POLITICAL BOSS IS ROUNDED UP

PARKER SAID TO BE WITH AUTOISTS

Identity is Carefully Hidden, but One of His Henchmen Recognizes Chief on Way to Court Room

Pasadena Agency, 77 North Raymond avenue, Phones: Sunset 187, Home 214.

PASADENA, June 18.—Today was automobile day for the local police, and the echoing whisper says that among the lot dragged was Walter Parker. Report also has it that the erstwhile political boss said after being dragged to the police station that Pasadena is a "h--- of a town." Perhaps he was still recollecting those letters to "Dear Walter." Be that as it may, Walter Parker's name does not appear in any of the police transactions, but it is said that he was one of the occupants of the big car owned by H. W. Bailey of San Rafael Heights. This car was going at a rate of thirty miles an hour when timed by the police. It is said to have been numberless, but as luck would have it Police Commissioner Medill, with his motorcycle, happened to be at hand and he gave chase and caught the big machine, arresting the driver. It is said that it was at this juncture "Dear Walter" made his remark about Pasadena.

Eighteen automobiles and motorcycles were timed and found wanting during the past twenty-four hours. The police court was the busy place, and so great was its prosperity that Police Judge McDonald decided to raise the standard of fine from $15 to $25. This was not known when the auto in which Parker is said to have been riding was taken, so that the party only put up $15, and the police may go out after the political boss for another $10. If he is again called upon his remark about Pasadena may become historical. Had it not been for Police Commissioner Medill and his motorcycle that big machine which belongs to Bailey would never have been captured, and this is taken as another argument why the Pasadena police should have one or more machines of their disposal. Under the wholesale timing of machines it has been discovered that many are paying absolutely no attention to the state law requiring numbers on such vehicles. In the case of motorcycles the machines do not have to be numbered, and unless the police absolutely recognize the rider well enough to swear to his identity in court there is no way of making an arrest, even if he is going sixty miles an hour. It was startling to notice that today the average speed of the machines timed was in excess of twenty miles an hour. The Pasadena speed limit is only fifteen miles an hour, and as the timing is done with stop watches over a measured course when a motorist is captured the police have him dead to rights. MISSING WIFE LOCATED BY OFFICER M'ANEY

PASADENA, June 18.—Field Agent McAney of the Pasadena Humane society this afternoon located the missing Mrs. George Franklin Gillett and her two children in a Los Angeles lodging house run by a friend. When threatened with arrest unless she would immediately return to her husband in Little Rock, Ark., with the children, she finally gave way and agreed to go east-at once. The case is a very odd one. The woman was sent to Pasadena with the children for rest, and she disappeared some days since. Her husband's father and the officer have spent several days looking for her and it was presumed that she had taken the money her husband had sent and skipped for the north.

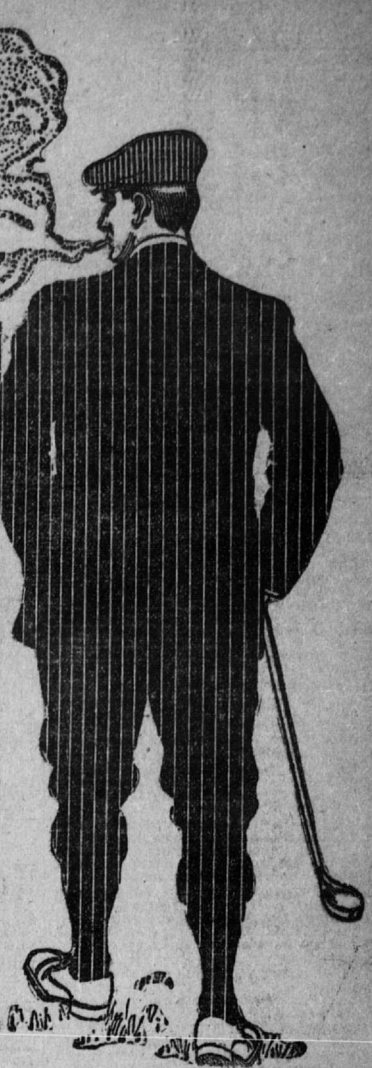

CAST ADRIFT IN DANGEROUS SEA

Young Architect Has Narrow Escape from Watery Grave While Trying to Row in Big Breakers

LONG BEACH, June 18.—Adrift in a heavy, swamping sea for two hours in a sixteen-foot rowboat Ernest Creeth, the local representative of Train & Williams, Los Angeles architects, had a narrow escape from drowning yesterday. A combination of circumstances made his position exceedingly perilous. With Olaf Michelson, "Shorty" Edwards and Charles Flink, Creeth started from San Pedro in a two horsepower launch to tow a rowboat out to Michelson's yacht. Creeth climbed into the rowboat to tend the rudder. When the end of the breakwater was neared the sea became rougher and rougher and finally the cable joining the rowboat to the launch parted as the two boats rode the heavy swells. The men in the launch attempted to put about and go to Creeth's assistance, but their engine became short-circuited and they were unable to do so. Seizing the oars they rowed to the lee of the breakwater, where they repaired the engine, but as they started out toward the drifting rowboat again the engine broke down a second time and they were delayed a longer time than before. In the meantime the heavy rowboat was being rocked and tossed in the choppy sea. Creeth's frantic efforts to row the boat to a place of safety were unavailing and frequently the terrific gale that was blowing carried the oars out of the locks. The young architect tied a handkerchief to the end of one of his oars and waved it aloft as a signal of distress, while the boat drifted out to sea and every moment threatened to capsize. Finally the three men in the launch were able to come to the rescue, and taking the boat again in tow started back toward San Pedro. As they neared that port the propeller of the launch broke with a snap and the hard-luck party was adrift again. All hands took to the oars again and rowed their way to the landing, reaching that blissful haven after night had fallen.

HEART FAILURE VERDICT IS RENDERED BY JURY

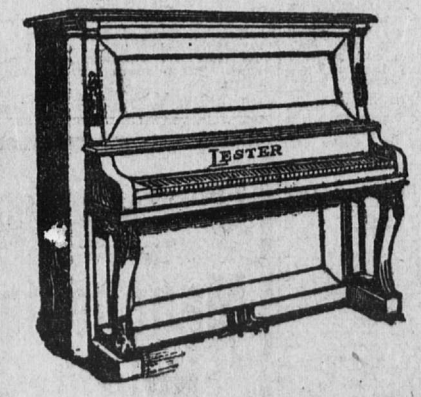

OCEAN PARK, June 18.—At the coroner's inquest held today over the remains of H. G. Laing, the Colorado Springs attorney who died while bathing in the surf here yesterday, a verdict of heart failure was rendered. The inquest was conducted by Deputy Coroner Polson. The body of Laing will be shipped to Colorado Springs and will be accompanied by the dead man's daughter, Miss Jean E. Laing, and Miss Elsie Osborne, the daughter of the proprietor of the Ripples house, where the visitors had apartments. The efforts today of the proprietor of a local "private" club to collect an alleged gambling debt from R. L. Bogardus, a local realty man, brought about such a rumour in town that it is expected that the club will be closed shortly by the local police. There is said to be sufficient evidence to show that the place was conducted for gaming purposes only. OLD WOLCOTT STUNG AGAIN BRAZIL, Ind., June 18.—Mike Donovan was awarded the decision over Joe Wolcott after ten rounds of fast fighting here tonight. Hugh Kelly refereed.
