Total, $201,000

There was practically no difference of opinion on any subject, though there was considerable discussion on some matters, notably the water question.

Superintendent O'Brien said the wooden service boxes, of which there are 3,800, yet in use, are fast rotting, out and should be replaced by new iron ones.

These iron boxes cost $1.25 each and the cost of labor in putting them in is $1.50 each. During the past year 135 of these old wooden service boxes have been replaced by new ones.

He also talked over with the engineers cleaning the basins of the reservoirs. It was stated that the out East reservoirs had been totally neglected since the Branch was built, and that the whole plant was rotten at the opening of the present year.

Much has been done toward the improvement of the Branch during the past summer, but considerably more remains unfinished.

The superintendent of water was instructed to have the pumping station fitted up for use.

"I understand," said Commissioner Scully, "that the Mad River water will not allow us to take any more water from the river, and if this be true I don't see what we can do about the pumping station."

"If we get short of water we'll pump it out of Mad River and any place else where we can find it," replied Mayor Kilduff, with a loud grunt in his eye.

Alderman Mahaney wanted to know what was being done about the extension of Jewell street. The mayor stated that it was not being neglected.

He suggested that the $10,000 appropriation for this purpose last year, which had not been used, be put into a sinking fund for the Jewell street extension and that a new appropriation of $7,500 be made for the same purpose.

"This," he said, "would give us $17,000 to begin with in case the railroad people should be ready to have us go ahead next year. The mayor's idea met with the approval of all the members, especially Mr. Mahaney, who had his mind on that question from the start.

Commissioner Scully wanted an appropriation for the completion of the surface widening of Baldwin street, but he heard no objection to it. He said it was the intention of the city to continue this work as far as Washington street and that the former board had made a specific appropriation of $5,000 to do it with, but the aldermen lopped $1,000 off it, and in consequence the work stopped at Stone street.

The mayor thought that Baldwin street from Stone street to Washington is in splendid condition, almost as good as the macadam road, and that it would be a pity to disturb it.

Superintendent Kelley of the street department talked over the needs of the street department for next year. He said that the added district included eighteen or twenty miles of streets, and that while something was done on them the present year still the amount of work performed outside the old city lines was small compared with what needed attention.

There was some sharp talk in reference to the management of the bureau of engineering, in the course of which Mayor Kilduff remarked that it was the only department in the city that has no account for its money.

He talked over with the members of the board and they agreed that the fact that the new plumbing inspector gets half a dollar a day more than the man whom he succeeded, Robert Walker held the office until a short time ago, and was paid at the rate of $2 per day. When Mr. Walker retired his brother, J. R. Walker, took his place and started off at $2.50 a day.

It was stated that Robert was by far more practical in the plumbing business than J. R. and how the latter happened to be paid higher wages than the man who had succeeded him was a puzzle to the board.

The motion to clean the basin of the East Mountain reservoir at an estimated cost of $3,000, passed at Tuesday night's meeting, was rescinded, and it was then voted to recommend that the matter rest until some time when Mr. Calms will be on hand.

The motion to clean the basin of the East Mountain reservoir at an estimated cost of $3,000, passed at Tuesday night's meeting, was rescinded, and it was then voted to recommend that the matter rest until some time when Mr. Calms will be on hand.

A good deal of discussion was indulged in regarding the proposition to build a wall along the Mall river from Baldwin street to the Clock shop property. It was agreed that it was a much needed improvement, but it seemed to be generally believed that it is too late in the season to start such a job.

The estimates as agreed upon were finally recommended to the board of finance, after which the board adjourned.

AT FRIENDLY LEAGUE. "All hallow's e'en, at last is here. When we may solve a mystery. Come, brave the spooks and witch so grim. And learn your future history."

So it proved to be at the Friendly league last evening. The real witch gypsy in her peaked hat and sombre garb crooned over the camp fire, where a kettle of aromatic herbs was brewing above the glowing logs.

On the entertainment list, stage this interesting gypsy decided to pitch her camp, and the bower of autumn foliage was a realistic bit of nature's woods.

The illusion was complete, and it was difficult to believe that the personality which was other than the gypsy, so perfectly did Mrs. Lathrop act herself to the roll. Her mysterious fortune telling, and the future destinies that she held out to all who came within her magic spell, and the lucky charms distributed by her possession, in return for those who were so fortunate as to be members of the Friendly league.

The hall was lighted from the side wall gas jets which were effectively screened by real Jack-o'-lanterns and the ceiling lights covered with red gave a view of the scene. The hundred happy girls and women that were present, the generous supply of refreshments provided by the league members, and the interest which had been shown by the soliciting committee among the members was a pleasing feature. The superintendent, Miss Watrous, who has received a cordial welcome in Waterbury, was pleased with the spirit of the occasion and found herself surrounded by a host of friends, so that this, her first social gathering, is one to be remembered with satisfaction and pleasure.

BOY ACCIDENTALLY SHOT. Chester, Nov. 1.—Two boys, Ray Ferguson and Charles Watrous, about 14 years old each, were playing with a revolver, $2 caliber, yesterday afternoon, when it was discharged and the ball entered Watrous' leg just below the thigh. The doctors have not been able to locate it yet, but no serious results are anticipated.

BROOKLYN BRIEFS

—The Misses Donahue of Torrington were visiting friends in this section yesterday.

—To-day being All Saints' day, a holy day of obligation, masses were celebrated at St. Patrick's church at 5:30, 7 and 9 o'clock. The last mass was a high one and this, as well as the others was largely attended. Tonight at 7:30 at St. Patrick's church there will be vespers and benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

The Halloween dance and sociable of the Brooklyn Athletic club was held in their rooms on Bank street last night and was attended by an unusual large number. At 9 o'clock, to the merry inspiring strains of Booth's orchestra the grand march commenced, which was led by Daniel McCarthy and Miss Bowen and was participated in by about 60 couples. About twenty dances were on the program and it was a late hour when the last number was reached. Professor McCormack was the efficient promoter. Refreshments were served during the evening. It was one of the merriest and jolliest dances ever held by this popular club. The committee of arrangements to which the success of the affair was due consisted of the following: Charles Smith, Arthur Ferrigard, Frank Lachance, Daniel McCarthy, Arthur White and Thomas Grady.

—One of the greatest democratic rallies ever held in Brooklyn will take place tomorrow night at Washington square. Front of the Bank street school where a stand will be erected for the vice-presidents and the speakers and it will be gorgeously decorated with flags and bunting. A parade will be held by the speakers of the evening will be escorted from the center to the place of meeting. No one should miss this great gathering for everybody is invited to attend.
