Theatrical Chatter.

Mrs George C. Howard, formerly Miss Caroline E. Fox, well known actress of some years ago, and the original Topsy in "Uncle Tom's Cabin," died at her home in Cambridge Thursday night, aged 79.

Sir John Hare began his farewell tour of the English provinces last week, commencing at the Theatre Royal, Bournemouth.

Rosabel Morrison, the daughter of the late Lewis Morrison, will begin a tour in Faust on November 5, alternating the roles of Marguerite and Mephistopheles.

W. T. Smiley, on the staff of the Iola, Kan., Register, has written a musical comedy called "A Scotch-Irish Yankee." The music is by Edward J. Hoering of London.

Ada Rehan called for the United States last Saturday with the intention of making her home in this country in the future. She has definitely refused all offers to return to the stage.

"George Cameron" the author of Agnes, in which Nance O'Neill is playing, is Mrs Sidney Drew. Mrs Drew will continue to use this name as her nom de plume for other literary work in which she is engaged.

Sarah Bernhardt has just left Paris on another tour of Europe, to include performances in Switzerland, Belgium, Germany, Austria, Italy and the south of France. She will appear in a new piece in Paris on January 5.

James T. Powers is to be starred by the Shuberts in Havana, a musical play now running in London. Mr Powers went abroad a few weeks ago to witness performances of The Paradise of Mohammed, in which he was planning to appear.

A proposition has been made by Hans Gogor, director of the Komische theater, Berlin, that Lulu Glaser appear in Berlin next Spring at the head of her own company in Mlle Mischief. The Shuberts are considering the proposition.

Felix Hollander, director of the German theater, Berlin, is completing negotiations for the American appearance of the famous Berlin company of Shakespearean actors. He expects to bring the company next March, for an engagement of six weeks.

Maxine Elliott, fainted during the first act of Myself-Bettina, last Wednesday afternoon and the curtain had to be lowered until she recovered. After a few minutes she was able to continue the performance. An attack of indigestion was said to be the cause of her fainting.

William West, manager of The Time, the Place and the Girl company, was arrested at Trenton, N. J., recently on a charge of assault and battery preferred by Mac Culliffe, member of the company. She claims that the manager accused her of not performing her work properly, and struck her. He was held in bail for the grand jury.

The military fire, Tire an Planc, that has been running in Paris for four years, closed on October 10, after 1,594 performances. During its run the soubrette was married and has two children, and the juvenile comedian served three years of military service and returned to the east. The only interruption of the run was in 1907, when the theater was closed for 43 days for renovation.

Francis Wilson, representing dramatic art, Richard Watson Gilder, representing literature; Jules Guerin representing painting, and Herbert Lucas, the architect, representing "frozen music," and Charles H. Lee, representing the "Latter-day" company, representing commerce, have formed a corporation to build an artistic apartment house at 24 Gramercy park. They will occupy some of the apartments themselves and rent the remainder to selected tenants to pay expenses.

Percy G. Williams thinks he has solved the problem of taking care of women's hats in the theater. As a rule, no matter what accommodations are provided in a theater for the care of women's headgear, they are reluctant to lose sight of the masses of flowers and feathers and prefer to hold them on their laps. Last week Mr Williams purchased the rights to a new device in the shape of a huge hat box to be placed under each seat, that is guaranteed to hold safely the largest "Merry-Widow" curl protector ever made. It will be installed at the new Tanguay theater to be built by Mr Williams in Long Island city.

A report comes from Cleveland to the effect that Edward Salisbury, manager of Lans park in that city, is authority for the story that at a recent conference in Chicago, plans were made for the formation of a syndicate controlling park and circus property valued at $22,000,000. The organization will be known as the American association of park managers, and will probably have its headquarters in Cleveland, with Mr Salisbury as secretary. The Ringling Circus, Electric Park, Kansas city, White City and Forest Park, Chicago Oientangi park, Columbus, and some of the big Coney Island enterprises are mentioned as being possible members of the new combination.

POLI'S

MOVING PICTURES

The Imperial Moving picture company will present an excellent entertainment of motion pictures at Poli's to-morrow evening. The feature picture is called "The Bridge of Sighs" and tells in a most dramatic way, the story of a blighted young life, alone in the shadows of a great city. There will be new illustrated songs by that well known vocalist, Tom Breen, and Poli's orchestra will play. Prices 15 and 25 cents.

"MRS TEMPLE'S TELEGRAM"

A genuine farce comedy in the strictest sense of the words is "Mrs Temple's Telegram" the famous sorrow dispeller which will be at Poli's on Monday, October 19. Literally there is not on dull moment in the play. It is all froth of the lightest sort and it bubbles continually, with the result that the audience are wrought up to the highest state of excitement. It is doubtful if its superior as a genuine mirth-provoker of the right sort will be written many years, for seemingly the absolute limit in point of giving continuous laughter of the heartiest sort for an entire evening has been reached in this play. Prices 25c to $1.50. Seats now on sale. Telephone 1084.

"LITTLE MOSE"

Nixon & Zimmerman's merry, musical novelty, "Little Mose" which has made such a big hit in Philadelphia and Boston and other cities will be the attraction at Poli's Wednesday October 21. The musical numbers are unusually catchy and several of them will soon be familiar here. The big song hits of the production are: "I Want Some One to Love Me," "The American Girl," "My Dusky Dago Boy," "Maid of My Dreams," "I Know the Kind of a Girl For You," "The Songs That Mother Sang" and "It's Love That Makes the World go Round." Prices 25c to $1.50.

"PAID IN FULL"

There are but seven characters in this realistic play of American life, "Paid in Full" but each one of the characters, so true to every day life, enacts a story of his or her own, that interests and often startles you, because of its realism. It is a conception, that only the vivid and imaginative brain of a newspaperman could conjure up. Eugene Walter, the author, disguised nothing in his writing of the play, neither in the language used, nor in the suggestiveness of the plot. There was no attempt to avoid flippancy of expression and all were allowed to live their characters, without the polishing process, which has sent many a good play to the waste basket. There was no miming of words and each character, was rounded out in just the mold intended by the author, and with more than the usual bluntness of expression and impression. It was the story of the poorly paid employe, trying to keep up appearances in society, who at last yields to temptation and robs his employer. It showed him to be a swindling weak and shallow cad, who would sacrifice the woman, who had struggled so hard to make a man of him, in order to protect himself. It brought out the womanly woman, who discovered too late how degraded a man may become, even to the selling of her honor to prevent his punishment. It developed a character of rugged honesty, true friendship and a sense of duty. GALA TIMES THIS EVENING. The Eagles Will Own the City for the Next Few Weeks. The long expected day and night has arrived. The Eagles have taken possession of the city and they will make the streets ring with their battle cry of "Yes, Yea" for the next few days. The monarch fair and bazaar will open this evening down in the Eagles' nest on South Main street and the committee of arrangements feels that everything has been prepared for the comfort of all their patrons. The interior of the nest has been electrified by the master of all electricity, M.F. Greaney, Chairman Martin Hickey, and his co-workers will be more than satisfied if their brothers will come out this evening and help swell the big parade which will leave the nest around 8 o'clock. The Military band will dispense the music and there will be red fire, plenty of it. After the parade Mayor William E. Thoms will throw the gates of the city open to the Eagles of the city and state and in an opening address, and other distinguished men present will be Theodore Bell of California, the grand worthy president of the Eagles and Frank Hering of Indiana, the grand worthy vice-president.

JACQUES VAUDEVILLE An excellent bill is promised at the Jacques next week. The bill will be led by Mr and Mrs Gardner Crane in Mrs Crane's new sketch called "Piercy's Prodigal Parents." The playlet is one of the cleverest ever presented by this excellent pair of players. There are five people in the cast and the offering is said to be uproariously funny. There are several other popular features, including Giltroy, Haynes & Montgomery in the musical burletta, dent of the Eagles and Frank Hering of Indiana, the grand worthy vice-president. Once inside the nest the festivities will begin. There will be freaks and novelties in every corner and nook of the interior. One of the freaks will be Zella, the Japanese midge. The Nelson aerial ballet, consisting of seven beautiful young women, will show you how to dance as gracefully in the air as they could dance on the dance floor. The Salam dance will be another feature. Dancing will take place every night with Lullier furnishing the music. The admission to all will be fifteen cents. But while you are enjoying yourselves with the entertainment it would be just as well for you to think over that question of souvenirs. To be in right you must have one or more of them and when the last night rolls around you may be riding home with a bundle of something that will take the chill from your bones and make you feel like a new man or woman.
