The National Blues will hold their annual excursion to Glen Island on July 27. The Keeley League will go on the 19th to the same place. Caterer Deibel is spending the summer with his daughter, Mrs. W. H. Van Buren, Jr., at Stony Creek. Mr. Deibel's health is greatly improved. Ernest C. Sharpe of Seymour, contractor and builder, made a voluntary assignment in the probate court Tuesday. A hearing will take place in this city July 17 at 10 a. m. Judge David B. During his sickness he has lost over 100 pounds; his weight at the time he was taken ill being 365. The Alburgh Springs house, Vermont, where many New Haveners have stopped, was destroyed by fire Monday night with contents. The barns also were burned. Many of the guests lost all their effects and had to flee for their lives. Miss E. C. M. White, daughter of the late Colonel George M. White, has written the music for a very pretty lullaby, which is on sale at all music stores. The piece will no doubt prove as popular as the "Hillhouse Two Step," which was composed by the same young lady. The body of a whale seventy feet long drifted on the beach directly opposite the Bellport life-saving station on Long Island yesterday. Several old sailors estimate its value at any sum ranging from $200 to $1,500, if the bone and blubber is properly removed. It is feared exposure will render the body unfit for cutting up before some experienced "whaler" comes along. Dispatches last night say: Meriden Knights of Labor are averse to striking through expressing sympathy with the A. R. U. No support is given Debs in Middletown. There are no signs of labor agitation in Danbury. In Ansonia labor circles are taking no action on Mr. Sovereign's manifesto. Norwich is all quiet and so are Torrington, Willimantic, Bridgeport, Hartford and other places. The garrison at New London is still busy making cartridges. A New York dispatch says "reports from all over the country indicate that Knights of Labor will generally keep at work."

Millen of the New York naval reserve, that the signal corps co-operate with the First brigade signal corps, N. G. S. N. Y., on the occasion of the naval maneuvers near Fisher's Island the last week of this month. The invitation has been accepted and a volunteer detail from his command, under the command of Major Giddings, will maintain the station on the main land, while the New York signal men will occupy posts on Fisher's Island, Gardner's Island, Plum Island and Montauk Point and on board the ships. The bridesmaid was Miss Rose Clerkin and the best man William Galivan. The bride was attired in a beautiful traveling costume and carried bride roses. Modern Treatment of Epilepsy.

The monthly meeting of the New Haven Medical society was held at the residence of Dr. G. F. Converse on Whalley avenue last evening. About thirty physicians were present. The special feature of the meeting was a paper on the "Modern Treatment of Epilepsy," compiled and read by Dr. Leonard Woolsey Bacon, Jr. The paper was an exceedingly able one, and reflected great credit upon Dr. Bacon. After the business of the meeting had been transacted an excellent repast was served, which was much enjoyed by all present.

Reports of officers have consumed much of the day. The secretary's report showed that the order was strong in numbers and financially. The convention will continue to-morrow.

LENA COHEN SENTENCED.

The New York Lexow Witness Goes to Jail For Three Months. Hartford, July 11.—In the police court to-day Judge Barbour sentenced Lena Cohen, the New York Lexow witness, to three months in jail for keeping a house of ill fame.
