LAW OF THE UNITED STATES

Passed at the Third Session of the Forty-second Congress.

(GENERAL NOTE, No. 1)
AN ACT to authorize the construction of bridges across the Ohio river and to prescribe the dimensions of the same.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That any person or corporation having authority to construct bridges across the Ohio river, for the purpose of conveying traffic across the Ohio river, shall have the right to do so, and to construct and maintain the same, in accordance with the provisions hereinafter made, provided that such bridges shall not interfere with the navigation of the Ohio river, and shall not be so constructed as to obstruct or impede the same.

Section 1. That every bridge hereafter erected across the Ohio river, shall be of the design, and shall have the height, width and span, and shall be so constructed, as to be safe, and shall not be so constructed as to obstruct or impede the navigation of the Ohio river, and shall not be so constructed as to obstruct or impede the same.

Section 2. That every bridge hereafter erected across the Ohio river, shall be of the design, and shall have the height, width and span, and shall be so constructed, as to be safe, and shall not be so constructed as to obstruct or impede the navigation of the Ohio river, and shall not be so constructed as to obstruct or impede the same.

Section 3. That every bridge hereafter erected across the Ohio river, shall be of the design, and shall have the height, width and span, and shall be so constructed, as to be safe, and shall not be so constructed as to obstruct or impede the navigation of the Ohio river, and shall not be so constructed as to obstruct or impede the same.

Section 4. That every bridge hereafter erected across the Ohio river, shall be of the design, and shall have the height, width and span, and shall be so constructed, as to be safe, and shall not be so constructed as to obstruct or impede the navigation of the Ohio river, and shall not be so constructed as to obstruct or impede the same.

Section 5. That every bridge hereafter erected across the Ohio river, shall be of the design, and shall have the height, width and span, and shall be so constructed, as to be safe, and shall not be so constructed as to obstruct or impede the navigation of the Ohio river, and shall not be so constructed as to obstruct or impede the same.

Section 6. That every bridge hereafter erected across the Ohio river, shall be of the design, and shall have the height, width and span, and shall be so constructed, as to be safe, and shall not be so constructed as to obstruct or impede the navigation of the Ohio river, and shall not be so constructed as to obstruct or impede the same.

Section 7. That every bridge hereafter erected across the Ohio river, shall be of the design, and shall have the height, width and span, and shall be so constructed, as to be safe, and shall not be so constructed as to obstruct or impede the navigation of the Ohio river, and shall not be so constructed as to obstruct or impede the same.

Section 8. That every bridge hereafter erected across the Ohio river, shall be of the design, and shall have the height, width and span, and shall be so constructed, as to be safe, and shall not be so constructed as to obstruct or impede the navigation of the Ohio river, and shall not be so constructed as to obstruct or impede the same.
