

MILK STRIKERS PUT TO ROUT BY POLICE

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 4 (I.N.S.).—The first clash between State troopers and striking dairy farmers in the Rochester area came today when 60 police routed a band of 40 strikers who attempted to dump a load of milk near Fowlerville.

The troopers beat off the gang with night sticks. No arrests were made. Six truckloads of milk bound for Rochester were reported dumped in widely scattered places.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 4 (I.N.S.).—The first fatality in the New York State milk strike came today when Henry Bortle, 50, Oneida farmer, succumbed to a heart attack while trying to beat off a group of striking milk farmers who had stopped the truck on which he was riding. The were trying to dump his milk near Peterboro.

ALBANY, Aug. 4 (I.N.S.). With New York State in the grip of a milk strike, Gov. Herbert H. Lehman sent a message to the special session of the legislature today urging immediate creation of a legislative committee "to study the effects of the administration of the milk control law and to determine the wisdom of its continuance."

Governor Lehman told the lawmakers that almost from the day the milk control board was created by the 1933 legislature "dissatisfaction with its rulings and policies have been voiced by groups of milk producers."

Second Man Is Dead In Grave Pit Cave-in

Lester Rogers, 26, Alexandria, died last night in Alexandria Hospital of a fractured skull suffered in a gravel pit cave-in near Bailey's Cross Roads, which also cost the life of another.

Rogers and Eugene Kilby, 53, of Gum Springs, Va., were working with 23 other men taking gravel from the pit for State highway construction when the bank caved in upon them. The 23 escaped. Kilby's neck was broken by the force of the gravel, and he died instantly. Rogers was rushed to the hospital and died a short while later.

COPELAND HITS BRIDGE DELAY

Senator Royal S. Copeland (D.) of New York, has joined with Senator William H. King, Democratic chairman of the Senate District Committee, in criticizing delay in making funds available for a new Calvert Street bridge.

Senator Copeland, who also is a member of the Senate District Committee, made his position clear when he asserted that the present bridge is unsafe and that Budget Director Lewis W. Douglas should grant the request of the District Commissioners and permit them to use surplus funds for the new bridge.

Douglas turned down the Commissioner's request recently, holding that the necessary money might be made available by the Public Works Administration.

FLOOD KILLS 2, 5 MISSING

DENVER, Aug. 4 (I.N.S.). With two known dead, five missing, and damage estimated at more than $1,000,000, Denver today dug out from under the flotsam of the worst flood in half a century.

Check-up of persons living in the 30-mile swath cut by the savage torrent released when Castlewood Dam—a huge irrigation project—gave way after a cloudburst, revealed that except for the two known dead and the five persons missing, others had been warned in time to escape to higher ground.

Two unidentified gold prospectors, camped on the banks of Cherry Creek near Franktown, immediately below the dam, were missing.

An unidentified family of three, camped near Parker, farther down the flood's course, was missing.

Tom Casey, 83, of Denver, was drowned when he failed to heed warnings and escape from the home near the creek before the swirling water struck. Mrs. Berthe Catlin, 24, Page City, Kan., was drowned when she was thrown into the water by a frightened horse when she and Mrs. Marion Doling tried to escape the flood at Cherry Valley ranch, near Franktown. Mrs. Dowling escaped.

Balbo Gives Up Ireland Hop, To Return via Azores

ROME, Aug. 4 (I.N.S.).—Gen. Italo Balbo, leader of the Italian air armada, which has waited at Shoal Harbor, Newfoundland, nine days for favorable weather to continue its homeward journey, has definitely abandoned plans to return to Italy by way of Valentia, Ireland, it was learned today.

Persistent bad weather along the proposed northern route was responsible for the decision, it was stated. Balbo will now bring his squadron of 24 seaplanes back to Italy by way of the Azores.

Officials here revealed that the flying general has ordered his supply ships to make plans to receive the armada along the southern route and that the time taken up in arranging for the change will make it impossible for the armada to leave Shoal Harbor before August 10.

Fog Over Irish Coast Changes Balbo's Plans

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (I.N.S.). Low-lying fog over the Irish coast, with no possibility of its early dissipation, was responsible for Gen. Italo Balbo's decision to abandon plans for a nonstop flight across the North Atlantic and choose the southern route instead, the Mackay Radio Company announced today.

Issues Statement

General Balbo, the company said, issued the following formal statement at Shoal Harbor, Newfoundland:

"The commander of the second Atlantic squadron informs that the meteorological office of the squadron had given a very favorable report of weather conditions all along the route.

"A start at dawn on the morning of August 4 was suggested because all information from land and marine observers was favorable.

"But from Valentia, Ireland, landing point of the squadron, reports were received of low-hanging fog which absolutely prevented the landing of the seaplanes.

"TO START AUGUST 10

"The information added that this low-hanging fog would be prevalent there for a few days. Due to this condition, the fact that 14 hours of daylight are needed for the flight, and the fact that the useful time limit for the return via the north is elapsed, the commander has given orders to the meteorological centers to move their base along the route by way of Azores to Lisbon.

"It is predicted that the entire organization will be completed along this route by the ninth of August and that the crossing would be made beginning the tenth."

STATISTIC UNIT JOBS SOUGHT

A stream of men and women stricken from the Federal payrolls on July 1 through operation of the marriage clause and other provisions, poured into the offices of the newly-created Central Statistical Board today in hopes of obtaining reinstatement in one of the 12 newly established Government agencies which will be affiliated with the board.

The board, created to cooperate with the National Recovery Administration, will draw from the discharged personnel of many independent agencies to fill its staff and will have the effect of necessitating an increased personnel in many agencies already operating and which can be filled without strict regard to civil service rules.

LINDYS 'BLIND' IN BAFFIN HOP

HOLSTENBORG, Greenland, Aug. 4 (I.N.S.).—Following a perilous flight to Baffin Land and back, Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh were ready today to go south to Julianehaab for further survey work.

The flying couple are surveying Greenland in anticipation of regular transatlantic aerial service. From Julianehaab, they plan to continue on to Angmassalik.

After flying across Davis Strait to Baffin Land and back, Colonel Lindbergh revealed he had been unable to land because of ice and fog, and that much of the distance he had flown blind.

NO WILD YEAST in Schlitz

THAT will interest those who have suffered ill effects from impure beer. For SCHLITZ in Brown Bottles will never harm anyone.

You may or may not know that yeast is vital to beer. Obviously the purer the yeast, the purer the beer—for sour soil never produced a sound crop.

Many, many years ago SCHLITZ scientists propagated a mother cell of absolutely pure yeast. In a carefully guarded culture lies one of the chief reasons for the full, rich ripeness of SCHLITZ in Brown Bottles.

Yeast contains an astonishingly active enzyme. This enzyme works best in pure, sound yeast. Good beer never comes from wild, weak, impure or stale yeast, or with uncontrolled enzymatic action.

Without pure yeast and enzyme control there can be no good beer. SCHLITZ has mastered the problem of enzyme control which has puzzled the best minds in the industry.

SCHLITZ in Brown Bottles is brewed under perfect enzyme control. That's why you like it. That's why it's so palatable—so brilliant—sparkling—rich and ripe. SCHLITZ is a predigested food.

The Brown Bottle protects its purity from the brewery to your glass. Drink it freely with full confidence that it is good and good for you. Try it today.

By the case or in the attractive SCHLITZ Handy Six. Ask your Dealer.
