DRIVEN OUT IN DISGRACE

Millionaire Manning Expelled From New York Stock Exchange.

Found Guilty of Fraud by the Governing Committee for Removing Indorsements From Bonds.

New York, Sept. 25.—The governing committee of the New York Stock Exchange at its meeting to-day expelled John B. Manning for fraud. He has been a member since 1869. He is a millionaire and an extensive dealer in investment securities, at No. 18 Wall street.

In the latter part of July he sold five Union Pacific Railway first mortgage bonds, of the par value of $1,000 each, on the floor of the exchange to Asiel & Co. It was discovered that indorsements on the back of the bonds had been removed with chemicals. "Clean" bonds, or bonds without indorsements, bring from 3 to 4 per cent more than indorsed bonds, for legal questions often arise from the indorsements.

Mr. Manning was alleged to have for a long time made a practice of removing the indorsements on bonds, but it was difficult to make out a case against him.

In his own behalf he said that the bonds were payable to bearer, and the presence or absence of indorsements made no difference with the bonds. He would not admit that indorsements had been removed from the bonds.

Y.M.C.A. ATHLETES MADE HAPPY:

W. L. I. Athletic Association Tenders Them Its Gymnasium for Practice.

The conferences which have been going on for some time between the president and other representatives of the Washington Light Infantry Athletic Association on the one hand, and General Secretary Pugh, of the Y. M. C. A., on the other, resulted yesterday in the acceptance of the W. L. I gymnasium and apparatus kindly offered by the former to the homeless Y. M. C. A athletes.

The use of the hall and apparatus was tendered by the W. L. I. A. Association immediately after the destruction of the Y. M. C. A. home by fire, and was accepted, but the announcement was delayed until dates for the use of the gymnasium by the Y. M. C. A.s had been arranged.

Under the present arrangement the members of the Y. M. C. A. will have the use of the gymnasium apparatus on Wednesdays and Thursdays, except the first Wednesday in October, and also at other times when the hall is not being used for drills or is rented.

For the present the Y. M. C. A. athletes will have no regular instructor. Classes will be formed and given in charge of some of Prof. Sims' former pupils, who are in every way competent to handle them.

NATIONALS VS. RIVERSIDES.

To Play This Afternoon for the District Championship.

The Nationals, of East Washington, will cross bats this afternoon with the Riverside Athletic Club, of Georgetown, at Capitol Park, North Capitol and G streets, for the championship of the District. The Nationals have a record of winning twenty-five games, losing two, and claim the championship of their end of the town. The Riverrides have a record of winning fourteen games and losing but one, so a hot contest is expected. Game will be called at 4:15 p. m., sharp.

Still on the Diamond.

Manager Jaeger's Pension Office team has still several games to play before the season for amateur baseball is at an end, its next game being with the Georgetown College team. The game will be played on the college grounds next Saturday at 4:15 promptly. The battery for the "Pensioners" will be Hough and Midget Raub, with Charley Beallor Bolway at short.

The game between the "Pensioners" and the Washington Outing Club's team, which was to have been played at Capitol Park yesterday, has been postponed until certain of the Outing players have returned to the city, which will be next week.

May Go Back to His Old Love.

St. Louis, Sept. 25.—It is stated positively that Manager Bancroft, of the Cincinnati team, which is now playing at St. Louis and which has Arlie Latham playing third base for it, has made a direct offer to Von der Ahe, whereby the popular third baseman may be brought to St. Louis. Bancroft as part of his proposition offers to trade Latham for Catcher Peitz, and the Browns' president has taken the matter under advisement, with every prospect of his accepting the trade.

Amateur Baseball.

Rueth's baseball nine, which is composed of bakers, would like to hear from other baseball teams in the city.

It took ten innings to decide yesterday's game between the Senators and Giants, and it was not until the last inning that the locals were able to bat out a victory. The game was a see-saw affair from beginning to end, and the spectators were kept in a constant state of excitement until Anderson's hit brought Cartwright across the rubber and won the game by a score of 7 to 6.

Mercer pitched for the Senators and had the Giants completely at his mercy. At one time many thought that Win's pitching arm had deserted him, but judging from his masterly work of late, he has entirely recovered his last year's form and bids fair to prove a tower of strength to the Statesmen next season.

All of the Senators played with a dash that is most gratifying to observe. They seemed to completely lose heart when the opposing team forged a few runs ahead, but the opposite seems to be the case with them just now, and they rely on the finish to bring them in as winners.

This has certainly been demonstrated in the last few games they have played and particularly in yesterday's contest.

KEPT PEGGING AWAY.

At one time the score stood 4 to 1 in favor of the men from Gotham and even the most ardent rooter had no idea that they would get on even terms with the visitors, but they kept pegging away and managed to tie the score in the sixth and forged ahead in the concluding inning of the game. After the Giants had made two runs in their half of the inning and all chances for winning seemed gone, McGuire stepped up for the Senators but reaching first on an error, "Baron" Selbach made a hit and Old Reliable went down to second and scored a moment later when Cartwright smashed out a two-bagger into center field.

Crooks went out on a high fly to Van Haltren. De Montreville tried hard to place a safe one over short, but the best he could do was to hit a high fly to Tiernan, on which Crooks scored. Cartwright went to third on the play and everything hinged on the next batter.

The shades of night were fast falling, but Hurst had made up his mind that the game should be played out and despite the protests of both spectators and players he wanted to see the contest a draw, the game went merrily on. It was Mercer's turn at the bat but Schmelz made up his mind to give Anderson one more chance to redeem himself. Varney, it will be remembered, had just such a chance in Tuesday's game and distinguished himself by cutting three large holes in the air.

It was evident when he took his position at the bat yesterday that he meant business, although few there were among the rooters who hoped that he would put his good resolutions into effect. But he did, for the first ball Dohney pitched seemed just to suit him and he jousted it past second so fast that Davis could not get his hands on it and Cartwright crossed the plate with the winning run.

SENT UP A SHOUT.

The spectators could hardly realize what had happened, but when they did the shout that went up could have been heard blocks away. All of the team played fast ball and little Abbey distinguished himself in right garden by capturing several long flies which looked to be good for home runs. Monsieur Demontreville was in the push, as usual, and contributed no little toward the victory.

A young man named Dohney pitched for the Gothamites and put them over in a way that had the Senators guessing. He has speed to burn and seems to have perfect control over the ball. Besides pitching a great game he knocked out a three-base hit at the most opportune time when three men were on bases. H. Davis' first base play was also one of the distinguishing features of the game. Jack Doyle in stature felt very sad and Weary Watkins very weary when they realized last night that their "joints" had dropped two games at the Capital when they fully expected to capture the entire series.

Fuller, the first man up for the Giants, hit a line fly to Joyce and went out. Tiernan hit to Cartwright and was out at first. Mercer failed to locate the plate and VanHaltren took a walk. G. Davis went out at first. No runs.

Brown struck out, all three strikes being called. Joyce out, G. Davis to H. Davis. McGuire went to first on balls. Selbach went out at first. No runs.

Davis went out, Crooks to Cartwright. Germain hit to Mercer and was an easy out at first. Stafford went out, Crooks to Cartwright. No runs.

Cartwright went out at first on a hit to Fuller. Crooks hit to Fuller, who threw him out at first. Demont hit for a base.

Demont went out trying to steal third on Mercer's hit. No runs.

Doyle took a constitutional. Dohney went out on strikes. Fuller out on a fly to Abbey. Doyle scored on Tiernan's hit. Van went out at first. One run.

Brown got to first on four wide ones and went out trying to purloin second. Joyce hit for two bases. Abbey fouled out to Davis, who made a great catch. Joyce scored on Doyle's error. McGuire went out at first. One run.

G. Davis out, Crooks to Cartwright. H. Davis hit to Joyce and went out at first. German made a single. Stafford made a hit, Mercer purposely gave Doyle his base and played for Dohney, who hit for three bases, scoring Doyle, German and Stafford. Fuller went out on a fly to Demont.

Baron Selbach hit for a single and reached third on a passed ball. Cartwright drew a base on balls. Davis took care of Crooks' fly. Selbach scored on Demont's high fly. Mercer went out on a foul to Doyle. One run.

Tiernan out, Crooks to Cartwright. Van out, Demont to Cartwright. Davis went out at first.

Brown drew a base and went out at second on Joyce's infield hit. Abbey out on a foul to Davis. Joyce out at second on McGuire's hit to Fuller.

Davis went out at first, German out on a fly to Cartwright, and Stafford closed the inning by flying out to Brown.

CROOKS' STRONG HIT.

Selbach hit for two bases. Cartwright hit past short for a two-bagger. Crooks hit for a single, scoring Selbach and Cartwright. Demont hit a fly to Davis and a double play was the result, Crooks going out at first. Mercer went out on a fly to Fuller.

Doyle hit to Demont, and was an easy out at first. Dohney struck out. Fuller out, Crooks to Cartwright.

Brown struck out. Scrappy Bill fanned the air three times. Abbey flew out to Germain.

Tiernan hit a high fly to the "Baron." Van out, Mercer to Cartwright. Davis out, Crooks to Cartwright.

McGuire hit to Fuller, and went out at first. Fuller made a good stop of Selbach's grounder, and threw the Baron out at first. Cartwright walked, and went to third on Doyle's throw down to second. Crooks walked. Demont drew a base. Mercer hit to Fuller, forcing Demont.

Abbey took care of Davis' high fly. German out, Cartwright to Mercer. Stafford out on a fly to Abbey.

Doyle took care of Brown's high fly. Joyce went out at first. Abbey struck out.

Doyle went out on a foul to McGuire. Dohney struck out. Fuller made a safe single into right garden. Tiernan made a hit. Van hit for three bases, scoring Fuller and Tiernan. Davis out on a fly to Demont.

McGuire reached first on an error. Selbach made a hit. Cartwright hit for two bases, scoring McGuire. Crooks out on a fly to Van. Selbach scored on Demont's high fly. Anderson hit, scoring Cartwright. Three runs.

CALLED IN THE SUNSHINE.

Murray's Rank Work Gave the Bostons No Chance at All.

Brooklyn, Sept. 25.—The Bostons had no chance whatever to win from the Brooklyns at Eastern Park this afternoon.

Murray not only gave every close decision against the Beaneaters, but capped the climax by calling the game at the end of the sixth inning, claiming it was too dark to see the ball. The teams had played little more than an hour, and when Murray stopped play the sun shone brightly.

The crowd yelled for the team to play, and not a few asked to have their money refunded. Attendance, 1,800. Score:

BROWNS HIT POORLY.

Cincinnati Had Runs to Spare When the St. Louis Game Ended.

St. Louis, Sept. 25.—Two games were played by the Reds and Browns this afternoon, and it was almost dark before they finished.

Coleman, a new one, went into the box for the Browns, and Atkinson, a Missouri boy, went into left field. Miller covered short and Cooley third. Otten received Coleman's delivery.

The only feature of the first game was the inability of the Browns to bat. In the second game Breitenstein was at his best, and the game was won on its merits. Scores:

Baseball Notes.

Cartwright's fielding was a feature.

Crooks fielded in fine style.

Anderson made the winning hit.

Hoffer was a power against the Phillies.

Jennings continues to put up a marvelous game.

Someone blunders when two fielders collide.

German had some work yesterday and he exploded.

Cleveland will open at Louisville to-day for three games.

Young Madison, of the Quakers, is holding his own in clever style.

Fuller put up a wonderful fielding game, accepting all of eleven chances.

Emslie, Hurst and Keefe will do the umpiring in the Temple Cup series.

The Colonels played like amateurs, and the Pirates had a hollow victory.

The Browns broke their hard luck by winning the second from the Reds.

Murray got square with the Brooklyn fans by calling a game while the sun was shining.

If the Boston club makes no objection, Manager Schmelz will make the balance of the games free to the ladies.

The Pittsburg club has ten pitchers in line for next season—Hawley, Killen, Hart, Hewitt, Hastings, Foreman, Goar, Gardiner, Menefee, and Moran.

Schmelz will try his new pitchers during the balance of the games. Gilroy will do the twirling on Friday. Jimmie James will act on Saturday, and Boswell and Molesworth on Monday next.

WYOMING ALL THE WAY

Beat the Favorite, Dr. Reed, in the Fifth Race.

FLETCHER'S QUEER RIDE

Pope Was Pulled Back Until It Was Too Late to Get Up—Neary Brought Lottie F. to a Walk Under the Wire—Talent Fancied Tribute and He Won—Other Events.

The sport furnished at St. Asaph yesterday was much better than any that has been witnessed at the outlaw track for some days previous. The attendance was good, the betting heavy and several of the finishes red hot.

The only unpleasant feature of the day was the crooked exhibition Fletcher gave on Pope in the opening event. The horse was a 4 to 5 shot and should have won with the greatest ease.

The boy clearly snowed at the post that he was not too anxious to get away, and when the flag went down was fully five lengths out of the race. When he did get started he never made a move on the horse until it was too late to get up, and Lady May won by a good length.

FLETCHER'S QUEER RIDES.

Fletcher has been giving some very queer rides, and the first thing he knows Judge Martin will light on him and he will follow the other boys who have tried their monkey business at St. Asaph.

Wyoming furnished the surprise of the day, winning the fifth event at odds of 20 to 1. Doctor Reed was the favorite, but a forty-five minutes' delay at the post killed his chances and Fletcher, beating the flag with Wyoming, went out in front and won all the way.

Fletcher put the brakes on Pope in the opening race and Lady May went out and copped the money. Pope was second, with Billy Leggins a poor third.

Lottie F. had an easy thing of it in the two-year-old event, which was at four and a half furlongs. She went to the post an even money choice, with Rodney next in demand at 11 to 5. Neary had Lottie F. pulled to a walk when he passed under the wire, ten lengths before Murray.

FANCIED BY THE TALENT.

It looked like a close thing between Siva and Tribute, but the talent fancied the latter, and he closed a 4 to 5 chance. The finish between the two was a beauty, Tribute just lasting long enough to win by a neck.

There were only four starters in the fifth race. Of these Eclipse, jr., had the call in the betting with Frank D. second choice, at 8 to 5. At the finish Eclipse was an easy winner with Dorcas L., a 100 to 1 chance, second and Frank D. third.

Irish Pat, Dr. Reed, Mr. Johnson and Minnie S. were all played in the fifth race. The bulk of the betting finally settled on Reed and he closed a 6 to 5 favorite. Wyoming furnished the surprise, winning all the way from Irish Pat, with Reed third.

The closing race went to Jimmie James, who was played so strongly that he went to the post a 2 to 5 chance. O'Hearn ran a good race, but had to be satisfied with second money.
