

REBELS LESSER OF TWO EVILS, SAY AMERICANS

Declare that Wilson Sees in Carranza Only Man to Stop Bloodshed.

STAND BY THEIR GUNS

Villa and "First Chief" Patch Up Their Quarrel, and War Goes On.

LITTLE HOPE FOR MEDIATION

Army Leader Denies Serious Break with Provisional President in Message from Torreon.

VILLA DENIES BREAK WITH THE FIRST CHIEF

In answer to a query, after the news was received of his break with Carranza, Gen. Villa yesterday sent the following reply concerning his plans for the immediate future:

"Torreon, Mex., June 17. "Editor Herald, "Washington, U. S. A.: "In answer to your message, I am going to the front of the division of the North and continue to march on the City of Mexico as commander-in-chief. (Signed.) "FRANCISCO VILLA." Gen. Villa sent a second message late last night, which read: "The news is absolutely false that Carranza and myself have had any misunderstanding. We are still in contact and doing our utmost against the usurper's government. I am still at the head of the Northern division, and am its general-in-chief. (Signed.) "FRANCISCO VILLA."

By SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.

Niagara Falls, Ontario, June 18.—Carranza and the rebels offer the only escape from war and bloodshed in Mexico. This is the chief argument advanced by the American delegates at the Mediation Conference in support of President Wilson's espousal of the constitutionalists, according to a statement made public tonight by Justice Lamar and Frederick W. Lehmann, the American representatives. The American statement is in reply to the Mexican note given to the press yesterday by Senors Bahaso, Elguero, and Rodriguez, in which they attacked the Wilson scheme of turning them over to the rebels. The Americans also urge a rebel provisional government, on the ground that it is a "neutral" executive was selected for provisional president the constitutionalists "would repudiate the man, and press forward with renewed zeal to Mexico City, with all the loss of life and blood that may involve."

Crisis is Near.

Despite dispatches from Washington that President Wilson had thrown over Carranza and turned to Villa, the American delegates made no mention of this new twist in the mediation today night. With the return of Dr. Romulo B. Naon, the Argentine mediator, tomorrow the next session will mark the crisis of the peace making negotiations. Unless the Americans or Mexicans make some concession mediation is at an end. A rumor gained avenge tonight that the American delegates had been instructed by Washington to look for some constitutionalist not identified with the military operations of the rebels, who would span the breach between Villa and Carranza. Further than this the American delegates will not go until the Mexicans break away from the conference. The statement issued by the American mediators was, in part, as follows: "The American representatives do not think it is conducive to the interests of mediation to publish during its pendency the various plans or the contentions of the parties, but as the Mexican representatives have given out a formal statement of their objections to the appointment of a constitutionalist as provisional president because among other things, an election conducted by such a provisional government would not represent the will of the Mexican people, it has been thought necessary to give a part of the answer to the letter written by Mr. Rabasa. Defeat the President. "In that answer the American representatives utterly repudiate any suggestion that the American President has any intent of destroying the electoral liberty of Mexico and insist that the Mexican representatives entirely misunderstand the motives and objects of the President, who recognizes the facts and the past successes of the constitutionalist army undisputed evidence of approval of the Mexican people. But he also sees that the full triumph of that army means an indefinite continuance of

SUIT HELD BORDEN'S TRIP

Served with Papers in Divorce Action on Eve of Sailing.

New York, June 18.—On the eve of his departure for Europe, Gall Borden, multi-millionaire milk king, today was served with notice of a suit for divorce brought by his wife at Los Angeles, Cal. This is the second time that Mrs. Borden has sued for divorce. She charges desertion. The couple have warred for several years over their daughter, Ramona, who caused a sensation last April, a year, by fleeing from a private school at Pompton Lake, N. J. She later declared that her mother had caused her sudden departure and that Mrs. Borden had made all the arrangements.

LISTS ESCAPADES OF PRETTY WIDOW

Mrs. Helen Winters Gives Particulars in Suit Against Mrs. Darst.

ALLEGES ALIENATION

Wife of Dayton Millionaire, Now Re-united with Husband, Asks $250,000 Heart Balm.

A bill of particulars disclosing the joint travels of Valentine Winters, the Dayton, Ohio, millionaire tractor magnate, and Mrs. T. Susan Huffman Darst, a beautiful widow and society woman of the same city, was filed in the District Supreme Court yesterday by Mrs. Helen Clegg Winters in her suit against Mrs. Darst for $250,000 for alienation of her husband's affections. The particulars were filed in response to a demand from Mrs. Darst's counsel.

Their travels began in the summer of 1909, according to the bill, and ended in September, 1912. Where or how Mrs. Winters got the names of places visited by her husband and Mrs. Darst and the dates of the visits is not disclosed. The fact that Mr. and Mrs. Winters were reconciled sometime ago is considered significant.

Placed They Visited.

- The places visited and dates are listed as follows: At Dayton, Ohio, between July 15, 1909, and December 14, of the same year. At El Paso and San Antonio, Tex., between January 15 and February 1, 1910. At Washington, D. C., between December 3 and 10, 1910. At New York City, between January 1 and January 29, 1911. At sea and in France, between January 29 and March 15, 1911. At Kansas City, Mo., between May 25 and June 1, 1911. At Manchester, Vt., and in New York City, between July 15, 1910, and September 6, 1910. At Saranac Lake, N. Y., between July 3 and 14, 1910. At New York City, between February 25 and March 19, 1910. At sea and in Belgium, March 19 to April 10, 1910. At Neuilly-sur-Seine, a suburb of Paris, between April 10, 1910, and September 23, 1912. In France, Italy, Algiers, Germany, Switzerland, and Belgium, between September 23, 1912, and February 20, 1913. At Paris, France, between March 6 and 13, 1913.

Where They Lived.

Places where they are alleged to have lived together and dates are listed thus: At sea and in France between January 29, 1911, and March 15, 1911. At Neuilly-sur-Seine between April 10, 1910, and September 23, 1912. While traveling together in France, Italy, Algiers, Germany, Switzerland, and Belgium between September 23, 1912, and February 20, 1913. The suit was filed February 27, through Attorney Charles L. Fralley and A. R. Worthington, while Mrs. Darst was staying at the New Willard. The defendant is well known in this city. Papers were served on her at the hotel.

DR. SUN YAT SEN BEHIND SCENES

Special Cable to The Washington Herald. Shanghai, China, June 18.—China is on the eve of another revolution. Every day word reaches here of new uprisings, and today a private dispatch to the British legation states that 20,000 Chinese from the Straits Settlements are on their way to Swatow, together with an army of 10,000 other rebellious Chinese, and will try to overthrow the authority of President Yuan Shi Kai in Southern China. Behind the scenes in all the revolutionary activity in China is seen the hand of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, former provisional president and leader of the recent ill-fated revolution against the present ill-fated president against the present ill-fated president against the present ill-fated president.

LEFT FORTUNE BEHIND HIM.

New York, June 18.—Jack Jenkins, oysterman for two years on the United Fruit Company's steamship Pastores, went ashore at Port Linton two months ago and failed to return, so the ship sailed without him. Today the kitchen of the ship was being remodeled preparatory to her sailing Saturday and it was necessary to draw aside Jack's well-battered old bench. Beneath it the carpenters found a little cubby hole which they searched. A handful of pins was brought forth and then another handful. Some of them are declared perfect specimens. Their value is estimated at $15,000. It is supposed Mrs. Jenkins found them in the oysterman he had spent by thousands. They were turned over to the care of General Manager E. R. Grayson.

DR. SUN YAT SEN (upper) and YUAN SHI KAI, President of China (lower), principal figures in new revolution which is threatening Land of the Dragon.

MISS MORTON SECRETLY WEDS YOUNG VIRGINIAN

Chicago Heiress Bride of Roger Bayly, Warrenton Friend of the Couple Learns.

HER FLIGHT STIRRED SOCIETY

Miss Helen Morton, Chicago heiress and housewife, was secretly married to Roger Bayly, of Delaplane, Va., in the Windy City Wednesday. The story of a girl who fell in love with a man's horse, bought them, rode them in Washington, then fell in love with him and ran away from home apparently to wed him, caused a great sensation in society of both Chicago and Washington, and a great deal of trouble to her father, Mark Morton, a few weeks ago. After the Washington horse show, where she established an acquaintance with young Bayly, Miss Morton made several trips between Washington and the Virginia town, where he lived, and negotiated the purchase of a stock farm and two horses. Being more clever than to solicit the cash from father, who had always "come across" for all of Miss Helen's whims, she borrowed money for the trip from a friend and wired father that she was staying with Miss Prudence Durand, who was quite ill, indeed. Father Morton investigated and found that Miss Prudence was in very healthy condition, and that daughter Helen was not to be located, though the telegraph operators all through the State were kept busy and railroad officials were called upon by Morton to help find his daughter. The family had heard about the Virginia horseman, and so the only conclusion forced itself upon them that the attractive Helen had run away to get married. The lawsuits began to fall on Miss Morton. She borrowed $1,000, which she put as first payment on a stock farm in Virginia, giving notes for the remainder of the $15,000, and she also purchased and promised to pay for two thoroughbred Virginia horses and, not keeping either contract for lack of funds, which Father Morton would not furnish, the young woman was sued. So far the cases have not come up for trial, and now they will fall out of the hands of the fair horsewoman to be taken up by her new husband.

CHINA ON THE EVE OF ANOTHER REVOLUTION

30,000 Rebels-Marching on Swatow Will Try to Wrest Southern Provinces from Yuan Shi Kai.

RACES CLAIMS EIGHT VICTIMS.

Two Dead and Six Injured as Result of Contest.

SOCIETY WOMAN HELD IN POISON PEN CASE

United States Springs Surprise in Ypsilanti Mystery, Arresting Miss Helen McCready.

RIDES INTO A COW.

Motorcyclist Sounded His Horn, but Revival Failed to Move.

ASQUITH BOWS TO MILITANTS

Consents to Receive Delegation from Sylvia Pankhurst's Organization.

BOMB MISSES CZAR; KILLS TWO

Imperial Family of Russia is Near Death in Attempt to Blow Up Train.

PILOT CARS SHATTERED

Twenty-eight Injured in Assassin's Attempt—Probers Suspect High Official.

Special Cable to The Washington Herald. St. Petersburg, June 18.—Czar Nicholas, the Czarina and their five children narrowly escaped assassination today at Tshudovo, near Kishineff. A dynamite bomb, placed to destroy the Royal Imperial train, exploded under the pilot train immediately ahead of that bearing the royal family. Two persons were killed and twenty-eight injured. The bomb, which evidently was intended to wipe out the entire ruling family of Russia, wrecked the mail train ahead of the Imperial special, overturned the locomotive and hurled the cars from the tracks. The Czar and his family were returning to the summer palace from a visit to King Charles of Roumania at Kustendje, with a retinue of servants and a numerous bodyguard of soldiers.

WINS BY DEMONSTRATION

Released from Jail Half Starved, She Lies on Steps of Parliament.

MISS MORTON SECRETLY WEDS YOUNG VIRGINIAN

Chicago Heiress Bride of Roger Bayly, Warrenton Friend of the Couple Learns.

HER FLIGHT STIRRED SOCIETY

Miss Helen Morton, Chicago heiress and housewife, was secretly married to Roger Bayly, of Delaplane, Va., in the Windy City Wednesday. The story of a girl who fell in love with a man's horse, bought them, rode them in Washington, then fell in love with him and ran away from home apparently to wed him, caused a great sensation in society of both Chicago and Washington, and a great deal of trouble to her father, Mark Morton, a few weeks ago. After the Washington horse show, where she established an acquaintance with young Bayly, Miss Morton made several trips between Washington and the Virginia town, where he lived, and negotiated the purchase of a stock farm and two horses. Being more clever than to solicit the cash from father, who had always "come across" for all of Miss Helen's whims, she borrowed money for the trip from a friend and wired father that she was staying with Miss Prudence Durand, who was quite ill, indeed. Father Morton investigated and found that Miss Prudence was in very healthy condition, and that daughter Helen was not to be located, though the telegraph operators all through the State were kept busy and railroad officials were called upon by Morton to help find his daughter. The family had heard about the Virginia horseman, and so the only conclusion forced itself upon them that the attractive Helen had run away to get married. The lawsuits began to fall on Miss Morton. She borrowed $1,000, which she put as first payment on a stock farm in Virginia, giving notes for the remainder of the $15,000, and she also purchased and promised to pay for two thoroughbred Virginia horses and, not keeping either contract for lack of funds, which Father Morton would not furnish, the young woman was sued. So far the cases have not come up for trial, and now they will fall out of the hands of the fair horsewoman to be taken up by her new husband.

FINDING BRYAN OUT, 2 Doves BUILD NEST NEAR DANIELS' OFFICE

Emblems of Peace Start New Home in the Eaves of State, War, and Navy Building.

RACES CLAIMS EIGHT VICTIMS.

Two Dead and Six Injured as Result of Contest.

SOCIETY WOMAN HELD IN POISON PEN CASE

United States Springs Surprise in Ypsilanti Mystery, Arresting Miss Helen McCready.

RIDES INTO A COW.

Motorcyclist Sounded His Horn, but Revival Failed to Move.

ASQUITH BOWS TO MILITANTS

Consents to Receive Delegation from Sylvia Pankhurst's Organization.

VIRGINIA BANKERS IN SESSION

Open Three Days' Convention at Old Point Comfort.

Fort Monroe, Va., June 18.—The twenty-first annual convention of the Virginia Bankers' Association opened here today. The session will last three days. Two hundred members are in attendance. This morning was devoted to hearing reports of officers and committees, including the committee on agriculture and financial development and education. In the afternoon an address on "Developing a Bank's Business by Advertising" was made by Fred E. Ellsworth, manager of the Department of new business, of the Guaranty Trust Company, of New York.

ASQUITH BOWS TO MILITANTS

Consents to Receive Delegation from Sylvia Pankhurst's Organization.

WINS BY DEMONSTRATION

Released from Jail Half Starved, She Lies on Steps of Parliament.

MISS MORTON SECRETLY WEDS YOUNG VIRGINIAN

Chicago Heiress Bride of Roger Bayly, Warrenton Friend of the Couple Learns.

HER FLIGHT STIRRED SOCIETY

Miss Helen Morton, Chicago heiress and housewife, was secretly married to Roger Bayly, of Delaplane, Va., in the Windy City Wednesday. The story of a girl who fell in love with a man's horse, bought them, rode them in Washington, then fell in love with him and ran away from home apparently to wed him, caused a great sensation in society of both Chicago and Washington, and a great deal of trouble to her father, Mark Morton, a few weeks ago. After the Washington horse show, where she established an acquaintance with young Bayly, Miss Morton made several trips between Washington and the Virginia town, where he lived, and negotiated the purchase of a stock farm and two horses. Being more clever than to solicit the cash from father, who had always "come across" for all of Miss Helen's whims, she borrowed money for the trip from a friend and wired father that she was staying with Miss Prudence Durand, who was quite ill, indeed. Father Morton investigated and found that Miss Prudence was in very healthy condition, and that daughter Helen was not to be located, though the telegraph operators all through the State were kept busy and railroad officials were called upon by Morton to help find his daughter. The family had heard about the Virginia horseman, and so the only conclusion forced itself upon them that the attractive Helen had run away to get married. The lawsuits began to fall on Miss Morton. She borrowed $1,000, which she put as first payment on a stock farm in Virginia, giving notes for the remainder of the $15,000, and she also purchased and promised to pay for two thoroughbred Virginia horses and, not keeping either contract for lack of funds, which Father Morton would not furnish, the young woman was sued. So far the cases have not come up for trial, and now they will fall out of the hands of the fair horsewoman to be taken up by her new husband.

FINDING BRYAN OUT, 2 Doves BUILD NEST NEAR DANIELS' OFFICE

Emblems of Peace Start New Home in the Eaves of State, War, and Navy Building.

RACES CLAIMS EIGHT VICTIMS.

Two Dead and Six Injured as Result of Contest.

SOCIETY WOMAN HELD IN POISON PEN CASE

United States Springs Surprise in Ypsilanti Mystery, Arresting Miss Helen McCready.

RIDES INTO A COW.

Motorcyclist Sounded His Horn, but Revival Failed to Move.

ASQUITH BOWS TO MILITANTS

Consents to Receive Delegation from Sylvia Pankhurst's Organization.

COLONEL TO RUN FOR PRESIDENCY IN 1916 AS BULL MOOSE ONLY

Will Not Accept Nomination for New York Governorship This Fall, He Declares, in Remarkable Interview on Departure for United States—No Coalition of Progressives and G. O. P., Indicates Colonel, Who Condemns the Works of Both Republican and Democratic Administrations.

COMES BACK TO AMERICA AS PROPHET TO LEAD PEOPLE OUT OF THE DESERT

Special Cable to The Washington Herald. Southampton, June 18.—Even sooner than was anticipated, Col. Roosevelt "boiled over" today just before sailing for America aboard the Imperator, and announced some of the most important things he will and will not do on his arrival in New York. Briefly summarized, here are his intentions and his reasons therefor. He will not: 1. Run for the governorship of New York, because he has not time to be sidetracked in Albany again. WILL MAKE NO CAMPAIGN. 2. Accept the nomination for the United States Senatorship, because the suggestion is palpably preposterous. 3. Make any speech-making campaign for any party or individual, himself included, because his physician will not let him—but He will accept the Progressive nomination for the Presidency, because he is convinced the country is in a most unhealthy state, and the majority of the men of the nation want him to cure it. Obviously the man who has been declaring many times a day that he would make no statement on politics until after his return home could not forget completely these declarations—and he proved he had them in mind by forbidding the correspondent a dozen times during the interview to quote him on subjects about which he talked positively enough to make impossible his doing anything less than once more coming before the nation as a candidate for President. In the beginning the colonel fenced with the interviewer, his statements being weighed carefully and delivered slowly, but presently he waxed enthusiastic and plunged ahead with his old-time vigor, entire and joyfully regardless of the printed consequences. It was in this frame of mind that Col. Roosevelt dropped the mask of imperturbability he has been wearing in the role of geographer ever since he landed in England, and let it be seen that his real purpose in giving the American voters another chance to hand over to him the reins of government, springs primarily from his conviction that the hour of his return is at hand. Will Show Up "Erelong." His appeal may be divided into two general parts. First, he is going to show up what he characterized as the "frightful errors," not only of the Wilson, but of the Taft administration—and if he says publicly one-half of what he said privately today, his exposition of the faults of those two administrations will develop into unquestionably the most sensational and bitterest attack American politics ever has known. Second, for every item of destructive criticism he has a remedy which he says will prove constructive and practical. Among the frightful errors the also called them "botches" of the present administration, Col. Roosevelt pointed out three, as largely responsible for the present condition of affairs. 1. Lofty idealism. 2. The entire diplomatic handling of the canal question. 3. The persecution of big business. Not the least interesting feature of his viewpoint is the fact that he counts upon the accumulated records of the Taft and Wilson administrations as fully deserved.

THIEVES LOOT HALL OF POLICE CHIEFS

Steal Handcuffs and Revolvers from Building Where Guardians of Law Are Holding Their Sessions.

LINENS FOR "COPS" IN SUMMER

Special to The Washington Herald. Grand Rapids, Mich., June 18.—While 250 police chiefs representing the largest cities in the United States were taking an outing on Lake Michigan today thieves broke into the Coliseum, where the guardians of the law are holding their convention, and stole a number of pairs of handcuffs and several revolvers. Officers will be alerted tomorrow and a date set for next year's convention. Hal Sylvester, of Washington, undoubtedly will be re-elected president. If Superintendent Carr, of Grand Rapids, resigns as secretary, as is rumored, Michael Cassada, of Elmira, N. Y., probably will succeed him. Michael Regan, of Buffalo, will be re-elected vice president. Fred Gallagher, of Montclair, N. J., chairman of the executive committee, will report the revised honor roll of the association tomorrow. William J. Burns' name will not appear on the new list. Official action on the recommendations will follow the presentation of Fred Gallagher's report. On the trip about the lake today Chief Edward R. Moore, of Roanoke, Va., recommended that all patrolmen be furnished with linen uniforms during the summer months. Chiefs from many cities declared that they would attempt to have Moore's idea endorsed by their commissioners. Moore believes Roanoke will establish a precedent in this matter this summer.

FIRE SWEEPS GLASGOW DOCKS.

Damage Estimated at $2,500,000. Done to City's Water-front.

Special Cable to The Washington Herald. Glasgow, Scotland, June 18.—The greatest conflagration in the history of Glasgow swept the waterfront today, doing damage estimated at $2,500,000. The fire broke out upon the Kingtown docks on the banks of the Clyde, and soon the enormous docks, with their freight sheds and thousands of tons of freight, were destroyed. Half a dozen ships, which were moored alongside the docks, caught fire, and several were burned to the water's edge. All of the fire fighting strength of the city was rushed into the shipping district to save adjoining docks and warehouses while fireboats poured thousands of tons of water upon the blazing quays and the burning ships. For a time it looked as if the conflagration would roll along the entire waterfront, eating up the six miles of docks along the Clyde. Hundreds of stevedores and policemen were pressed into service as volunteer firefighters. In the extent of its mercantile, Glasgow is surpassed by few cities in the world.

ASCENDS 6,515 FEET WITH TEN.

St. Petersburg, June 18.—A new altitude record for an aeroplane carrying eleven persons was established today by Aviator Sikorski, who ascended 6,515 feet with ten passengers.

CONGRESS IN BRIEF.

SENATE. Discussion of Indian appropriation bill consumed nearly all Senate's time. John J. Camden, of Kentucky, was sworn in to complete the expired term of the late Senator W. O. Bradley. Senator Fletcher, of Florida, introduced bill incorporating the Chamber of Commerce of the United States of America. Secretary of State Bryan said Charles A. Douglas, attorney for the Nicaraguan government, appeared before Committee on Foreign Relations and continued their argument concerning proposed treaty with Nicaragua. Adjourned until noon today.

HOUSE.

House began debate on report from Elections Committee reweaving of Mississippi, and seating of his Democratic contestant, Michael J. Gill. Debate was not concluded. Secretary of Treasury McAdoo, in transmitting deficiency estimates amounting to $2,000,000 for various departments, included recommendation of Internal Revenue Commissioner for broader inequalitarian powers over books and accounts of persons and corporations and associations making returns under the income tax. Wright impeachment investigation was resumed by Subcommittee of Judiciary Committee. Adjourned until noon today.