

THE LARGEST AIRSHIP IN THE WORLD BUILDING FOR UNCLE SAM. At work on the giant dirigible R-38 (right), which is being built in England for the American navy. At present the 694-foot-long air monster is a fairy-like structure of delicate aluminum girders and latticework, but it is expected it will be in commission and ready to sail for America next spring. Her estimated maximum speed is 75 miles an hour. The largest hangar ever constructed is now building at Lakewood, N. J., to house the R-38. Central News

Left—OFF FOR ENGLAND IN A TINY SLOOP. Lieutenant Commander Sidney Houghton, of the British navy, his twenty-year-old son and a Bahama negro leave Oyster Bay with their new Herreshoff sloop, Neith, 39 feet on the water line. They expect to cross the Atlantic in three weeks. Look

FORMER JUDGE NATHAN L. MILLER, OF SYRACUSE. A new picture of the designer of the Republican State Convention for the Republican nomination for Governor. Mr. Miller, who is sixty-two years old, retired from the bench because of need of a larger income and has been counsel for some of the leading upstate corporations. Paul Thompson

"SO YOU WERE GERMANY'S CROWN PRINCE?" Can't you just tell from the expression on the face of this old Dutchman of Vollenham what he thinks of the ex-Kaiser's exiled son? And we think the same thing—only more so. Kerston
