THE CAMPAIGN IN EGYPT.

THE SITUATION AT THE FRONT.

SKIRMISHING NEAR KASSASIN—THE MILITARY CONVENTION—THE NILE RISING RAPIDLY.

Arabi Pacha's cavalry advanced near Kassasin lock yesterday and exchanged fire with the British. The enemy, who are showing increased boldness, were driven back. Bedouins attacked a British mule train near Ramses yesterday, but were repulsed. So much foul matter has been thrown into the Ismailia Canal that it is feared the water will become unfit for drinking. The Anglo-Turkish military convention was informally signed yesterday. The Nile has risen very high. It is thought that the Egyptian Ministry will try to settle the claims for damages growing out of incendiarism and pillage in Alexandria by a commission appointed by the Powers.

ARABI'S TROOPS GROWING BOLDER.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—In a telegram dated Ismailia, September 6, General Wolseley says: "The enemy reconnoitred the English position at Kassasin Lock to-day with cavalry. They had no heavy guns. Musketry fire was exchanged with them."

KASSASIN, Sept. 6.—The enemy are showing increased boldness. Yesterday a force of 200 men was observed within a half hour's march of the British camp. Infantry disguised as peasants frequently fire at the British vedettes. Brisk firing has been proceeding between the outposts to-day. The British outposts were strongly reinforced and drove the enemy back. Lieutenant Holland, of the 15th Hussars, was wounded in the engagement.

At a general parade of the troops here to-day the men presented a fine serviceable appearance. Only eighty-eight invalids have been sent from here to Ismailia in a week. The Duke of Connaught's brigade of Foot Guards arrived there to-day. The transport arrangements are being rapidly completed. A party of natives have been engaged to bury the dead at Kassasin. No advance can be expected before the 9th inst.

General Wolseley has requested the presence of a naval brigade in the Army in order that the Navy may share the honor of the advance. In compliance with his request, a brigade consisting of 100 blue jackets, ten officers and a battery of four Gatling guns will leave Port Said to-morrow for Ismailia.

An English train of 300 mules was attacked near Ramses to-day by Bedouins. The escort of the train repulsed the Bedouins.

Arabs have thrown carcasses of horses and other foul matter into the Ismailia Canal, and it is feared the water will become unfit for drinking.

THE CONVENTION INFORMALLY SIGNED.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—A Reuter dispatch from Constantinople states that, after a conference of three hours between Lord Dufferin and Said Pacha to-day, the Anglo-Turkish military convention was informally signed.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 6.—The proclamation of the Porte against Arabi Pacha declares that the maintenance of the authority and prestige of the Khedive is indispensably necessary, and that the designs of Arabi Pacha justify his being described as a rebel. Dervisch Pacha, Server Pacha, Baker Pacha and Lebib Effendi are to start for Egypt on Saturday.

Orders have been sent to Suda Bay to forward the first detachment of Turkish troops to Egypt.

LONDON, Sept. 7.—The Daily News's despatch from Constantinople says: "An imperial civil commission will leave here on a special steamer on Thursday for Alexandria. Dervisch Pacha and Baker Pacha, with their staffs, will start on Thursday for the rendezvous in Crete. Turkish troops are assembling here as fast as possible."

REPORTS FROM ALEXANDRIA.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—A Reuter dispatch from Athens says: M. Tricoupis, the Greek Prime Minister, telegraphed to the Greek Consul at Alexandria for information in regard to Antono Paulo, who had been arrested for connection with a rumored conspiracy of Greeks in Egypt. The Consul replied that the object of the conspiracy was to massacre the Khedive and the Christians, and to attack the forts; that Antono Paulo was the only Greek implicated; and that he was appointed Consular Agent at Siout in 1878, but was never formally installed.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 6.—Antono Paulo, who was arrested on suspicion of being connected with a plot against the lives of Europeans, will be sent to Greece. He is not a Consular Agent, as was at first stated. The police have advised several other suspected persons to quit the city.

A fire broke out early this morning in the Rue Cherif Pacha. The fire was caused by two servants under notice of dismissal.

Three hundred persons of different nationalities without visible means of livelihood have been sent away from this city by steamer. Many passengers who arrived in a Messageries Maritimes steamer to-day were not allowed to disembark.

The Council of Ministers is now engaged with the question of indemnifying inhabitants for losses sustained by incendiarism or pillage. It is almost certain that the Ministry will propose to the Powers to appoint an international commission to settle claims, the decision of the commission to be final.

LONDON, Sept. 7.—The Daily Telegraph's dispatch from Alexandria says that the Nile has risen very high. It is reported that part of the enemy's position at Kafr-el-Dwar is flooded.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

TO TEST THE LEGALITY OF HIS ARREST.

DUBLIN, Sept. 6.—Acting upon instructions from the American Government Stephen J. Meany, the American who was recently arrested at Ennis, has taken a most decisive course for the purpose of testing the legality of his arrest. He has informed Mr. Purcell, resident magistrate at Ennis, that he surrenders his recognizances to be of good behavior and keep the peace, entered into on August 11. In his communication to Mr. Purcell Mr. Meany says: "I no longer consider myself bound by the conditions and obligations of the recognizances. I cannot, as an American citizen, carry the stigma of a British bondsman, and, unaccused or unconvicted of offences, continue the confession of lawlessness that a continuance of the bonds would involve. I thus place myself in the position I occupied at the Police Barracks in Ennis prior to the execution of my recognizances; but I shall for thirty-six hours hold myself on parole for your action."

Mr. Meany's sureties have likewise informed Mr. Purcell that, at the instance of Mr. Meany, they refuse to hold themselves bound by the bonds, and ask to be absolved from all further responsibility in his regard. They state that, at Mr. Meany's request and by his consent, they are prepared, at any time within thirty-six hours, to surrender him into police custody.

It is a noteworthy fact that, while surrendering himself to one magistrate, Mr. Meany was the guest of another, namely, Mr. O'Gorman, Justice of the Peace of Blarney. Mr. Meany's friends intend publicly to entertain him.

ANGLO-IRISH TOPICS.

DUBLIN, Sept. 6.—The services of the special constables have been dispensed with. All the dismissed constables were summoned to the Castle to-day. Over 200 of them attended. They were separately interrogated as to whether or not they had been present at any meetings, and were then informed that their cases would be considered.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—In his lecture last evening at Memorial Hall Henry George said the only thing he disliked about Davitt was his proposition to pay the landlords compensation, which Mr. George thought would be a very wicked thing. The Times this morning, in an editorial article, says: "The nationalization of land is nothing but Socialism in disguise. It is nothing more than the old Socialist theory furbished up anew."

DUBLIN, Sept. 6.—A meeting of the sentence of death in favor of the commutation of the sentence of death against Francis Hynes, who murdered John Doloughty, will be held on Thursday. The Lord Mayor will preside at the meeting, and Messrs. Biggar, Sullivan and Sexton, members of Parliament, are expected to be present.

Thomas Quinn was shot dead to-day while driving in a donkey-cart on the highway near Athlone.

AMERICANS IN THE GREAT HANDICAPS.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—J. R. Keene's Foxhall, Bookmaker and Romeo, and Lord Ellesmere's Wallenstein have accepted for the race for the Cesarewitch Stakes, which will come off on October 10 at the Newmarket Second October Meeting; and P. Lorillard's Iroquois, Nereid, Sachem and Aranza, and Mr. Keene's Foxhall, Don Fulano, Bookmaker and Romeo, and Lord Ellesmere's Wallenstein, have accepted for the race for the Cambridgeshire Stakes, which will come off October 24 at the Newmarket Houghton Meeting.

CAUSING EXCITEMENT AMONG JEWS.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 6.—A recent speech of General Drenteln, Governor of Kieff, which accused the Jews of slander in asserting that the authorities connived at the anti-Semitic disorders and advised them to give the country a little of the inordinate love they lavish on money, has caused much sensation. General Drenteln pointed out that many of the Jews had been obliged to return from America, and were starving in Palestine, but that they were better off in Russia than anywhere if they only knew it.

SUBJECTS OF INTEREST IN VIENNA.

VIENNA, Sept. 6.—The police have rigorously searched several more houses in connection with the recent discovery of stolen property at the homes of a number of members of a radical workingmen's society of this city, and have arrested twenty-six persons, including Herr Most, brother of the former editor of the Freiheit.

A report of the Vienna seed market estimates the quantity of wheat in Austria and Hungary available for exportation at from 13,000,000 to 14,000,000 centals; the quantity of rye at 2,000,000 centals, and the quantity of oats at 2,500,000 centals.

A BOSTON CREW WINS AT HALIFAX.

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 6.—Many people went to the shores of Bedford Basin this morning to witness the four-oared and double-scull races. The weather was fine, but the strong northeast wind made the water rough, and the races were postponed. The water became sufficiently smooth for the four-oared race shortly after 5 o'clock. The start was made by seven boats. The West End four, of Boston, soon showed in front and maintained the lead to the close, winning the first prize, $200. The Williams crew, of Halifax, finished second, the Griswold crew, of Halifax, third; the Riley-Ferguson crew, of Halifax, fourth; the Enterprise crew, of Lowell, Mass., fifth; and the Ross-Foley crew, of Halifax, sixth. The distance was three miles. Hosmer rowed in the winning boat. One of the Lunenburg crew broke an oar and the boat dropped out.

THE TURKO-GREEK DIFFICULTY.

ATHENS, Sept. 6.—An armistice has been concluded between the Greeks and Turks on the Thessalian frontier based on the status quo ante. Negotiations for a definite settlement of the dispute in regard to the frontier are proceeding satisfactorily.

Later—The Turks propose to compromise the frontier difficulty by offering to cede three of the disputed places to Greece, if the latter will cede to Turkey the remaining two. Greece refuses to make this concession and will mobilize an army if the negotiations fail. A force of 4,000 men is held in readiness to join the troops concentrated on the frontier.

AFFAIRS AT WASHINGTON.

ARAPAHOES THREATENING TROUBLE.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—There is a rumor that 400 Arapahoe Indians have started on a northward expedition of mischief from the Indian Territory. The Acting Secretary of the Interior says he has no intimation of their start. He says there was a report from the Indian agent under whose care the Arapahoes are, that they were in sympathy with the threatened rebellion of Red Cloud's Indians at Pine Ridge Agency, and that they would start North as soon as they could get their rations of beef. On August 28 orders were given to the agent not to issue the beef until satisfied that the Indians would remain peaceably on their lands. The Acting Secretary is of the opinion that the beef had been issued before his order reached the agent, and is expecting a dispatch in reply to inquiries. In the event of verification of the rumor, cavalry will be ordered out on the trail and every means resorted to to head off the marauders.

THE BRAIN OF THE ASSASSIN.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Dr. Lamb on Monday received the report of the microscopical experts, Drs. Arnold, Shakespeare and McConnell, containing the result of their investigations into the condition of Guiteau's brain. The report was approved by Dr. Lamb and forwarded to Philadelphia, where it will be published in a medical journal. Dr. Lamb says that the position taken by Dr. Godding (that Guiteau was insane) would be materially supported by this report. The investigation had been made under peculiarly favorable circumstances, and the result would form a complete record of immense value to brain students. The investigation had been so complete and thorough that specialists would have great difficulty in finding cases which might properly serve as a basis of comparison. He did not believe that the report would cause a change of opinions as to Guiteau's sanity to any great extent.

THE POINT BARROW EXPEDITION.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—The Chief Signal Officer has received the following dispatch from Lieutenant Ray, commanding the Point Barrow expedition, under date of Oogiamute, Alaska, July 29: "Party all safe and well. Whole work being carried out. The steam whaler North Star was crushed by ice and sank a few miles from this station on July 8. The crew were fed and sheltered here until the ice broke up."

WASHINGTON NOTES.

The Controller of the Currency has authorized the First National Bank of Lexington, Mich., to begin business with a capital of $50,000. He has also authorized an extension of the charter of the First National Bank of Louisville, Ky., with a capital of $500,000.

The amount of United States bonds withdrawn from securities of National banks by Treasurer Gilfillan today and surrendered to the Secretary of the Treasury for exchange into three per cent bonds was $7,990,350, making a total withdrawn to date of $50,155,650.

Lieutenant E. W. Sturdy has been ordered to perform the duties of superintendent of "The Nautical Almanac" office during the absence of Professor Simon Newcomb, who expects to leave here next week for the Cape of Good Hope in charge of the party to observe the transit of Venus.

About $10,000,000 of the new three per cent bonds have been issued since Monday. Offers for the bonds continue to be received at the Treasury Department. Among the offers received to-day was one from a National bank surrendering $75,000 three and half per cent bonds for exchange into threes.

The Treasury Department furnishes the statement that no such distinction exists as first and second Assistant Secretary of the Treasury. The two assistants are created by one clause of the law, which makes no distinction in their ranks or duties. The President is authorized to appoint one of those assistants to perform the duties of the Secretary during his sickness or absence.

General Sherman has asked that Major-General Schofield be ordered to San Francisco to relieve Major-General Irwin McDowell of the command of the Military Division of the Pacific, and that General McDowell be ordered to his home in New-York, preparatory to his retirement from active service in October. GENERAL POLITICAL NEWS.

MR. BLAINE ON CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.

WINTERPORT, Me., Sept. 6.—Mr. Blaine at a mass-meeting held here to-day in referring to Civil Service Reform, both local and national, said of the latter that he should be glad to see every federal officer, however honorable his position, appointed for a specific period, during which he could not be removed except for cause, which cause should be specified, proved, and made a matter of record. He should be glad to see the tenure of all subordinate officers made longer at least than a Presidential term, so that the incoming of a new Administration would not be crippled or injured. Seven years would be a good length for a term, and would effect the desired end. He did not believe that a life-tenure would be wise even if practicable, and was sure it was not practicable because it means penstons in the end, and might create a "privileged class"; nor was he sure that life tenure insures the best, most faithful and most honorable service, but believed a mad would be a better officer if his commission should expire at stated periods, and his reappointment depend upon his efficiency. It will prove a far easier task to educate public opinion to the renewal of appointments to efficient and valuable officers, with sufficient salary to enable them to lay by something for a rainy day, than it will to get popular consent to life-tenures with pensions to a large civil list, constantly growing in number and constantly provoking opposition in the popular mind. The system belongs with royalty, and he did not believe that it can be domesticated in this Republic, and that those who agitate it will ever reach a practical result.

THE YEARLY FIGHT OVER INSPECTORS.

President French, of the Board of Police, who has been on a fishing excursion recently, is expected to return to the city before the close of this week. The inspectors and poll-clerks for the next election will be appointed soon after his reappearance at Police Headquarters. Rumors of an impending conflict over the selection of the Democratic inspectors have been current in political circles ever since Commissioner Matthews went to Europe in search of information about the police systems of London and Paris. Since the return of Mr. Matthews there has not been a meeting of the full Board and no political action has been taken by the three Commissioners now in the city. Commissioner Nichols said recently that he hoped to prove to his fellow-members in the Board that the Democratic inspectors ought to be chosen from the ranks of Tammany alone, because the Tammany organization showed the greatest number of votes in the last election in the city.

Mr. Mason said yesterday that the appointment of the inspectors and poll-clerks had not been discussed by the Commissioners recently. He was unable to say what the action of the Republican Commissioners would be in regard to the Democratic lists. Mr. Matthews said the evident meaning of the law was that one-half of all the inspectors and poll-clerks who were appointed should be chosen from the Democratic organization recognized by the Democratic State Conventions. A fair interpretation of the law, he thought would exclude all the Tammany candidates for inspectors, because Tammany Hall was outside the regular Democratic organization. He did not expect, however, that the Board of Police would appoint all the inspectors from the lists furnished by the County Democracy. The Republicans in the board would be called upon to decide between the claims of the Irving Hall, Tammany Hall and County Democracy organizations, and they probably would make such a division as would tend to keep those factions apart from each other.

SELMA, Ala., Sept. 6.—A conference of Republicans dissatisfied with the nomination of George H. Craig for Congressman from the IVth District which has been in session here for two days adjourned to-day. A convention is called for September 23 to meet at Greensboro. Doubtless a colored candidate will be nominated by the bolters. There is great dissatisfaction among the colored leaders of the district.

BOSTON, Sept. 6.—At the caucus held to-night in the City of Somerville, Vth District, all the delegates were Bowman men. This is the first caucus in the district. Cambridge will elect delegates next Tuesday night and the Bowman men feel confident of victory.

TELEPHONE INTERESTS CONSIDERED.

BOSTON, Sept. 6.—The National Telephone Exchange Association held its second session this morning. A resolution was offered providing for the appointment of a general committee to consider the advisability of holding a National Electrical Convention at Washington in January or February, 1884. The resolution was laid on the table.

W. D. Sargent, of Brooklyn, read a comprehensive paper treating of three subjects—leakage, induction, and earth and atmospheric currents—which stated that the increase in the number and length of wires proves the value of good insulation and conductivity. After transacting some routine business the convention adjourned.

RESENTING A PUBLICATION.

RED BANK, N. J., Sept. 6.—Considerable feeling is shown by the merchants of Red Bank over the statements published in The Red Bank Register in reference to the alleged cases of typhoid fever. A paper condemning the action of John H. Cook, the editor and proprietor of The Register, in the matter, and ordering him to take out their advertisements and stop their papers upon the expiration of the year, has been signed by a large number of the leading merchants and professional men of the town, for presentation to Mr. Cook. The latter has employed State Senator Applegate and William Pintard to protect his interests, and an effort will probably be made to indict the signers of the petition for conspiracy.

POTTSVILLE, Penn., Sept. 6.—A cave-in occurred to-day at Lost Creek, on the Lehigh Valley Railroad, about three miles from Shenandoah. A seam three feet in width opened for a distance of about 1,000 yards along the line of the railroad track, impeding for a time the running of trains.

ACCUSED OF MALPRACTICE.

MRS. GEORGE L. DAVIDSON THE VICTIM.

HER HUSBAND AND DR. THEODORE YOUNG KENNY, OF PATERSON, ARRESTED—MRS. DAVIDSON IN A CRITICAL CONDITION—THE DOCTOR'S SERVICES VALUED AT $2,000—HOW THE CLEW TO THE CRIME WAS FOUND.

In the early part of yesterday afternoon, when the tide was out, Garrett May, an employe of the Iron Steamboat Company, noticed a cigar-box floating upon the water in the slip adjoining Pier No. 1. He took it out of the water, and judged that from its weight it was not empty. He opened the box and found a parcel covered with brown wrapping paper, which on being removed disclosed the body of a child. May at once took the box and its contents to an officer of the special service, who carried the whole to Police Headquarters. An examination of the contents of the box there showed that the child had been born prematurely, as the result of malpractice. The body was uninjured, but the top and front of the head were crushed in. There were in the box a long heavy stone-china soap dish, and a match safe of the same material, both of a peculiar pattern. Inspector Byrnes made a minute and careful examination of the contents of the box, scrutinizing particularly the brown wrapping paper in which the child's body was wrapped and the chinaware. The former was wet from the water, and the Inspector first caused it to be dried. His investigation of the chinaware led him to conclude that it belonged to a hotel, as it was of the heavy, durable pattern used in such places. He accordingly detailed Detectives Dolan and Adams to visit the hotels of the city and ascertain if ware of that pattern was used in any of them.

When the brown paper was dried the name "George L. Davidson" was found on it, written in lead pencil, with the address, "Room 121, Fifth Avenue Hotel." Inspector Byrnes at once set out for the hotel, accompanied by Detective Heidelberg. They learned from the clerk that George L. Davidson was a guest at the hotel with his wife, having been there a few days. They were both in room No. 121 at the time. The inspector had an examination of the room made by an employe of the hotel, and by this means learned that the match, safe and soap dishes belonging there were missing. The employe also reported that there was a sick woman in the room and a gentleman. By means of a message the latter was called down to the office, and was there arrested, and then taken to Police Headquarters. The man there acknowledged his identity, and said that he was the husband of the sick woman. Mr. Davidson was then accused of having taken the child's body to the river and thrown it into the water. He admitted the charge at once. He said that he had been married for six weeks. He added that both of them belonged to wealthy and well-known families. He himself formerly lived in Brooklyn, but his present home was in Westchester County, his wife's maiden name was Mary Baldwin, and she was the daughter of ex-Judge Baldwin, of Paterson, formerly of the Supreme Court of New-Jersey.

Mr. Davidson said that his wife had been in a most distressed state of mind over her condition, that she had brooded upon the ruin which she saw impending over her name, in consequence, and that she had begged him to find a means of relieving her from the worst consequences. They had been married in Paterson, at Judge Baldwin's house, six weeks before, and had been travelling in Canada and Northern New-York since then, and during this time his wife's fears and anxiety constantly increased. She had repeatedly said she could not and would not live if the child were born. She therefore begged him to call in a doctor to her aid. Mr. Davidson at length sent for Dr. Theodore Young Kenny, a homœopathic physician, of No. 79 Fair-st., Paterson, N. J. Dr. Kenny had known Mrs. Davidson from childhood. He had been her father's family physician. Dr. Kenny came to the Fifth Avenue Hotel on Friday last. After he had fully informed himself upon the case, Mr. Davidson proposed to Dr. Kenny that if he would perform an operation successfully he would pay him $2,000. Dr. Kenny agreed to the terms and at once began active treatment to secure the desired result. Through Saturday, Sunday and Monday the treatment was pursued actively. On Tuesday the patient complained of intense pain and she evidently suffered greatly. Dr. Kenny remained with Mrs. Davidson all night on Tuesday. A great portion of the night he sat upon the bed and encouraged her. Often she took her hand and said: "Mamie, you'll be all right in a very short time."

Early yesterday morning Mrs. Davidson was relieved. She was in a very exhausted state but suffered pain no longer. The doctor prescribed an anodyne, and soon afterward she dropped into a refreshing slumber. Dr. Kenny then advised Mr. Davidson to procure a cigar-box, wrap the child's body in a piece of paper, place in the box something heavy enough to sink it and its contents, and throw the whole into the river. A cigar-box was procured, and Mr. Davidson hastily snatched up a piece of brown paper from the table and wrapped the body in it. On this piece of paper, written in lead pencil, was Mr. Davidson's name and address. It had been wrapped around some article that had been purchased and sent to their room in the hotel. After the package had been squeezed into the cigar box Mr. Davidson placed a soap-dish and a heavy match-safe in the box. Then the lid was closed and securely fastened.

"Well, now what will we do with it?" asked Mr. Davidson of the doctor.

"Take it down and throw it overboard," answered Dr. Kenny.

Soon afterward Dr. Kenny went to his home in Paterson. Mr. Davidson remained in attendance upon his wife all the morning. About noon he started down town, taking his box with him. He took a Twenty-third-st. car, and rode to the ferry at the North River. Reaching the foot of West Twenty-third-st., he thought that he would make everything doubly sure by taking one of the ferry-boats and throwing the box into the river when somewhere about the middle of the stream. He took the boat and threw the box into the river after the ferry-boat was about half way across. The tide swept the box down stream and finally into the slip near the Iron Pier. Mr. Davidson then returned to the hotel and told his wife what he had done. She was too weak to be much interested in what he said, and did not seem to appreciate the situation at all.

Inspector Byrnes sent for Coroner Brady and explained the whole case to him. Mr. Davidson was taken to the Police Central Office, and made a full confession. It was then decided that it was a matter of importance to get Dr. Kenny into the city. So Mr. Davidson wrote the following dispatch at the Inspector's dictation:

"Come to hotel immediately. Very important," and signed his name to it. This was sent to Dr. Kenny at once. Not having seen the doctor, Detectives Heidelberg and Rogers secured a room opposite that of Mr. Davidson and placed themselves there to watch for his arrival. Coroner Brady also issued a warrant for the arrest of Dr. Kenny, and Detective-Sergeants Adams and McNaught were sent with it to the doctor's house in Fair-st., Paterson.

As soon as Dr. Kenny came to the door of Mr. Davidson's room he was arrested, taken to Police Headquarters and locked up. Mr. Davidson appears to be about twenty-three years of age, and Mrs. Davidson about twenty. Inspector Byrnes called Police Surgeon Dorn and sent him to Mrs. Davidson's to investigate her condition and to take any steps he might deem necessary for her health and recovery. Dr. Dorn reported that she was doing as well as could be expected, although in a critical condition. She appeared to be very weak, but with good care and attention would probably recover, unless there was some accident, such as the setting-in of inflammation.

PERSISTENT BUT UNSUCCESSFUL.

A colored man went into a restaurant near the Brooklyn City Hall, the patrons of which are white people, and asked to be served with his breakfast about 8 o'clock a.m. yesterday. It is not the custom to serve colored persons there and he was so informed. His only reply was that he was hungry and wanted his breakfast, for which he would pay. When told that he would not be served he said he would sit there until he had something to eat. Sit there he did while other patrons came, ate and went; but he got nothing to eat. The proprietor was in a quandary. The obnoxious man would not go, he could not let him eat without losing some of his customers, and he could not eject the man without being liable to be sued for damages. After four hours had passed and a large number of persons had entered the restaurant and ordered their dinners, the smell of the food was too much for the famished negro and he departed; not without giving warning, however, that he would return at some other time and stay all day.
