

POLITICAL POINTERS

The call for a meeting yesterday afternoon to make arrangements for the reception to be tendered to Samuel L. Bronson and Oliver Gildersleeve, democratic nominees for governor and congress, respectively, and for the big rally in City hall to-night, brought out a very large attendance. Peter B. There will be a grand street parade immediately after the arrival of the train, with Captain D. E. Fitzpatrick as marshal; assisted by the following aides: Adjutant, First Lieutenant Patrick W. The speakers will include Candidates Bronson and Gildersleeve, Mayor Kilduff, William Kennedy, Judge Lowe, F. P. Guilfoile and M. J. Byrne. It will be a big night and people who want to make sure of a seat should be on hand early.

The speakers at the meeting of democracy yesterday afternoon were Mayor Kilduff, William Kennedy, B. Witkowski, Judge Lowe, Attorney Byrne and Attorney Guilfoile.

The Hebrew republicans held a rally in their quarters on Bank street yesterday and listened to addresses by Harry Durant, George L. Lilley, F. M. Tansley, C. E. Turner, John B. Doherty. One would think by the rosy pictures they drew of the past four years that another term of the McKinley administration will make millions of the whole of us.

M. S. Hayes of Cleveland, O., will speak in Turn hall to-night under the auspices of the social democratic party.

His subject will be "The Emancipation of the Wage Earning Class Must Be Accomplished by Its Own Class at the Ballot Box".

The Hebrew Democratic club held a big meeting in G. A. R. hall yesterday afternoon. Louis Kilduff presided. The speakers were Mayor Kilduff, William Kennedy, M. J. Byrne, F. P. Guilfoile and Judge Lowe. The speakers were warmly applauded.

Hon. Oliver Gildersleeve, the democratic candidate for congress, and the Hon. W. A. Croffut of Washington, D. C., will have something to say on the political issues of the day at the big democratic rally to-night which every elector should make it a point to hear.

William Kennedy of Naugatuck, the democratic candidate for senator, a man who has done yeoman service on behalf of his party in the past, and is still putting forward his best efforts to further the interests of the whole ticket, will be one of the speakers at the rally in City hall to-night.

Turn out and attend the democratic rally to-night and give Waterbury one of its old time political demonstrations such as it used to have in the past. Let red fire blaze opposite every door, flags flutter from windows and house tops, and the roll of the drum, the scream of the life and the shout of a free people herald the coming of the next governor of Connecticut, Samuel L. Bronson.

Judge Lowe, the democratic nominee for judge of probate, and Attorneys Byrne and Guilfoile, democratic nominees for representatives, are scheduled to speak at the mass meeting of democrats to-night. The positions these gentlemen have been nominated for are very important to the public and the public should hear what they have to say this evening, when they will address the electors of the town in City hall.

The town committee requests people living along the line of the democratic parade this evening to light up the way for the boys by the use of red fire. The candidate for governor, Mr. Bronson, is a native of this city, and that fact alone should prompt all to do something towards giving him and his friends a reception such as Waterbury has been noted for extending to everybody who has ever paid the town a visit. Hurrah for Samuel L. Bronson!

The Hebrew Democratic club held a special meeting last evening and appointed the following committee to assist in receiving Candidate Bronson and Gildersleeve this evening: Charles Bockley, M. Olinoff, H. Evans, S. Graitzenstein, J. Arbis, A. Goldberg, D. Kasalofski, A. Berman, L. Johnson, J. Freed, H. Hirsch, C. Weinberg, B. Witkowski, H. Berman, J. Newberg, L. Albert, J. Kassler, J. Goldberg, H. Albert. The committee is requested to report at club headquarters at 7:30 sharp.

Over 500 persons attended the Italian democratic rally in G. A. R. hall last night. Speeches were delivered in English and Italian. Girillo Marianno, who spoke in the Italian tongue, made a decided hit, and his remarks stirred his hearers to the highest pitch of enthusiasm, and caused many of the sons of sunny Italy who had not fully made up their minds as to which side they would stand by, to come out and declare themselves for Bryan and democracy. Another meeting will be held before election.

It has been suggested that it would be beneficial to the democratic party to hold a rally at some of the corners of the city before the campaign closes. There are various good places in which a crowd could easily be gathered in the north end of the town—the section that has been recently paved on North Main street, the vicinity of St. Thomas street, the junction of Cherry and Vine streets, or the junction of Wood and Vine streets. The North End is one of the most growing sections of the city and it is so far from the center that men do not care to go down town evenings even to hear the most attractive political speakers.

A theatrical man of many years' experience on the boards told a Democrat reporter today that there is no enthusiasm at all shown to-day when a picture of McKinley is shown before a crowd in comparison to what was shown four years ago. This theatrical man is with a company that exhibits moving pictures between the acts. Among the collection of illustrations are some depicting the candidates for the presidency in various attitudes. Four years ago, said the theatrical man, the exhibition of McKinley's picture never failed to provoke bursts of applause and patriotism, while on the other hand Bryan was generally received coldly in comparison to the ovation tendered his rival. To-day the condition of things is reversed. The state of New York, where the speaker's company has just been, seemed perfectly indifferent to the republican candidate's picture. Even in towns which went almost wild over him four years ago he was actually given the cold shoulder, where on the other hand the house never failed to respond with cheers whenever Bryan's face was thrown on the canvas. The same situation prevailed in other states.

AFTERNOON CLUB RAIDED. Bridgeport, Oct. 29.—The Afternoon club, which is located on Main street at the head of Elm street, was raided by the police late Saturday afternoon. Nine men were playing rummy in the place at the time. William Booth was arrested for conducting the place and released upon bonds of $125. Bonds of $25 each were required for the other prisoners and they were furnished by Booth. The frequenters gave fictitious names, but the police knew them and their correct names were entered on the blotter. One of the men is prominently connected with the X. M. C. A. here.

FAMOUS GENERAL DEAD. Trenton, N. J., Oct. 29.—General William S. Stryker died this morning of heart trouble. General Stryker has been adjutant-general of New Jersey since 1867. He was 62 years old, and served with great distinction in the civil war. He is a graduate of Princeton and noted for his work in historical research.

OUR WATER SUPPLY.

Has Now Reached a Point Where Waste Must Be Stopped.

The water question has reached a point now where it may be found necessary to shut it off from all consumers at certain hours of the day. The supply at the Branch is all the city has at present and with the whole city drawing from that exhausted supply hold out long. It is a serious matter and people should realize that and manage to get along with as little water as possible in order that the supply may hold out until we have rain. It would be a hardship to have it shut off for any length of time, but even so it would be far worse if a fire started in a thickly settled section and the department could do nothing to prevent it from spreading. With proper care on the part of the people we may be able to pull through without any serious trouble, but if the reckless waste of water goes on much longer steps will have to be taken to stop it, by making it impossible for people to get it except for a short time each day. One can hardly imagine what a calamity it would be in a town of this size to have the whole water system become exhausted and it is no wonder that those who are watching it go down day by day are beginning to feel uneasy about it.

MARTIN BYRNES'S PIN.

A Souvenir That He Is Proud to Be the Possessor of.

Martin Byrnes, the well known Hyeripman, is the proud possessor of a very handsome pin which he won years ago when he was one of the star base ball players of this city, and the managers of the different clubs of the day and time vied with each other in their efforts to get hold of him. Thirty-five years ago Martin was playing with the Naugatuck Valleys and the boys were having wonderful success when the old Dictators thought out a scheme to get him away from the Naugatuck Valleys by offering a pin for the member of the club that would have the best record that season. This prompted Byrnes to join the Dictators and at the close of the year he had the highest rating in the team and was awarded the trophy. It is a half dollar of the series coined in 1853, with one side smoothed off and inscribed as follows: "Dictator B. B. C." Above the lettering there are two American flags in monogram form, and the whole make up a beautiful pin. One of the old base ball cranks of the city asked Mr. Byrnes about the pin some time last week and he has been looking for it ever since, and finally found it today stored away in his trunk among three or four hundred souvenirs of one kind and another, but none that has such a history connected with it as the base ball pin. The Dictator base ball club was about the first organization of the kind in Waterbury and nearly all the players who belonged to it during the first few years of its existence have long since passed over to the silent majority, but there are a few of them left and in all probability they will come together soon and celebrate the deeds of the pioneer base ball club of the Brass city. The club was organized in 1853.

BANK CLERKS DISCHARGED.

One Banking Institution Decides to Cut Off Gambling Clerks. New York, Oct. 29.—Since the announcement of the employment of Note Turner Alvord of the First National bank, there have been many stories of new and rigid espionage by banking houses over their clerks. One of these stories concerns the German Savings bank. It was reported last night that five of the clerks of that institution have been discharged because detectives discovered that they were associates of gamblers. Three of them are said to have had an interest in a bookmaking firm that does business at the local race tracks. The story recites that detectives were placed on trial of the clerks in the bank and that the five in question were the only ones about whom anything suspicious could be learned. It was not said that the clerks had stolen anything, not that they contemplated any wrongdoing, but the information is to the effect that the officers of the bank deemed it best to get rid of them.

A WARM SUBJECT

There's nothing in the world we're so much interested in as coal. We've studied it for years. It may sound queer to speak of coal buying and selling as a science, but that's what we've made it. Two important discoveries we have made are that complete satisfaction to our customers pay best, and that the way to win business is to deserve it.
