As the sworn statements of the candidates in the recent election come to light, it is shown that a large sum of money was disbursed. The question at present is not "Where did he get it?" but "Who got it?"

The Bridgeport Standard celebrated the centennial of the Park city by printing a forty-page paper, which contains an interesting account of the centennial celebration as well as a history of the city from its early days.

Statistics are at work just now showing how and why Bryan lost. The majority of them try to show that the free silver plank of the platform was the cause of it, and to prove their claim point to the number of votes he lost in the free silver states.

Gossip has mortgaged several portfolios in the second McKinley administration. As told in Washington, these stories make W. W. Gibbs of Philadelphia, who helped Hanna squeeze the rich men and corporations of that town, just as St. John Wannamaker did previous to his entrance of the Harrison cabinet.

It is now practically admitted by republicans that the talk previous to the election of a repeal of the war taxes was nothing more than a campaign bluff. A call for the ways and means committee of the house to meet on the 20th inst has been issued.

It is quite the vogue to throw stones at defeated candidates. Mr Bryan is the most conspicuous target at present. Yet he is the type of public man which is usually the highest in popular favor.

The first official move towards the consolidation of the Waterbury city and town governments was made last evening. The board of aldermen at its meeting appointed a committee to investigate and report on the advisability of making the change.

Home-Folks!—Well that air name, to me, Sounds, 'tis the same as poetry— That is, of poetry is his As sweet as I've heard tell it is!

Home-Folks—they're 'tis the same as kin— All bring up, same as we have bin, Without no over-powering sense Of their uncommon consequence!

Home-Folks—at home, I know o' one Old feller now 'at haint got none— Invite 'em, he may 'bout back some— But you invite him, and he'll come.

Home-Folks forms the introduction to the new book of poems, entitled "Home-Folks," published by the Bowen-Merrill company, Indianapolis, U. S. A.
