

WATERBURY WINS TWO.

Defeated Springfield and Meriden Very Easily.

Springfield Fell Down on Wednesday Night and Meriden Yesterday—Waterbury Is Now in Third Position—Hartford and New Haven Tied For First Place—Several Good Games Yesterday—Meriden Is In Bad Shape—Hartford Comes Here To-Night.

Waterbury had two very easy games, one on Wednesday night in this city with Springfield and the other with Meriden yesterday afternoon. Both were victories for the local players, and every player on the team contributed to the winnings. Meriden has a team at the present time that should be a mark for any of the teams in any league, even Lewiston, and the victory over that team yesterday afternoon is not one that can be talked over very much about. The defeat of Springfield on Wednesday evening, however, was one that was well learned and well played. It was a fight between two teams that are close to each other in the percentage column and was won by the better team. The following are the scores and summaries:

BASKET BALL.

Waterbury Went Down Before New Britain at the Auditorium.

Considering the weather and the many counter attractions, professionally basket ball had a favorable opening in Jacques Auditorium last evening. The 300 or more spectators were treated to an excellent article of basket ball as they could have desired. There was only one disappointing feature and that was Waterbury lost. But though defeat they were not disgraced. It was only after forty minutes of the fastest and hardest play that the New Britains won by the score of 18 to 13. The game started off with a rush, the New Britains starting in at once to win out. For several minutes the play was fast and sharp, perhaps a little rough. The local boys were outplayed in team work, but their blocking, especially McPartland's, was beautiful. After three minutes of play Gladding made the first goal for New Britain. Play again became fast and sharp. Seven consecutive shots were missed by the locals, but finally Miles, by a magnificent throw, cazed the ball. He also cazed the next. The first half ended with the score 6 to 4 in favor of Waterbury. Waterbury's play in this half was superior to that of New Britain, her blocking and passing being excellent.

The second half witnessed a change, however. The locals were fagged out by their fast play in the first half and were outplayed by their opponents. The latter's style of playing in this half was changed also. The result was very often to long throws, at which they were experts. O'Donnell cazed four or five goals from over half the length of the hallway. The New Britains scored fourteen in this half, while Waterbury could only score six, the game accordingly ending 18 to 13 in favor of New Britain.

The showing made by Waterbury against the crack New Britain five was a surprise to their most enthusiastic supporters. After a little more practice the team will be in first class condition and able to hold their own with the best of them. The next game will be on Thursday evening of next week with the crack Danbury team.

FIGHTS AND FIGHTERS

Some Pretty Stiff Bouts Took Place in Hartford.

Jack Daly Failed to Show Up and Owen Zeigler Fought Eddie Connolly—The latter was Knocked Out in the Second Round—Tom Broderick and Joe Robinson Go a Draw—For Cursing a Fighter was Disqualified—Joe Flaherty Refused to Fight.

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 30.—"To think that that fat boy should beat me," Eddie Connolly of St. John, N. B., said, as he recovered from a knock out in the Coliseum yesterday afternoon. He was beaten by Owen Zeigler, who was fifteen pounds overweight. Jack Daly had been matched to meet Connolly for twenty rounds at 138 pounds, and he skipped his manager, Al Murray, on Monday, forfeiting $200. Zeigler took his place, and although he was fat he was strong and active. The first round showed both men to be in good condition, and some fast fighting was seen. In the second round Zeigler reached Connolly's solar plexus and sent him down. Eddie was overconfident and did not wait for the count. He was up quickly and again was floored by a right swing on the jaw. He took the count this time, and when he got up a light punch sent him down and out. He was dazed for several seconds after he arose and claimed it was a fluke blow that put him out. Tommie Feltz defeated Kid Treman in three rounds, and Zeigler defeated Dan Dougherty for the bantamweight championship. Eddie Quinn beat John Chartier in seven rounds. Charlie White was referee.

FOUGHT FIFTEEN ROUNDS. Boston, Nov. 30.—Tom Broderick of Yonkers, N. Y., and Joe Robinson of this city fought fifteen rounds to a draw in the Isoteria A. C. last night. Tim Kearns of Lawrence, Mass., who was to have met Broderick, failed to appear, as he had injured his arm. In the preliminaries, Kid Block and Patsey McKenna boxed four rounds to a draw. Young Kelly of Boston, Harry Boles of Worcester followed with four good rounds.

HE SWORE AND LOST. Saco, Me., Nov. 30.—George S. Murray of Lynn, Mass., was disqualified because he used profane language in the eleventh round of a twenty-round bout with Dan Snyder of Charlestown, Mass., before the Saco Athletic club yesterday. In the preliminary Peter Scanlan of Boston was defeated by John Murray of Lynn in sixty seconds.

FLAHERTY WOULD NOT FIGHT. Manchester, N. H., Nov. 30.—The Patsey Sweeney-Joe Flaherty fight scheduled for yesterday afternoon did not take place. Flaherty would not go on, claiming that there was not money enough in the hall.

A COW IN COLLEGE. Ohio Students Pushed, Carried and Shoved the Creature to the Third Story of Woman's Hall.

Prof. Riker's family cow entered college at Mount Union, Alliance, O., on a recent Wednesday night. The cow was quite innocent, however, of any vain ambition. She was induced to enter the college by 100 students, who, well masked and wearing white robes, carried, pushed, shoved and coaxed Prof. Riker's faithful animal to the third story of the woman's hall, one of the principal buildings of the university. The cow had been taken safely up the second flight of stairs, when she suddenly lost all interest in higher education and slid to the bottom of the stairs.

A large, healthy cow sliding down a long flight of steps in the Woman's hall at midnight is not a usual sound, and the building resounded with the shrieks of the women students. The cow also found her voice and lifted it up in a sepulchral "moo" that reverberated all over that section of Alliance. The students were undaunted, and after herculean efforts again succeeded in getting the intelligent animal up to the top of the stairs. They tethered the cow to the doorknob of a white-faced freshman "coed," who was dreaming that the college was being attacked by Indians.

Then the students made their way down the stairs over to the college building, where they threw desks and furniture out of the window and went through the place as though they were the allies looting Peking. They went down town and celebrated the successful entrance of the cow into Mount Union college by a war dance on the public squares.

The cow left college the next day by means of six stout laborers, several hundred feet of heavy rope, and a stout tackle block. Then the young women who had rooms on the third floor, where the cow boarded during her brief career as a "coed," came out of their rooms and went to breakfast. And now the faculty say they will suspend all the cow's friends.

Cucumbers in Siberia. Cucumbers largely take the place of fruit in Siberia. They are raised in profusion and when nearly ripe they are put down for a few days in a brine made from salt and oak leaves and then are eaten both in connection with regular meals and by themselves as one eats apples.

Despite the disagreeable weather, over 1,000 people went to the Athletic field yesterday afternoon to see the '97 Y. M. C. A. football eleven put it all over Storrs' Agricultural college. There was at times some exceptionally fast play and the unevenness of the score doesn't denote the style of game it was for the weaker, rustic youths disputed every inch of ground to the best of their ability. Of course, they were outclassed and for that matter few eleven in Connecticut can be compared with the local boys.

The team from Thomaston, however, put up a much better game than they were expected to. Storrs kicked off to Waterbury's fifteen yard line. The Y. M. C. A. advanced the ball for fifty yards more by line bucking and center plays. Batters then made a pretty end run for fifteen yards, aided by good interference from the line. Later Battersley was sent over for the first touchdown, and Goss kicked the goal. Time, 8:00.

Waterbury easily rushed the college boys up the field again, but they took a brace and held the Y. M. C. A. on their twenty-yard line. They were sent back for the first time, but they lost it on an offside kick. Long end runs and straight line blocking followed and Goss goes over the line for another touchdown. He also kicked the goal. Time, 18:00.

The first half ended with the ball in the center of the field. At the opening of the second half the Storrs men began to play rough house, but they couldn't lose the local boys in this point of the game and consequently there were rather lively times. Batters was put out of the game for retaliation.

ON THE GRIDIRON.

One Thousand People Saw the Cadets Win From Fifth Artillery.

The 1,000 or more people who were present at the Driving park yesterday witnessed one of the best and most interesting games which has been played in Waterbury or vicinity this season. The opposing teams were the St. Thomas Cadets of this city and the Fifth Artillery of Fort Hamilton, N. Y., and it was a nip and tuck struggle between them throughout, the former finally winning out by the score of 5 to 0.

The weather was far from being the ideal for a football contest and consequently many were deterred from attending the game who otherwise would. But though the field was soggy and the ball slippery, the playing of neither team was affected to any great extent by these drawbacks. The eleven were closely matched and it was only after a hard and grueling battle and after they had fought bitterly every inch of ground that the soldier boys succumbed.

Those present had an excellent opportunity of beholding two different styles of play, the Fort Hamiltons resorting to all tactics, using mass and formation plays, and ends back, etc. something after the Yale fashion while the Cadets played more open football, such as skirting the ends and trick plays. The latter proved to be a profitable and magnificent runs from 20-40 yards were made by the local boys, who once more proved that they have one of the crack teams in the state. The team work of the soldiers was beautiful and their blocking was very productive of large gains, but the beauty of their work was marred by several inexcusable and costly line. The line outweighed and outplayed the Cadets but their backs were inferior to the local boys.

The game commenced at 3 o'clock, Farnham for the Fifth Artillery, kicking off to Bagley on the 15-yard line. The latter behind pretty interference carried it back almost to the center of the field. By skirting the ends and bucking the line the locals advanced the ball about 20 yards when the ball went to the soldiers on downs. The latter at once started to work and gained about 15 yards by mass plays when they lost the ball on a fumble. After 12 minutes of play the ball was carried by the Cadets to the soldiers' 20-yard line whence it was carried over the line for a touchdown by Batters. This made a magnificent run around right end on a pass from Bagley. Cronan failed to kick a goal. Score 5-0. No more scoring was done in this half, the ball being in the Cadet's possession on their opponent's 20-yard line.

Bagley commenced the second half by kicking off to the Fifth Artillery's 15-yard line, where it was caught by Farnham and returned 20 yards. This half witnessed some of the best, most exciting and interesting football which one could desire. The ball was pushed back and forward in almost the center of the field, now one side possessing the ball only to lose it the next moment to their opponents. The superior weight of the soldiers told in this half and their line was impregnable. But their fine work was marred by costly fumbles by the backs. With about one minute to play a fumble of the Cadets captured the ball on a fumble and made a great run of 40 yards, bridging the ball to the Fifth Artillery's 3-yard line. Here the soldiers made a determined stand and the Cadets were unable to push the ball over the line in two downs. Time was then called.

The Cadets, every man of them, played an excellent game. Everyone was in fine condition as evidenced by their playing. Though they were outplayed and in several points were outplayed they made up for this by quick and snappy play and by trick plays. Captain Bagley and his men ought to feel justly proud in defeating such a formidable eleven as the Fifth Artillery. Much credit is due Fred Bantley for the successful way in which he managed and captained the team.
