with perjury, were to have been tried yesterday, but owing to the illness of Court Stenographer Doty, who is an important witness for the state, the trial went over until October. Both prisoners are in jail in default of $350 bonds in each case.

The grand jury found a true bill against Emil Burghart, but his trial will not take place until the October term, if at all. Burghart is said to be mentally weak.

In the following cases the bills were called and declared forfeited: London, theft of a gold watch from Edward McCaffrey, April 16, bond of $100 furnished by Margaret Morrissy; Eugene Pettie, theft of a bicycle valued at $150, bond of $100 furnished by P. Goodhart; Robert Rutz, embezzlement of an organ from C. M. Loomis' Sons, bond of $150 furnished by Fischei Belfo, and John White, burglarizing a house in Branford belonging to John McGrall, bond of $600 furnished by Jeremiah Monahan.

Common Pleas Court-Criminal Side-Judge Hotchkiss.

In this court late yesterday afternoon the jury which has been hearing the case of Ellsar Baltax charged with having committed a breach of the peace in West Haven, rendered a verdict of guilty and Baltax was fined $1 and costs, a total of $28.62, which was paid. Baltax's crime consisted of going into the house of Constable William Smith in West Haven and refusing to leave when told to do so.

The trial of Terrance McDonald, charged with breach of the peace upon Patrick Smith, June 20, was taken up, but was unfinished. Smith and McDonald engaged in a fight on that date. Both were arrested and fined in the city court. Smith settled and McDonald appeared. The trial of the case will be resumed to-morrow morning, as it was a long run, and although considerably fatigued, they enjoyed the trip very much.

Fred Andrews, who bought George Dayton's trotter, is very much pleased with the animal and hopes to win some money purses this season.

Death of a Prominent Colored Man. Hartford, July 9.-John M. Daniels, for over a quarter of a century employed in the grocery business at 17 Central Row with Fox & Co. and Parker & Co., died last night at his home on State street. Mr. Daniels had been falling with consumption for a year or more, but continued his duties until three months ago, when his strength left him. Mr. Daniels was one of the best known colored residents of the city. He was universally esteemed by the patrons of the firm for which he worked, and by every one with whom he had any dealings, for his faithfulness, integrity and courteous manners. Mr. Daniels was greatly esteemed by the late Major Frederick Fox, who left him a bequest of three thousand dollars in his will, intending that Mr. Daniels should use it for the purchase of a home or for support in his declining years. However, owing to the will contest, the money has not been available, at a time when it would have been of most advantage to him. Mr. Daniels was a native of Hartford, and was about sixty years old. He leaves a wife, two adult children and a boy of about fourteen. Mr. Daniels was a member of the Talcott Street Congregational church and clerk of the society.
