A BARK'S CLOSE CALL.

The Tug Sea King Saves the W. W. Case From Being Wrecked on Duxbury Reef.

The bark W. W. Case had a narrow escape from going on Duxbury reef on Tuesday afternoon. The vessel left here for Bristol Bay on that day, taking with her a large number of white and Chinese fishermen and a cargo of cannery supplies.

STUDENTS HONOR BUDD.

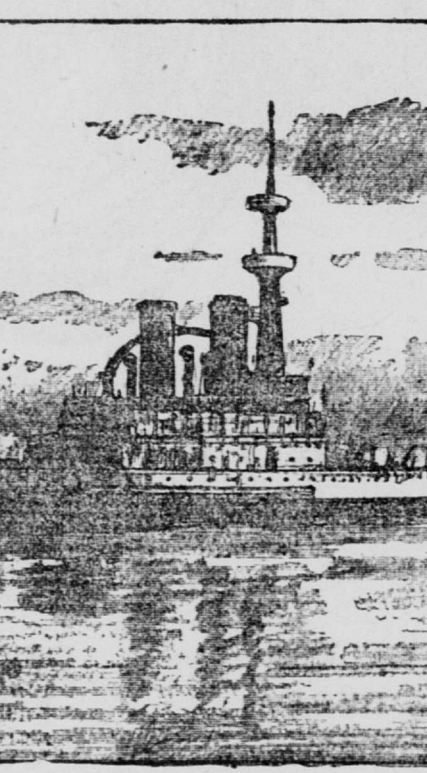

The Governor to Be Tendered a Reception at Berkeley. Military Salutes and Civic Ceremonies by the University Men.

Governor Budd will be the guest of the University of California this afternoon and when he arrives on the 2 o'clock train at Berkeley a salute of nineteen guns will be fired in his honor.

COOKS IN THE SCHOOLS.

They Must Pass More Rigid Examinations as to Competency. TELEPHONES CAUSE TROUBLE. May 1 Declared a Holiday—Teachers Who Get Certificates—Changes in the Schools.

The proposition made at the previous meeting to put telephones in the homes of the members of the Board of Education at the expense of the school fund resulted last evening in the swinging of the pendulum the other way, and not only killing the proposition, but evolving another to take them out of the homes of the secretary and the Superintendent.

Professor Herron and Laurence Gronlund Deny the Report.

NOT TO TOUR TOGETHER.

Professor Herron and Laurence Gronlund Deny the Report. The Collectivist Says He Will Stay on the Coast for Two Years.

The story that Professor Herron and Laurence Gronlund, the socialist, would start soon upon a lecturing tour together, and ultimately demonstrate the practicality of their sociological doctrines by the establishment of some co-operative system, is denied by both.

"There is nothing in that at all," Professor Herron said, after he had talked for an hour to a meeting at the First Congregational Church of Oakland yesterday afternoon. "No, not even the most remote probability of anything of the kind. I shall simply go on as I have been doing, feeling that there is a necessity for the work I am engaged in, and I suppose the same can be said of Mr. Gronlund, who, by the way, I noticed in the audience."

Laurence Gronlund, when found later in the day quietly enjoying some refreshments at his present Oakland domicile, talked freely. He showed how any such united endeavor was quite out of the question in the following characteristic manner: "Oh, no; that is not true. You see, Professor Herron is simply a critic. His work has nothing to do with construction. My work, however, is of a constructive nature rather than one of mere criticism. Of course Professor Herron is doing a great deal of good in his particular line—a very large part of it is in the line of what is practically Christianity. The difference between us is that his theory embraces Jesus Christ as an essential quantity in sociological consideration, whereas mine does not. He labors for pure ethics; I deal with economic conditions."

The prospects are that the two reformers will find their respective labors carrying them far apart from now on. Mr. Gronlund says he thinks he will stay on the coast for two years, because he regards California as "the most promising, State in the Union for his theories." He is to lecture at the "Manse," in Oakland, next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, and later on is booked to lecture in San Diego, San Jose, and other cities of this State. After that he will pay one more visit to this city, to address a big meeting in Metropolitan Temple. Then he will go back East.

THE GRAND DIVISION.

Sons of Temperance Hold an Annual Session in This City. Encouraging Reports Are Read and Grand Officers Elected.

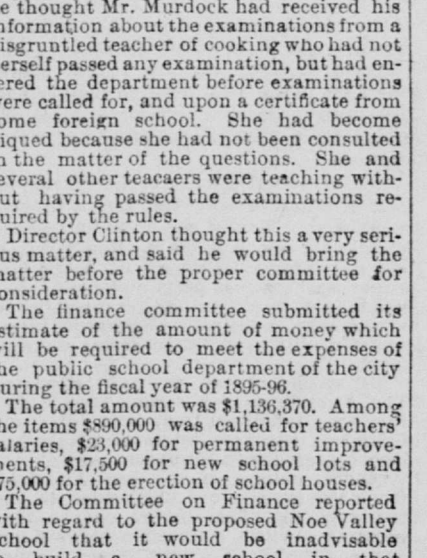

The forty-fifth annual session of the Grand Division, Sons of Temperance, convened in this city on Tuesday at Pythian Hall.

There was a good attendance of delegates from the several county divisions, also a number from San Francisco. The session throughout was a busy one, and necessarily a late one, as all the business was crowded into one day, but the utmost good feeling prevailed.

The following officers were elected and installed: Robert J. Hunter, grand worthy patriarch; Mary A. M. G. Sharp, grand worthy associate; Jessie C. Duncan, grand scribe; William J. Grant, grand treasurer; William Crowhurst, grand chaplain; B. C. Duffy, grand conductor; H. R. Huie, grand sentinel; Trustees—H. Hobson, H. C. Newman, T. F. Hatton, J. Humphreys, W. H. Hutchinson.

VETERAN POLICE SKETCHES.

Sergeant Cornelius Martin was born in Fermanagh County, Ireland, on December 17, 1827. When a child he came to Albany, State of New York, and remained there till he was 16 years of age, when he went to New York City and learned the trade of a bricklayer and plasterer. He was in the South for two or three years and landed in this city on February 15, 1854. He joined the police force on July 23, 1856, but retired on November 19, when he went to Mare Island and worked for the Government. He was among the first gang of bricklayers that worked there during Commodore Farragut's time. He again joined the police force on August 1, 1865, and was appointed sergeant on December 27, 1878, since when he has filled the position of

HENRY RITZAU DEAD.

He Once Conducted a Band for the Governor-General of India. Henry Ritzau, a veteran musician of this city, died last night at his residence on Ringgold street. For nearly two decades he had made melody for San Franciscans, and ten years ago his was among the noted bands of this coast. His son Louis succeeded, however, to his baton, and still maintains the musical reputation of the family.

OFFICERS OF THE VALLEY RAILWAY HAVE THEIR HANDS FULL.

Work Laid Out by the Directors Keeps Employes Occupied. DIRECTOR WHITTIER LEAVES.

The valley road directors transacted so much business at their last meeting on Tuesday that the secretary and his assistant, the chief engineer and committees will be kept busy for a week at least attending to details.

The number of applications for positions of all kinds has grown so large that each name has to be indexed. The letters themselves fill a large box. Such a great variety of workmen, engineers, firemen, switchmen, conductors, brakemen, trackmen, etc., have offered their services it is a settled fact now that the valley road can, at a day's notice, have all the assistance necessary to operate the line from Stockton to Bakersfield.

trout of divers kind and several hundred quail, which will be shipped from southern California, will be liberated in the demersal when the proper time will have arrived for stocking.

Anglers who are not members of the Club of One Hundred Sportsmen will in future have to wish their favorite fishing stream a sad farewell. Yet the stocking and preserving of the Lagunitas will vastly improve the ten miles of fishing water, which is commonly known as the Paper-mill Creek.

Director Whittier left with his family last evening for a tour of Europe. He will be missed by the board of directors, as he has been there two days, in which time much valuable work will be transacted in connection with building the road, rights of way, drawbridges, depot matters and agreements with the Stockton Citizens' Association.

Stockwell's Theater. "Fritz in a Madhouse" is nearing the end of its run at Stockwell's Theater, and it is proving popular. The sprightly acting, not to speak of the yodeling and dancing of Emmet, pleases both children and adults, while the knights' service rendered by Harry Liston and Baby Sings not go so far to enhance the performance of the star actor.

Morocco's Opera-House. "A Barrel of Money" is Morocco's continues to draw well. It is an entire change from melodrama, and most of the parts are well sustained. Roxy is a pretty role, prettily acted, partaking more of the ingenue than the soubrette. Little more than a child she has all a child's insecurity—she slides down the balustrade and stumbles up the stairs and keeps the audience in good humor all through. Jim is an impossible character of the Weary Raggles type, only more so.

The Orpheum. Miss Tillie Morrissey still continues to be the ruling attraction at the Orpheum. The witticisms of the Bards of Tara have already won wide the general public, and all last week's performance are winning the usual amount of applause.

The Water Carnival. The ballet and aquatic attractions of the Water Carnival continue to be as popular as ever.

The Macdonough. "The Girl I Left Behind Me" comes to the Macdonough next Monday for three nights.

Olympic Gun Club. It will lease ten thousand acres of land surrounding Lagunitas Creek.
