PRESIDENT ATTENDS BRILLIANT BALL OF ARMY-NAVY LEAGUE

Affair Proves One of the Most Successful in the History of the Organization.

ALL NATIONS' FLAGS USED

Chief Executive and Mrs. Wilson Arrive Early and Occupy Gayly Decked Box.

Flags of all nations covered the walls and ceilings of the sail loft at the navy yard last night when the Army and Navy League gave one of the most brilliant balls in the history of the organization.

The ball, which is an annual event, was an unusual success, due perhaps to the presence of President and Mrs. Wilson, who occupied one of the gayly decked boxes which surrounded one end of the long hall.

They were among the early arrivals, few participants other than the reception committee and the floor committee having assembled when the national air announced their coming. With them were Mrs. William H. Bolling, Miss Bolling, Miss Edith Benham, and Col. W. W. Harts, the President's military aid. They remained about an hour and a half and seemed to enjoy watching the hundreds of dancers, who included members of army, navy, official, and resident society. There were few diplomats present.

The Marine Band and the band from the Mayflower played alternately from a high, pennant-hung platform facing the entrance to the ballroom. The ball opened at 9:30 o'clock and lasted into the wee small hours of the morning.

Scott representing the army; Mrs. William S. Benson, representing the navy; Mrs. George Barnett representing the marine corps, and Mrs. Theodore Jewell, who took Mrs. Albert L. Mills' place. PAINT AND POWDER SHOW IS SUCCESS

Baltimore Club to Give Performance Here for Benefit of Christ Child Society.

The Paint and Powder Club, of Baltimore, which is to present the comedy, "Dear Dorothy," in this city next Monday for the benefit of the Christ Child Society, gave its premiere in Baltimore last night at Albaugh's Theater.

The production was all that was desired, and such flaws as occurred only tickled the risibilities of the audience all the more, and embarrassed the cast not a whit.

The house was thronged with a fashionable audience, the evening being a benefit for the Daughters of the American Revolution. Decorated with flags and insignia of the society, the theater formed the background for one of the most distinctly social events of the season.

When the curtain went up a room in the home of Prof. Brander, at Palm Beach, was disclosed, with a galaxy of young and beautiful girls (!) drinking tea. Attention was focused upon the stunning array of costumes, the white footgear, at least a size too small, and the great expanse of necks and backs.

Music Is Abundant.

Dances and tuneful melodies were plentiful. "It's Different In America," by Mr. Mackall and chorus, was repeated again and again; so were "Rosalina" and the inspiring patriotic "Baltimore," which closed the first act.

Townsend Scott, jr., in yellow ballet slippers, white socks rimmed with fur, a white and yellow ballet costume and long dark curls through which sparkled rhinestone combs, performed a bit of toe dancing to a thunderous accompaniment from the audience.

Charles V. McCann, as the fair Winifred Mudge, was a "hit." Cavorting around the stage, he gave the audience a treat. But the real chef-d'oeuvre came when a too ardent lover, clasping Winifried tenderly, became entangled with the red curls, and Mr. McCann, sans hair stood embarrassedly facing the unrestrained laughter.

Wore "Mostly Smile."

And dear Dorothy herself. The girlish atmosphere died away completely when Douglas Warner came simpering in, clad in a Lucille gown of black and white, and wearing a cherubic smile for the galleries. His waist was trim and waspiike, and his flushed cheeks might well have been envied by any chorus girl.

J. Hyland Kuhns, as Jimmy Chester, made an immaculate hero, and if his lovemaking was weak and his kisses somewhat dispirited, it ticked the audience. Certainly Mr. Kuhns' graceful dancing brought a sigh from the front of "Oh, why wasn't he a girl?"

Everybody was good and nobody really starred. Two classic dances in the second act by Benjamin Kurtz and Edward L. Bartlett were real achievements.

Speeches were made by the authors, George V. Hobart and A. Baldwin Sloane.

The Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Daniels will be the honor guests at the dinner which the Chinese Minister and Mme. Koo will give this evening.

Last evening the Minister and Mrs. Koo entertained at dinner in compliment to the Secretary of State and Mrs. Lansing. The other guests were the Bolivian Minister and Mme. Calderon, Senator William J. Stone, Miss Mable Stone, Congressman Henry D. Floor, Mrs. Thomas Bayard, the Counselor of the State Department and Mrs. Frank Polk, Judge and Mrs. Charles C. McChord, Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Arthur Murray, Dr. and Mme. F. J. Yanes, Dr. and Mrs. James Brown Smith, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Williams, and the Counselor of the Chinese Legation and Mrs. Yung Kwai.

J. Loris-Melikoff, of the Russian embassy, has gone to New York for a short stay. He is staying at the Plaza.

Mr. and Mrs. George Warren Offutt have invitations out for the marriage of their daughter, Ethel Gertrude, to Benjamin Soule Gantz, assistant paymaster, U. S. N., at 8 o'clock on the evening of Saturday, May 6, at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony will be followed by a reception.

Miss Offutt's uncle, Charles Tribby, will give a dance in her honor at the Willard on Saturday evening. Miss Etta Louise Taggart is entertaining this afternoon at a linen shower in compliment to Miss Offutt.

N., will take place on Tuesday, May 2, and Miss Hanna Willard Taylor, who will be married on Monday, May 8, to Charles Clay Bayly.

Col. and Mrs. William Cary Sanger are the guests in whose honor Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Joseph P. Sanger will entertain at tea at the Country Club, "Grasslands," this afternoon. Mrs. Sanger will be assisted in receiving by her daughter, Mrs. James Mandeville Carlisle, and Mrs. James Marion Johnston.

Miss Murphy a Bride.

Among the interesting weddings of Easter week will be the marriage this afternoon of Miss Agnes de Ricci Murphy, daughter of Mrs. Annie B. Murphy, to Henry Loud Cranford, which will take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the apartment of the bride's mother in the Dupont.

Bothered by Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Head or Chest Colds?

Try the "Vap-O-Rub" Treatment. Relieves by Inhalation and Absorption. No Stomach Dosing.

No need to disturb your stomach with internal medicines for these troubles. Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Salve combines by a special process—Menthol, Thymol, Eucalyptol, Camphor and Pine Tar, so that when applied to the heat of the body, these ingredients are released in the form of vapors. These soothing, medicated vapors are inhaled all night long through the air passages to the lungs, loosening the phlegm, soothing the inflamed membrane, and aiding the body cells to drive out the invading germs.

In addition, Vick's is absorbed through the pores, reducing the inflammation and taking out that tightness and soreness. 25c, 50c, or $1.00. At all druggists.
