

THE STAR'S DAILY PICTORIAL PAGE

THE EVENING STAR, WASHINGTON, D. C., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1922.

How Uncle Sam's forest rangers take care of themselves in the woods. When night overtakes the ranger, far from his headquarters, the one essential qualification is the ability to take care of himself in the woods. Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

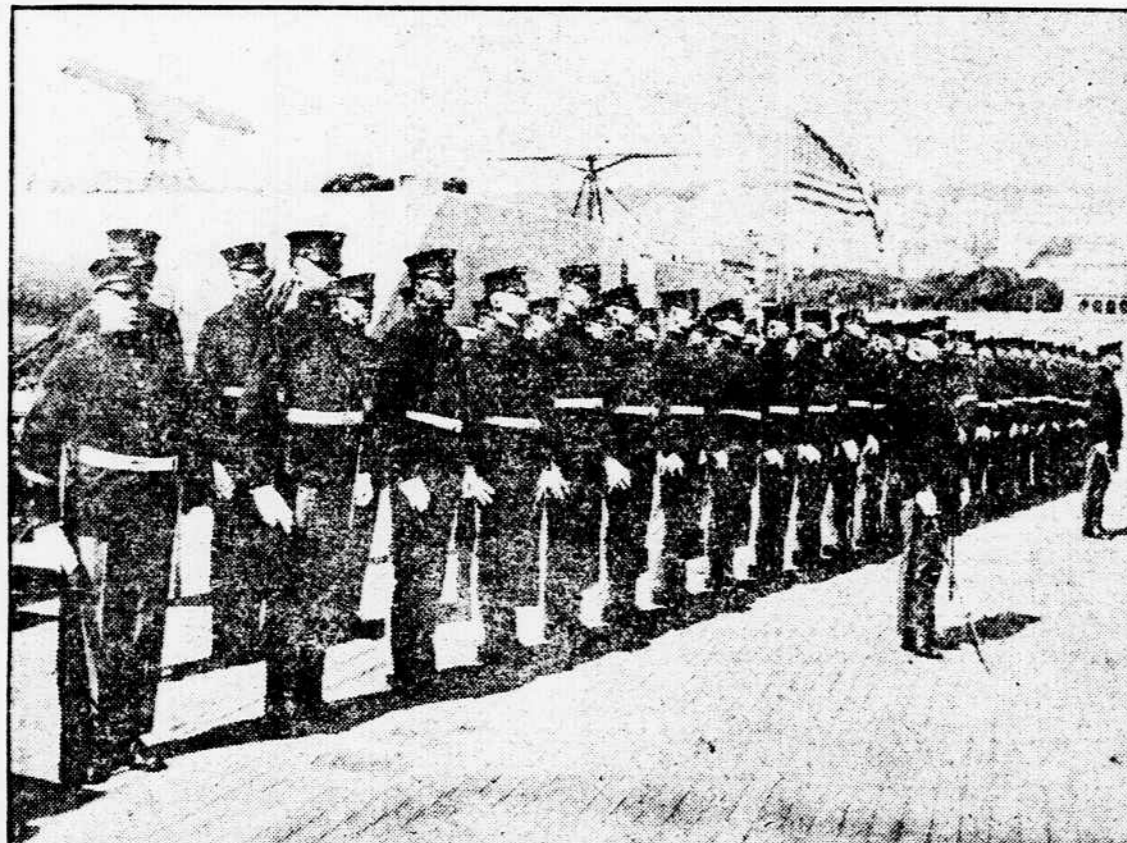

Stanislaus Indrikanov, Latvian, who claims to be the strongest man in the world, breaking a rock, nearly three inches thick, with his bare fist. Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

John G. Sharp, former ambassador to France, and Mrs. Sharp arrive in New York after a visit of several months in Paris. Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and family and William J. Burns, photographed during the English novelist's recent visit in the United States. Doyle's article, "Our American Adventure," starts in today's Star and will be continued in the daily and Sunday Star. Copyright by Keystone.

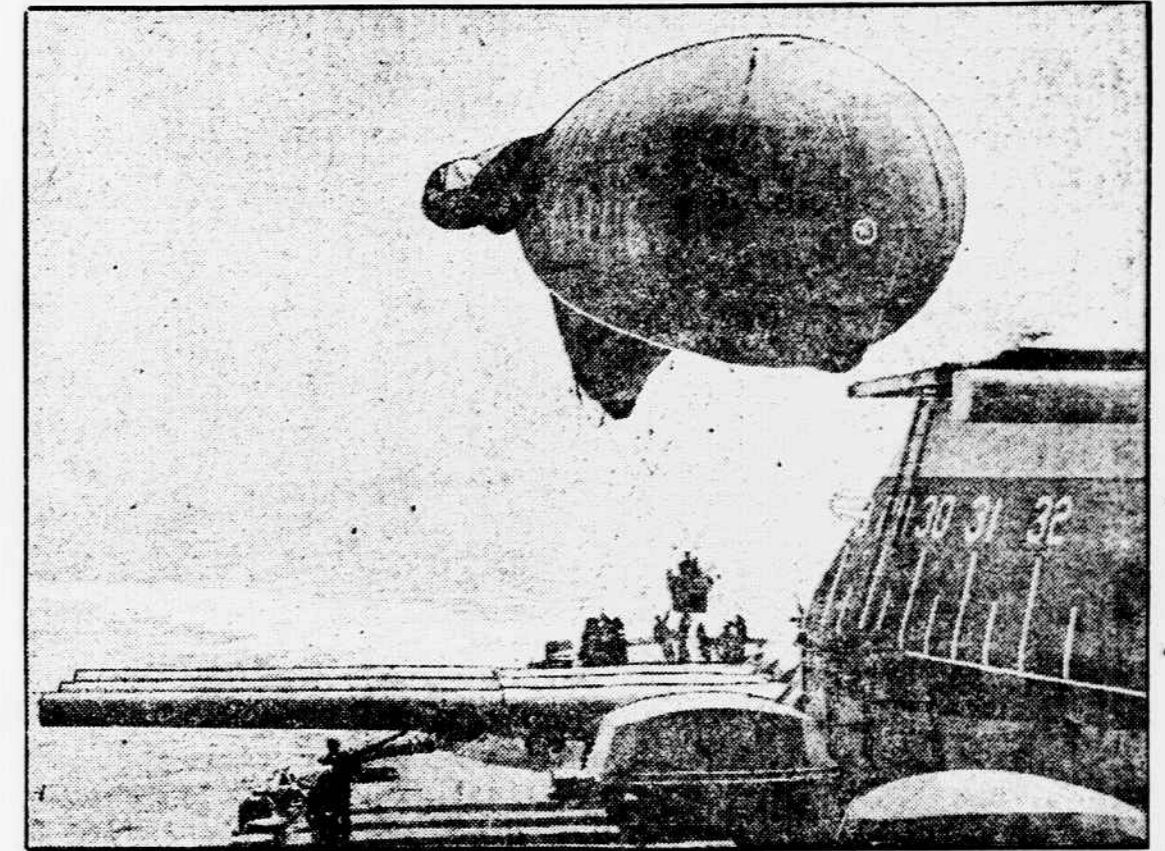

United States Marines afloat in the Mediterranean on Vice Admiral A. T. Long's flagship Utah. The sea-soldiers have visited every port on the Mediterranean and are looking forward to the trip home. U. S. Official Photo.

Valdemaras Carneckis, new charge d'affaires of the legation of Lithuania, who arrived in Washington recently. National Photo.

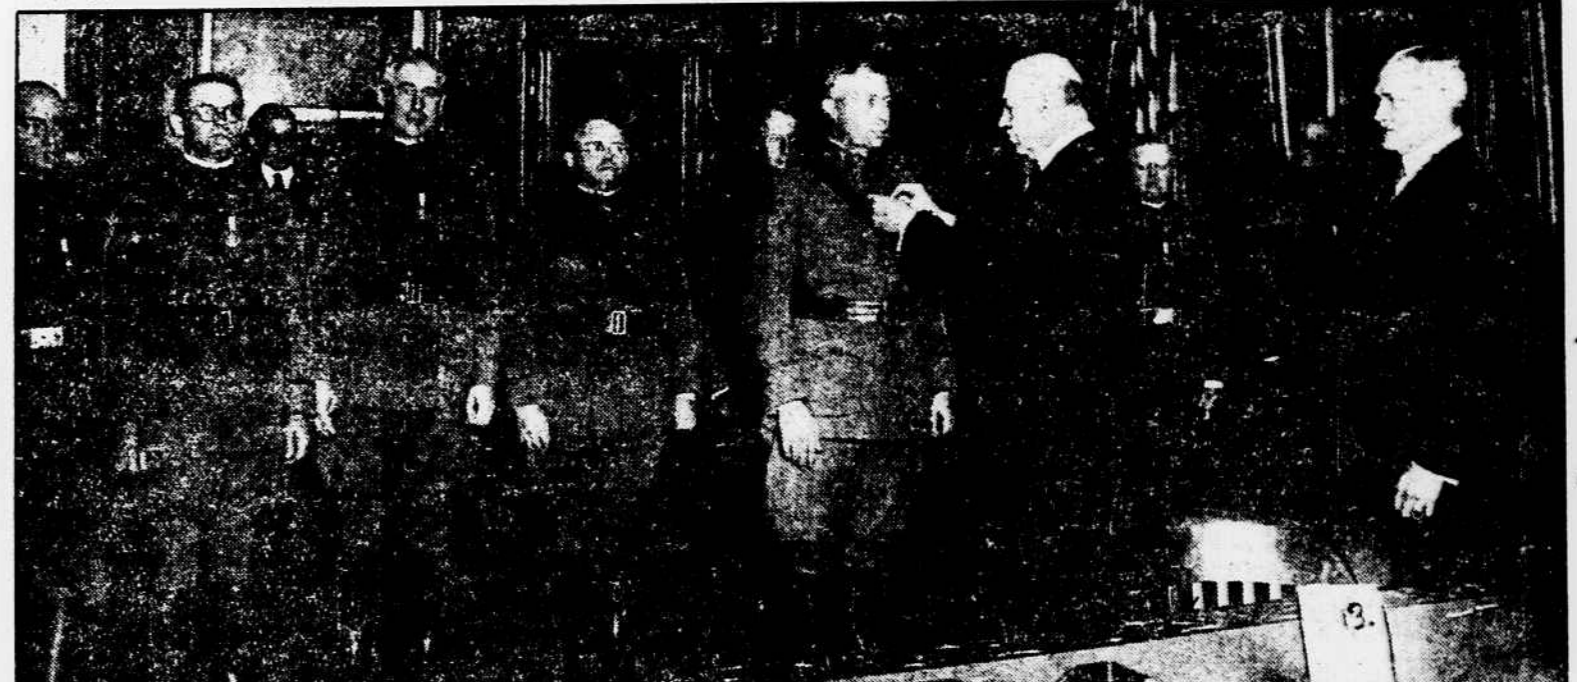

Mme. Conde d'Avila of Mexico, who represents her country at the children's hygiene conference in Washington. She is chairman of the foreign affairs committee of the Women's Universal Alliance. Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

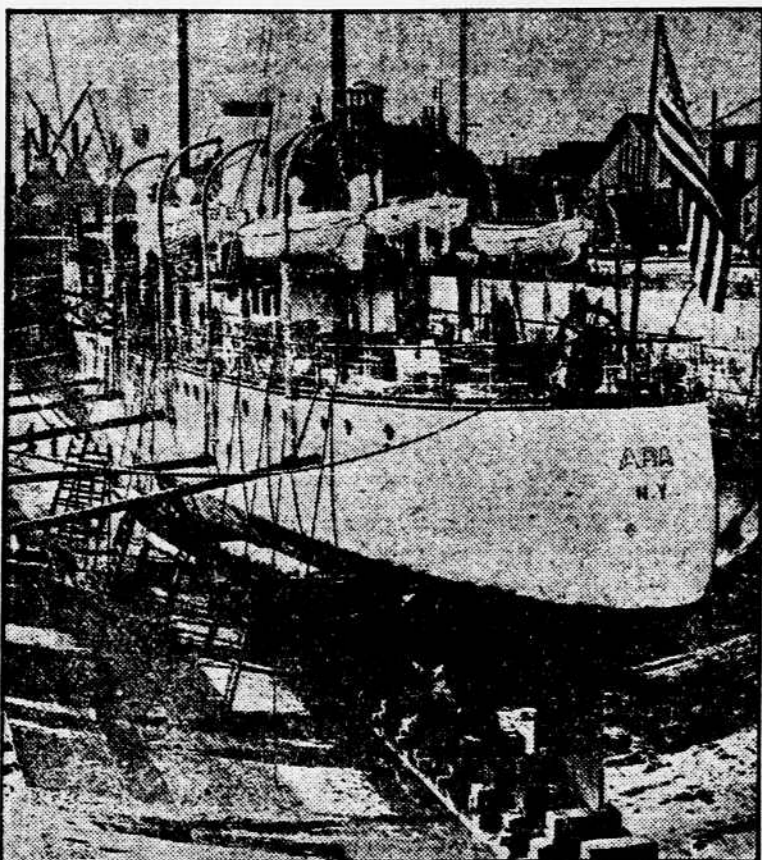

No more battoons to ride on battleships, according to a Washington decision. The practice of towing the captives behind fighting vessels during battle practice must be discontinued. Photo shows quarterdeck of U. S. S. New Mexico as observation balloon was about to be sent up. Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

A resident Harding's emergency Near East committee, photographed at meeting in New York yesterday. Those present were Dr. R. E. Speer, Robert J. Cuddihy, John Barton Payne, Will Hays, Dr. John C. Barton, Mrs. John French, Dr. John R. Mott, John B. Baker, B. Achenson, Charles V. Vickery and Charles S. McFarlan. Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

Secretary of War Weeks, assisted by Gen. Pershing, yesterday decorated American officers for distinguished services in France during the world war. The ceremonies took place at the War Department and the photo shows Secretary Weeks pinning medal on Maj. John H. Adams. Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

The most luxurious steam yacht in the world, owned by Commodore W. K. Vanderbilt, in dry dock at Southampton. The boat carries a crew of forty, can do thirteen knots an hour and has a wireless outfit as strong as that of the S. S. Majestic. Wide World Photo.

Herbert Hunter, who will take a team of American and National League base ball players to the orient. The team will meet the university teams of Japan and other organizations, ending their trip in the Philippines. Copyright by Keystone.

This beautiful girl, nineteen years old, spent sixteen years on a sailing vessel and knew no woman until grown. She is Helen Jean Lowell, daughter of the captain of the vessel Minnie E. Cain. She has been thoroughly educated and also knows considerable about navigation and seamanship. Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

Latest picture of Marshal Pilsudski, chief of state of Poland, who is being supported by the peasant party in the coming election. The conservative party has started a campaign in favor of Paderewski, the Polish pianist. Copyright by Keystone.

Dr. Henry E. Mosky of the Department of Agriculture, photographed in one of the six incubators for growing bacteria used in making tuberculin for testing cattle. Each incubator contains 2,500 flasks and each flask contains billions of bacilli. National Photo.