

THE PEACE OF CUBA OUR CARE. Secretary Root Emphasizes It in Annual Report.

RECIPROCAL TARIFFS ADVOCATED.

Public Policy Demands Preservation of Island's Independence, Quiet, and Health—Recommendations on Important Subjects.

There are the weightiest reasons of American public policy, says Secretary Root in his annual report to the President, made public today, for the conclusion of reciprocal trade arrangements with Cuba at the earliest possible date.

The chief apparent obstacle to the future prosperity of the island is to be found in its commercial relations with the United States, and the necessity of securing some reciprocal arrangement under which a concession shall be made from the tariff duties now imposed by the United States upon the principal Cuban products.

Reduction of Duties Urged. "Our present duty to Cuba can be performed by the making of such a reciprocal tariff arrangement with her as President McKinley urged in his last words to his countrymen at Buffalo on the 6th of September. A reasonable reduction in our duties upon Cuban sugar and tobacco, in exchange for fairly compensatory reductions of Cuban duties upon American products, will answer the purpose, and I strongly urge that such an arrangement be promptly made. It would involve no sacrifice, but would be an advantage to us as it would be to Cuba.

Reasons for Prompt Action. "Aside from the moral obligation to which we committed ourselves when we drove Spain out of Cuba, and aside from the ordinary considerations of commercial advantage involved in a reciprocity treaty, there are the weightiest reasons of American public policy pointing in the same direction: for the peace of Cuba is necessary to the peace of the United States; the health of Cuba is essential to the health of the United States; the independence of Cuba is necessary to the safety of the United States. The same considerations which led to the war with Spain require that a commercial arrangement be made under which Cuba can live. The condition of the sugar and tobacco industries in Cuba is already such that the earliest possible action by Congress upon this subject is desirable.

District Park Improvement. Concerning the work of the newly constituted District Park Commission, Mr. Root says: "In admirable spirit that commission seeks to restore and develop the original designs of President Washington and L'Enfant; and the plans which they are about to present for the work to be done hereafter in making the Capital City more beautiful, have the hearty approval and sympathy of the War Department, and will, if they shall happily be adopted, have that department's cordial co-operation.

The retirement of Generals Merritt, Brooks and Otis as lieutenant generals is recommended "as a slight recognition of the obligations of the country to these officers." The suggestion is made that the provision now in force for retiring naval officers of the next higher grade to that attained in active service be extended to the army.

The Transport Service. The advisability of selling all the remaining transports on the Atlantic is urged. The Secretary adds: "It is not practicable now to discontinue the transport service upon the Pacific, but I do not think it desirable that the United States should own and operate a fleet of passenger and freight vessels in time of peace. It would be profitable if the American merchant marine could furnish vessels to transport our own and supplies as part of a regular commerce between the United States and the Philippines, under contracts which would enable the Government, in case of war to put the vessels under the control of regular officers of the army or navy for transport purposes, upon reasonable compensation. It is desirable that authority be given to the Secretary to make such contracts in case opportunities for such an arrangement should be afforded in the future.

Recommendations are made "that the President be now empowered to organize the volunteer forces wherever called out in the manner provided for by the act of March 3, 1899, for the organization of the volunteer force which has recently returned from the Philippines, with such modifications as shall be necessary, and the establishment of a law of general staff, of which the War College Board shall form a part."

Work in the Philippines. "The most important single military event of the year" is the value placed by Secretary Root on General Funston's capture of Aguinaldo. The field work of the army in the Philippines is heartily commended. Recent disturbances in Samar are mentioned as "unfortunately to be expected." The army in the Philippines has been reduced since the last annual report from 2,267 officers and 71,727 enlisted men, to 1,111 officers and 43,127 enlisted men.

The reduction of expenses of administration, the simplification of management by the consolidation of the military department's work into two only, the sale of commissary stores to retailers, and other civilians, and the visits of high officials of the War Department are referred to briefly.

THANKSGIVING DAY GOLF. Fewer Cups to Be Played for on Chevy Chase Links.

For power cups the golfers of the Chevy Chase Club will swing the driver on Thanksgiving Day. The cups have been offered by Dr. Sterrett, Col. F. L. Denny, and P. D. Horstmann.

The first match, an eighteen-hole bogie handicap event, will be played Thanksgiving morning. An eighteen-hole bogie handicap match scheduled for the afternoon. Men over forty-five years of age will contest for the third cup all day long in an eighteen-hole bogie handicap match. A player may compete for all three cups by playing only one round of eighteen holes either morning or afternoon.

TWENTY CHINAMEN REPORTED Government Pays $100 Each to Send Them to Hongkong.

The ordinary Chinaman is a very shrewd individual. Whenever he feels as though he wants to say a visit to his people in China, he manages to get there and permit some one else to pay the expenses. As a rule, this "some one else" is Uncle Sam.

The Celestial with a longing for home manages, through the intervention of some Chinaman who is "friendly" to the American Government, to call the attention of the Immigration Bureau to his case. This "friendly" Chinaman informs the Immigration Bureau that John Chiu Ling is in this country against the law, and that he should be deported as being a "bad Chinaman." Usually John Chinaman visits his home whenever he feels like it, and Uncle Sam pays the freight. Mr. Y. P. Poucher, Commissioner General of Immigration, yesterday sent instructions to the United States Marshal at Portland, Me., Ashburn, N. Y., and Concord, N. H., to endeavor to bring the party in number, arrested for being in this country against the law, to Boston, to deliver them to the Chinese inspector at that port, who is to see that they are safely put on board of a train bound for San Francisco.

The party of Celestials, on their journey as far as San Francisco will be in charge of a United States Marshal, whose expenses in connection with the trip are $100 per man. At San Francisco the "Chinamen" will be taken in charge by guards of the Southern Pacific Railroad, who will see that the intruders are safely put on shore at Hongkong.

TWO HOUSE SEAT CLAIMANTS DEAD. CONTESTS WILL BE CONTINUED.

Only Eight Cases to Be Considered by the Election Committee—A Successor Named to the Late J. W. Stokes.

There are fewer contested election cases scheduled for consideration by the election committee of the House this coming Congress than has marked the record of any preceding Congress.

There are three election committees of the House, and there are but eight contested seats of members to be divided among the three.

The following is the official receipt of contests, the names of contestants and the counties that have been filed with the Clerk of the House:

Alabama—Seventh district, N. B. Spears vs. John L. Barnett.

Kentucky—Third district, J. McKenzie Moss vs. John S. Rhea.

Missouri—Twelfth district, William M. Horton vs. James J. Butler.

North Carolina—Third district, John E. Fowler vs. Charles R. Thomas.

Ohio—Twelfth district, John J. Lentz vs. Emmet Tompkins.

South Carolina—Seventh district, A. D. Bantister vs. J. William Stokes.

Virginia—Fourth district, C. E. Wilson vs. Francis R. Lassiter; Ninth district, James A. Walker vs. William F. Rhea.

Since notices of contests were filed there have been two deaths among the parties interested.

Gen. James A. Walker, of Virginia, died soon after all the testimony in his case had been taken by Representative J. William Stokes of South Carolina, died after his testimony had been forwarded to the Clerk of the House.

The death of Representative Stokes and the fact that Mr. Stokes had not recently elected will not interfere with this contest, however. It was said yesterday that the case will be proceeded with just the same as though Mr. Stokes had not died. If the Election Committee should report in favor of Dantister, and the report be adopted by the House, then Bantister would be declared the winner.

At the same time, it is interesting to note that General Walker in the last Congress contested Judge Rhea's seat precisely on the same grounds upon which he now contests the seat of Stokes.

MAY BURN OIL ON SWITCHES. Street Railways Prepare to Fight Winter Difficulties.

Looking forward to the imminent weather that it is sure to shortly put in an appearance, the officers of the Washington Traction and Electric Company have secured an order from the District Commissioners that will permit them to burn oil in the switches of the company whenever it shall be necessary to thaw them out.

Last year great difficulty was experienced in operating the switches, which became clogged with snow and ice at frequent intervals, and in anticipation of that eventuality which will likely to come in the near future, the officers of the company sought the assistance of the Commissioners.

As a result of the permission of the General Manager of the Traction Company, the following order has been issued for the information of all concerned:

"That wherever the Washington Traction and Electric Company to burn oil for the purpose of thawing out switches on the lines operated by said company, whenever the temperature interferes with their proper operation, the oil to be limited to such quantity as will not injure the street pavement."

Public Work Ordered. The District Commissioners yesterday authorized the following items of public work through the Engineer Department:

That trees be planted on P Street between Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Streets, and on Thirty-sixth Street, between O and R streets, at an estimated cost of $104, chargeable to appropriation for Park Improvement. That fifty feet of six-inch water main be laid in Morgan Avenue, between L and M streets, and Spring Road at an estimated cost of $40.

PENCILERS AGAIN GET THE BIG END.

TALENT PICKS ONLY TWO WINNERS

Consistent Day of the Season at Bonning—Long Shots, One, Two, and Three in Second Race, Beat Odds-on Favorites.

Yesterday was the coldest day of the season at Bonning and viewing races was anything but a pleasure. This had no visible effect on the attendance, which, as the meeting draws to a close, increases daily.

The sport was good all through. The starts were prompt and without vexatious delays. All the events were well contested. The average number of bookmakers in the line doing a rushing business. As only two favorites won on the day they kept most of the money.

Talent Picks the First Race.

The talent started in well, backing McGrathman Prince in the first race all over the ring. Even as the horses were at the post the money was still passing in on him. The race was never in doubt, the Prince going to the front after the barrier went up as if it was a sprint of half a mile instead of a mile and three-quarters.

Many horsemen felt sure that he would die in front, and that he couldn't keep up the clip he was setting. But his staying powers were equal to the occasion, and he landed the big end of the purse by a length.

The second race on the card was for two-year-olds that had not won since July 1. Eleven faced the starter. Forward from the stable of Barrick & O'Connor, was made a top-heavy favorite, opening at 5 to 1—closing at 7 to 10. He was never in the hunt, as Genesee, an 11 to 1 shot, won with flying buttress.

The third race on the card, a selling affair at a mile and forty yards, brought together a mixed lot, of which Old Brisk was made the favorite at 6 to 5. His stable companions evidently did not fancy this price on the old campaigner, and let him severely alone.

Charley Moore's Price Boosted.

In the meantime a heavy play began on Charley Moore, owned by T. P. Coles, of Warrenton, Va., and the Virginians backed him for hundreds of money, forcing his price from 5 to 1 at the opening to 3 to 5 at the close. While the Virginians were pounding Charley Moore the price on Brisk began to soar upward, going from 6 to 1 to 2 to 1, and finally to 1 to 1.

There were only two horses in the race at the end, but Charley Moore won by a head, with Charley Moore second by four lengths.

The fourth race went to the favorite without any trouble, 5 to 2 and 3 to 1 won, getting back a little of the favorite's price.

By George at 20 to 1.

The fifth was for four-year-olds and upward, and brought out an ordinary lot, thirteen going to the post. The winner turned up in By George, at the remunerative odds of 20 to 1. Death, a 7 to 1 chance, finished second, and Shoreham, the favorite, third. Morokata, an entry in this race, was heavily played, being backed from 10 to 1 to 2 to 1, but his interference might have given the winner an argument.

The sixth and last race was the best of the day. It had only five starters, of which Carbuncle was a pronounced favorite, going to the post at 1 to 2. The race was won by Alfred Vargrave after running one of those remarkable races that onlookers enthusiastically follow. He looked hopelessly better, going down the back stretch, being thirty lengths out of it. In the turn for home he picked up his horses one by one, and at the end won cleverly by two lengths.

Rothen carried off the honors of the day, winning three races out of four, and with a fourth place. He looked like a winner, and he was. He looked like a winner, and he was. He looked like a winner, and he was.

The following are the results of yesterday's races:

First race—Highweight handicap, three-year-olds and upward; one mile and six furlongs. McGrathman Prince (Hodges), 5 to 2 and 3 to 2, won; Flyer (Butler), 7 to 1 and 5 to 2, second; Dick Pars (Butler), 1 to 1 and 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:28 1/2.

Off for Philadelphia. The Cornell Football Aggregation Sets Out From Ithaca.

Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 26.—Cornell's football aggregation started for Philadelphia at 11:30 o'clock tonight. The party will be quartered at the Walton Hotel during their stay in the Quaker City and will take light signal practice tomorrow.

Today, at the final practice in Ithaca, Coach Starbuck did not require a line-up, as it was not deemed expedient to run the risk of injuring any of the regulars. All seem to be in pretty good condition.

Tomorrow night the Cornell students will go to Philadelphia to root for Cornell.

JEFFRIES' BROTHER TO FIGHT. Match With Hank Griffin Arranged in California.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 26.—By terms that have not been made public the Twentieth Century Club, of Los Angeles, has secured a match between Jack Jeffries, brother of the champion, who has assisted in his training, and Hank Griffin.

The date has not been set, but it will be during the first week in December.

Champion Jim will spend Thanksgiving Day in Los Angeles with his parents.

Billy Delaney and Kid Egan are in Portland arranging a boxing exhibition for Jeffries. This event will be the opening of a tour of the Northern cities, ending in Chicago early in the new year, before Jeffries goes to New York.

YALE'S FOOTBALL PROFITS. Total of Receipts, All Expenses Allowed, About $88,000.

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 26.—It is estimated by Yale men that Yale's receipts this year from football games will be the largest in her history. In round numbers Yale will get between $75,000 and $80,000 as her share.

In the Princeton game, where the crowd was estimated at 17,000, the receipts for Yale will be about $15,000. The financial returns from the Columbia-Yale game will figure up about $5,000 for Yale.

The other games on the Yale field this season, including the bi-centennial all-star game, will net Yale University about $5,000 total.

This will bring the grand total up to about $88,000, allowing for all expenses.
