Parker, Bridget & Co., Clothiers, 315 7th st.

Only waiting for the right kind of weather—and you. The store was never so full of the world's best in Clothing, for boy and man. Our platform—"Selling clothing on honor, telling the truth about it, and giving you back your money for the asking," has steadily pushed every month's business ahead of the corresponding month of a year ago. This building is already getting too small, but we shall have to ask you to put up with it for another year or two. A little crowding of pleasant people under pleasing circumstances won't hurt.

Don't fail to let your little boy or girl try for one of these three little ponies and carts we propose to give away. Particulars at the store.

CROQUET CHAMPIONS.

Some of the Games Played by Visiting and Local Experts.

The second day's contest of the second annual croquet tournament attracted a large crowd yesterday, to the grounds, corner of Rhode Island avenue and Ninth street northwest. The games played on the opening showed the skill of the contestants and that the play throughout would be close and exciting.

As a consequence those who expected fine playing were not disappointed. While some of the plays might be called "lucky" they occurred so often that the knowing ones termed them "scientific shots."

The latest arrivals are Mr. J. B. Bell, of Wilmington, Del.; Dr. Greenway, New York; H. G. Fay, ex-president National Association, and G. C. Strong, the national champion.

The games to-day promise to be of more than ordinary interest, and will be participated in by Dr. Veasy, of Wilmington, Del., and T. A. Harris, John Buckly, G. W. Johnson, and C. H. Edmunds, of Philadelphia. These gentlemen have a national reputation as croquet experts, and promise to make it lively for their opponents. The result of yesterday's contests was as follows:

First division—W. H. Wahly, city, won from D. D. Butler, Middletown, Conn.; J. B. Bell, Wilmington, Del.; D. A. Bean, city, and F. B. Holden, city. F. B. Holden won from J. B. Bell, Wilmington, Del. D. D. Butler, Middletown, won from F. B. Holden, city.

Second division—P. Coleman, city, won from C. J. Meyer and J. E. Johns, both of this city.

Third division—Joseph Adamson won from M. Thorne and T. D. Yeager. H. Wahly won from E. A. Ripley, T. D. Yeager, and Joseph Adamson. M. Thorne won from E. H. Ripley and H. Wahly. T. D. Yeager won from Joseph Bilbrough, Philadelphia.

The following are the entries up to date: First Division—G. C. Strong, New London, Conn.; H. J. Foy, Brooklyn; D. D. Butler, Connecticut; J. B. Bell, Wilmington, Del.; E. M. Baldwin, Danbury, Conn.; Dr. Greenway, New York, and B. A. Bean, F. B. Holden, and W. H. Wahly, city.

Second division—John Buckly and T. A. Harris, Philadelphia; Dr. Veasy, Wilmington, Del., and C. M. Bryan, P. Colman, L. E. Johns, C. J. Meyer, R. B. Catlin, and George S. Cooper, city.

Third division—Joseph Bilbrough, Joseph Adamson, J. A. Edmunds, F. M. Thompson, E. H. Ripley, H. Wahly, M. Thorne, and T. D. Yeager, city.

The contests will be continued daily during the remainder of the week, from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m.

This fact can never be suppressed: Prof. Field's worm powders are the best.

The Giants played better ball than the Senators yesterday and won by a score of 6 to 5.

Schmelz put his new find, Jimmie James, into the box and the youngster surprised the "fans" by putting them over in a way that shows a great future for him in the major league. James made quite a reputation in the Virginia League this season with the Petersburg Club and the heavy hitters of the New York team were unable to do very much with his deceptive curves.

"Dad" Clarke pitched for the Giants and while the Senators had but little difficulty in finding his delivery their hits were badly scattered and generally unproductive of runs. The "rooters" were given a run for their money in the last inning, when it looked as if the Senators would repeat their performance of yesterday and win out at the finish.

TRIED TO RUN IT.

McGuire opened up the inning by making a hit and going to first. "Baron" Selbach, who has not been doing much stick work of late, rapped out a two-bagger and Old Reliable trotted across the rubber. Cartwright made another safe one, scoring the "Baron." With two out and a man on second and only one run needed to tie the score Schmelz sent Anderson to the plate in the place of James in hopes that he could bat out a victory. The best Varney could do, however, was to fan the air three times and the game went to the visitors.

Demont, who is destined to become a fixture, played an exceptionally fine game at short and went after everything that came his way. He seems to be particularly unfortunate in his hits, however, as they are generally hard enough but always seem to fall into some fielder's hands.

Fuller opened up the game by walking to first on four bad ones. Tiernan also got a present and Shorty moved up a peg. VanHaltren went out, Crooks to Cartwright. Davis went out at first and Fuller scored. German hit to Demont, who threw the runner out at first. One run.

Brown, the first man for the Senators, went out at first. Joyce followed suit. Abbey flied out to Fuller.

German hit to Crooks and was an easy out at first. James failed to locate the plate and Stafford walked. Doyle hit for two bases, scoring Stafford. Doyle went out trying to steal third. Clarke went out, James to Cartwright. One run.

IN THE SECOND.

McGuire opened up the second by hitting into the bleachers for a homer. Selbach flied out to Fuller. Cartwright made a single and went to third on a passed ball. Crooks worked a base on Clarke by a slight touch on the arm with the ball. Demont fouled out to Doyle. James went out at first. One run.

Fuller hit for a clean single. Tiernan hit to Crooks and Fuller went out at second. Van Haltren struck out. G. Davis took a constitutional. Davis walked. German struck out. No runs.

Brown out at first, Stafford to Clarke. Joyce took first on balls. Abbey made a hit. McGuire went out on a fly to left.

James presented Stafford with a base. Doyle emulated his example. Clarke went out, Demont to Cartwright, Stafford scoring on the play. Fuller hit to Demont who fumbled the ball and Doyle scored. Tiernan hit to Demont and Fuller went out at the rubber. Tiernan went out at second. Two runs.

"Baron" Selbach went out on a high fly to Van. Cartwright hit a high fly to Tiernan. Crooks flied out to Davis.

Van walked. G. Davis hit to Demont, who touched second and then the runner out at first. Davis went out at first.

Demont went out at first. James out, Fuller to Clarke. Brown hit to Fuller and followed James' example.

German went out at first, Stafford bunted to Crooks and went out to Cartwright, Doyle went to first on four wide ones; Doyle went out trying to purloin second.

CLARK A LITTLE OFF.

Clark couldn't locate the plate, and Scrappy took first in consequence. Abbey hit to Fuller, forcing Joyce at second, McGuire made a hit, Abbey scored on Davis' error, Cartwright hit to Fuller scoring McGuire, Crooks struck out. Two runs.

Clark went out at first, Fuller went out on a fly to Abbey, Tiennan went out at first. No runs.

Demont went out at first, James out, Davis to Davis, Brown made a hit, Joyce reached first on Fuller's error, Abbey went out on a fly to Davis.

Van Haltreen walked. Davis went out at first, Davis went out on a fly to Abbey, German went to first on James' error and Van scored, Stafford hit for three bases, scoring German, Doyle struck out.

McGuire made a hit, Selbach hit for two bases and McGuire scored; Cartwright hit, scoring Selbach, Crooks flied out to Van, Demont went out to Stafford, Anderson closed the game by striking out. The score:

TIED THE CHAMPIONS.

Phillies and the Orioles Must Try It Again.

Baltimore, Sept. 24.—A rank throw by Sullivan, in the ninth, with two men out, let Keeler in and gave the champions the tieing run, after which Keefe called the game on account of darkness.

Four double plays were made by the home team, in three of which Jennings shared, and one of them he accomplished unaided. Attendance, 5,000. Score:

BOSTON WAS CHILDISH.

Did Not Try to Play and Gave the Game to Brooklyn.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 24.—The 1,800 persons who turned out to see the game between Boston and Brooklyn were badly paid for their trouble.

The game was a farce. Boston not caring to play, and allowed the home team to win almost as they pleased. Umpire Murray came to the rescue after the first half of the eighth inning by calling the game on account of darkness. The score:

NEARLY A SHUT-OUT.

St. Louis Managed to Get One Run From the Cincinnatis.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 24.—The feature of to-day's game was the narrow escape St. Louis made from quitting without a single score.

The Brown's executed another twist on the players when Cooley was put on third and Samuels acted as shortstop.

George Miller went behind the bat and Kissinger faced him. For Cincinnati Rhines and Vaughn occupied the points. The Browns and Reds will play two games Wednesday. Score:

FIRST CHOICES IN FRONT

Five Races Fell to the Share of the Talent.

LADY LISTER WAS PULLED

When the Flag Fell She Was Left Standing at the Post and the Jockey Was Promptly Ruled Off After the Race—Jockey Neary Brought Three Winners In.

The talent would have had a clean slate at Alexander Island yesterday but for the strong-armed exhibition that Perkins gave on Lady Lister in the second race. She was a 1 to 2 shot, and on form should have won in a gallop. The boy deliberately pulled her up at the start when the flag fell, and was left standing still at the post.

When he came back to the judges' stand after the race he was not given a chance to dismount before he received orders to "put on his clothes and get out of the gate."

The other five events were won by the first choices in easy fashion. After Lady Lister had been left at the post Columbus went on and won at odds of 10 to 1.

IN THE BETTING RING.

The change in the weather was a great relief to those who frequent the race track. It has been simply horrible in the betting ring, during the past week or so, but yesterday it was delightful and the attendance was very much larger than usual.

The usual number of books went on and they did a big day's business. They would have been just as well satisfied if the betting had been lighter, as some of them were nearly put out of business.

Jockey Neary had a lucky day, putting no less than three winners over the plate. He rode Fidget in the first event, C. O. D. in the third, and Grand Prix in the fifth. Neary has been down for a week, and was much missed, as he is one of the best boys at the track.

If Fidget could be gotten away from the post the opening event looked very easy for him. He opened up at 8 to 5, but was played so strongly that even money was the best attainable at the close. After a short delay at the post they got away to a good start and Fidget went to the front, and leading all the way, won easily from Pathway, who was second choice in the betting.

After Perkins had succeeded in getting left at the post with Lady Lister Columbus went after the money, and in a driving finish, got home first by a length from Cashmere, who was as much in front of Nemo.

ALL BACKED C. O. D.

The talent could see nothing in the third event but C. O. D., and backed him accordingly, his price going from 6 to 5 down to 3 to 5, at which he closed. Elizabeth and Tenacious cut out the running until well into the back stretch, where Neary carried C. O. D. to the front and at the end won handily from Elizabeth, with Samaritan third.

While Vent looked to be in a soft spot in the fourth race, some of the smart people did not see it that way and played Annie T. from fives down to two and a half to one. She never had a chance from the time the flag dropped; Vent going out and leading all the way, won in a gallop. Annie T. was second, two lengths before Humming Bird.

Old Grand Prix demonstrated that he is in pretty good shape by winning the fifth race in easy style. Prince John was the one played to beat him, but finished next to last. Belle G. was second with Pattie third.

Traitor again took the closing race. He closed a 3 to 5 chance and by rights should have been 1 to 20. He took command at the start and leading all the way won galloping from Avon, with Drizzle third.

Down the Line.

Catechism was a wild horse yesterday. He ran out in every break and finally got the best of his boy and ran away, making the circuit of the track once.

Westchester was pulled up after going half a mile. His legs are very bad and he can hardly stand up after going a little way.

Steve Stillwell's funeral will take place at 10 o'clock to-day. He will be buried at Greenwood cemetery, Brooklyn.

Assistant Secretary Schultz has been appointed secretary of the Virginia Jockey Club.

The Western Turf Congress will hold an important meeting on October 16. It is understood that they will take some action with regard to allowing the outlaws who have been reinstated by the Jockey Club to start on the Western tracks.

Fred Lucas, who has been booking at the outlaw tracks under the name of the Clifford Club, has gone to Oakley, where he will make books for Johnny Hill.

Annie T. and Humming Bird ran a corking good race to the turn from home where the former drew away and finished second two lengths to the good.
