

It Won't Hurt You to Learn, If You Have Money to Burn.

But if you haven't money to burn, then for goodness sake be careful how you spend it. Suppose a man will call at your house, and give you a pound of tea, a pound of coffee, a bottle of extract, a pound of starch, two-thirds of a tea set, a chromo and 30 minutes' nice sweet talk all for $1. Will common sense let you believe you are getting a bargain? Certainly not. If the tea and coffee are trash (which it certainly must be, because it's misery to drink bad tea and poor coffee for a whole week and sometimes two. A man working 10 hours or more each day is entitled to and needs a nice delicious drink at each meal and the housekeeper should see that he gets it. But if she buys many bargains, like the above, who'd blame the husband for pinching the whole business, wife and all, out the back door. It's certainly nonsense to be running such chances when you can buy from us and have your goods warranted and we'll take you back and return your money. We give four bars best Soap with each pound of warranted good Tea a pickle dish with a pound of guaranteed nice tasting Coffee. And we sell the best Butter in the town at 25c per pound. Our presents with our always good Baking powder are now ready for delivery at

Music, games, recitations, etc. were indulged in and were thoroughly enjoyed by all. Refreshments were served and all departed for their homes with none but good wishes for the happy couple.

An original feature of an unusual kind is the extremely spirited Christmas poem written for The Outlook by Dean Stubbs, of Ely Cathedral, England. It is called "O A Jesus" and it has been set to music for the Outlook by the organist and choirmaster of York Cathedral, T. Tertius Noble. It is printed with decoration and illustration, 63 a year. The Outlook company, 287 Fourth avenue, New York.

Francis McGuire, aged 72 years, died last night at the residence of Mrs Mary Dalton on Mill street. Mr McGuire's home was in Cleveland, O., but he had been stopping in Waterbury the past few months. He had no near relatives in this city. The remains will be taken to Providence to-morrow morning in charge of Undertaker Bergin and interred beside the remains of his sisters and brothers in the family plot at that place.

Pork loins, 7c lb, at Castle's. A rumor that the large buildings going up on the premises of the Scovill Manufacturing company were to be utilized for the business now conducted by the Randolph-Cloves company, of which C. F. Goss, president of the first named concern, is prominently identified, is without foundation. The buildings will house costly machinery for the manufacture of government goods such as shells used on war ships, tubes of all kinds and many other articles used by the government in the construction of battle ships and big guns.

There threatens to be litigation between two good citizens, Constable Edward Donahue and Frank Baumgartner, brother of the news editor. Sunday morning both of the above named were crossing each other in teams on Bank street when a wheel on the constable's turnout was whipped clean off the axle. He accused his friend of doing it, claiming he did not keep to his proper side of the street. Since then the constable has demanded damages and the other having refused Mr Donahue has consulted counsel about entering suit.

Yesterday afternoon shortly after the closing of the school session, Miss Nellie Dee supervisor of music in the public schools of this city and director of the Girls' Glee club of the High school, was presented with a handsome clock by the members of the Girls' Glee club as a token of the esteem in which she is held by them and as an acknowledgement of the appreciation which they feel for the untiring and zealous efforts of the recipient in their behalf. Miss Henderson, president of the club, made the presentation speech, to which Miss Dee, though visibly affected, suitably responded.

The Brooklyn Athletic club will give their fourth annual concert and reception in City hall on Thanksgiving afternoon and evening, and the committee in charge have arrangements perfected to entertain a crowded house. The place has been tastefully decorated for the occasion and never presented a more cheerful appearance. The club has a record for giving successful entertainments and there is no danger of this proving an exception. On the contrary an effort will be made to render it even more pleasing to the club's patrons than any of the entertainments given by this popular association in the past.

At a meeting of the general committee of the Foresters, which has in charge the preparations for the forthcoming annual fair of that organization, much business was transacted. Professor Thomas Mellon has been secured to act as prompter while Maton's orchestra will furnish music for the dancing. Among those who are engaged to contribute to the Sunday night concert at the close of the fair are Miss Elizabeth Turner of Hartford, soprano soloist in St Peter's church. Miss Turner sang at the Foresters of America concert last year and her number was considered one of the gems of the evening. One of the features of the fair will be a grand cake walk for which prizes of $15, $7 and $3 will be offered to the three best competitors. Any members of the different courts who desire combination book tickets may secure them at Secretary D. F. Lawlor at the F. of A. reading rooms Friday evening.
