

VIRGINIA PLANNING TO HAVE FAST TEAM

Prospects of Winning Combination Next Spring for Charlottesville University Are Brightest in History.

Charlottesville, Va., Dec. 15.—The announcement of the baseball schedule by Manager Gliddings has set the Virginia undergraduate fans to gossiping regarding the outlook for the coming spring.

With this nucleus to build from and with the addition of some of the new candidates, a strong team should be turned out which should give a good account of itself.

Among the new men who showed up well in fall practice are: a likely first baseman; Field, a southpaw of note; Pidgeon, a first sacker; and Drummond, a promising slabbet.

WARMTH AT YULETIDE WILL BE GIVEN NEEDY

Saks & Co. Will Present 100 Warm Overcoats to Youngsters—Will Carry Out Usual Custom.

In accordance with a long-established custom, the firm of Saks & Co., Seventh street and Pennsylvania avenue north-ward, will distribute 100 brand new overcoats to needy boys of Washington on Christmas morning.

For thirty years the firm has undertaken this charitable work at the Christmas season, bringing comfort and happiness to the homes of many who would be otherwise sad and suffering otherwise.

Officials of the company will be on hand at the store Christmas morning to receive applicants for overcoats, determine their worthiness as objects of charity and see that perfect fits are provided. It is expected that early in the morning, long before opening time, the store will be filled with the store to stand in line and make sure of their one Christmas gift.

DAILY SHORT STORY. LILLY LETTER.

By DOROTHY DOUGLAS. (Copyright, 1914.)

The first week of Lily's vacation had come to an end and he had returned to the city. Being without a family and home in the city itself he was free to live where fancy and pocketbook dictated. He went directly from the station to the address he had seen in the corner of the envelope addressed to Lily Brayton.

He found a young man who he had met at the station. The young man was Lily's brother. Lily was young. "It is positively wicked to be so good looking," she told herself, as she watched the young man dive from the spring-board at the end of the pier.

When he came to the shore he saw a young man who he had met at the station. The young man was Lily's brother. Lily was young. "It is positively wicked to be so good looking," she told herself, as she watched the young man dive from the spring-board at the end of the pier.
