

On dark clouds I see the outlines of a storm. And the low clouds that hover in the sky...

Long the foreboding led for the flag of the Free. And bravely it flung its protest against...

At rest from his slumber, our Washington slumberer. With other true spirits who sleep for our nation...

Let us watch our sleep, or do it on our feet. For our Union, God and God's will be true...

A deep note of warning and sorrow is heard. From the heart of the nation, a cry is heard...

On the three-bellied gourd, still it looks at the conflict internal while fields below burn.

Ye sons of the South, would ye slaves be free? Then bonds to the North, your future we aim!

On the hills of the North, your future we aim. The best blood of the South, by the storm unquench'd...

Hold Gadsden, true and true, by your nation's aid. For the flag of the South, we have them here...

Be tempted in that by separate men.

CALIFORNIA'S DEMAND FOR ADMISSION INTO THE UNION.

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled.

The undersigned, Senators and Representatives elect from the State of California, have the honor in pursuance of a requirement in the Constitution...

In performing this duty, the undersigned do not but to state that they have learned with a astonishment and sincere regret, since their arrival...

THE IRISH REVOLUTION.

To the Editor of the Tribune.

The British Parliament that legislates for Ireland has been at work nearly a month, and from the way in which the great majority of the Irish members...

During the said Parliamentary month, there were several occasions on which you in America—reading the flourish of trumpets with which many of our "Patriotic Members" were returned to Parliament...

The undersigned have not proposed to weary you by a long and tedious recital of the details of the proceedings of the Convention, but to state in a few words...

1. That the Convention was convened at San Francisco on the 20th day of January, 1849, and that it was organized on the 21st day of the same month...
