CENSUS DEPUTIES BUSILY AT WORK

SCHOOL MONEYS GAUGED BY RESULT OF COUNT

FLEET VISIT MAKES SERIOUS INTERRUPTION

Marshal Farmer Asks Residents to Co-operate by Giving Frank, Full and Quick Information

Census Marshal Bert Farmer yesterday started out nearly 100 deputies to take the annual school census.

Because of the approach of the fleet the work will be done under difficulties. The law limits the time of collection of the statistics to two weeks, and as thousands will be absent from their homes much of this week and all of next the deputies are worried over the law's requirement.

Two years ago, at the last census, the San Francisco census takers in the midst of the census taking and the deputies found the people here so disturbed by sorrow that they had great trouble in getting accurate statistics.

Because of the great amount of money used in the maintenance of the school system and the vast sums paid by the city to the state in taxation, it is regarded as highly necessary as well as just that the name of every child of legal age or youth be obtained in order that Los Angeles may get all the appropriation it is entitled to.

In some quarters of the city the deputies meet with strange experiences. One deputy called at a west end house yesterday, where a damsel of less than 16 answered the doorbell.

The deputies covered the Fourth and Fifth wards as called on by Marshal Farmer argued that most of these residents would go to the beaches during the fleet visit.

In the last census a case is recorded where a mother of Mexican extraction lacked a few days of being 18 years and had a child a few days over 5 years when the deputy called.

DRAWS LESSON FROM MUNICIPAL LODGINGS

CHICAGO SENDS STATISTICS TO LOS ANGELES

Finds Men Eat Too Much for Health and That Scientific Feeding is Cheap and Whole-some

Bulletins from Chicago's sanitary department just received by Health Officer L. M. Powers show the results of the recent municipal lodging house plan tried in the city by the late Mayor Carter.

Through Marvin Hughitt's generosity the premises at 33-35 West Washington street were obtained free.

The total attendance was 19,485 in January at the three places, 20,166 in February and 25,857 in March. The department of health saw to it that all callers were bathed, their clothing fumigated and laundering facilities were provided so that the men could wash their clothes.

Scientific economical feeding was ordered with the result that the menus were made up as follows:

For breakfast, bread, butter, coffee, sugar and molasses.

For supper, bread, coffee, sugar and a beef or mutton broth thickened with split peas, barley, rice or beans, turnip soup and carrots.

WANT PERMANENT FUMIGATOR NAMED

BOARD OF HEALTH ASKS FOR MORE HELP

Will include Measles, Typhoid Fever and Erysipelas in the Scope of Operations of Fumigation Corps

Another fumigator is wanted by the board of health—so badly that the board yesterday presented a formal request to the city council for such an appointment.

The regular fumigator and an assistant have been at work ever since the original plague scare in San Francisco.

Figures given to the board by the chief yesterday showed that the two men now on duty have to distribute themselves and their paraphernalia all over Los Angeles, relying on the street cars for transportation, and there is a limit to their endurance.

Mayor Harper told the board that he doubted whether the council would grant the request before July, but joined with the other members in making the recommendation. The assistant fumigator is now working on emergency pay with the consent of the supply and finance committees of the city council.

BOARD DISCUSSES HOUSE COURT WORK

INSPECTOR QUEIROLO WILL REMAIN ON DUTY

Health and Housing Commissions Are Not a Unit on Situation Regarding Habitations of the Poor

Another effort was made in the board of health yesterday to have Housing Inspector Nick Queirolo detailed back for sanitary inspection rather than work under the jurisdiction of the housing commission exclusively.

Dr. Dickson said he had understood that Chairman Coffey of the housing commission did not know, as a rule, where Inspector Queirolo was working or what he was doing, hence he thought he should report back to the sanitary commissioner.

Commissioner Newell said he knew from plumbers' reports that Queirolo was doing work, as repeated cases of condemned plumbing in the house courts showed that somebody was at work for the health department.

Mayor Harper said a housing inspector was recognized in the east as a good thing and the housing commission was putting in much time at the work. Hence he favored no change now.

Dr. Dickson was inclined to press his point that the board of health should take fuller charge of the house court work, but no action was taken by the board.

RETAIL BUSINESS HOUSES INCREASE IN LOS ANGELES

Permits Granted by Board of Health to Restaurants, Bakeries and Venders Show Growth of City

Indicative of the growth of the business interests of Los Angeles are the figures submitted by Clerk Secretary Hugh M. Love of the board of health regarding new permits issued.

Those approved by the board were forty-six restaurant permits, forty-nine vendors' permits, eight bakery permits and one lodging house.

By suggesting that the permits be dated May 1 Secretary Love saved all of these applicants the necessity of coming back to the city hall two weeks hence to have their permits renewed, as permits expire on the last of April.

SAFE CRACKERS GET VERY LITTLE BOOTY

BERRY COMPANY STRONG BOX YIELDS ONLY $7.31

Robbery Is Third of Its Kind in This Vicinity During Past Month. Criminals Not Expert at Work

Safelockers cracked the safe in the office of the Tropic and Glendale Berry company early yesterday morning and secured $7.31, hardly enough to cover the cost of the explosive used.

Persons living near the scene of the robbery say they heard two explosions which were of a muffled character shortly after 2 o'clock. They paid no attention to the noise and made no investigations.

The robbery was discovered at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, when Charles Hagood, an employee of the company, appeared at the office. He met Station Agent Theodore of the Southern Pacific and together they entered the building and found the outer door of the safe lying across the room against the wall and the safe bulged out of shape.

The burglars knocked off the combination dial and filled the aperture with the explosive. So large was the quantity of nitro-glycerine used that the large safe door was literally torn to pieces.

PACIFIC ELECTRIC ATTORNEY PROMISES CHANGES

Friendly Suit Will Be Filed to Settle Highway Crossing Question Before Board of Works

Spirited arguments were heard before the board of public works yesterday in the controversy between the Edendale residents and the management of the Glendale branch of the Pacific Electric line.

The chief issue is whether the right of way traversed by the company's cars is over public or private property. As a result of the debate between Attorney Sam Haskins for the trolley company and Fielding J. Stilson, representing the property owners and the Edendale improvement association, it was decided that a friendly suit should be instituted at once to decide whether the company uses any public streets.

The company agreed yesterday, however, to put in three grade crossings in the disputed territory, which will be of benefit to the residents in and near Edendale.

Special Features Will Be Discussed at Fellowship Meeting Regarding the Pressing War and Navy Questions

"What Can We Do to Promote Peace?" is the subject of the Fellowship conversation to be held this evening in the art room, fourth floor of Blanchard building, 233 South Hill street.

There has been considerable strong sentiment aroused in the Fellowship meetings lately on the pressing war and navy questions, beginning with the deliverance and publication of Mrs. Benjamin Fay Mills' powerful sermon, urgently deploring the war spirit, continuing through previous conversation meetings on her attitude toward the reception of the fleet, and a young people's debate on battleships being a guarantee of peace.

The subject will be dealt with still further in Mrs. Mills' sermon for Sunday morning on "Blessed Are the Peacemakers."

FISH MONGER NEARLY KILLED IN RUNAWAY

Frightened at Automobile, Horse Overturns Vehicle and Hurls the Driver Headfirst to Pavement

Dominick Caezza, driver of a fish wagon, was taken to the receiving hospital yesterday at noon suffering from numerous fractures of the body, a fractured arm and possibly a fractured skull. After his arm had been set and his injuries treated he was sent to the Clara Barton hospital.

Caezza was driving north on Catalina street, near Pico, when his horse became frightened at a passing automobile. The animal started to run and the driver made frantic efforts to stop him. He was unable to control the horse and the animal, instead of slackening its speed, ran faster. The horse turned the corner at Eleventh street and Caezza was thrown headfirst to the pavement and the wagon was demolished.

At the Clara Barton hospital last night the attendants said the injured man was resting well and was semi-conscious. He is in a critical condition, however, and may not recover.
