

OLD BULL—This celebrated Norwegian artist will appear in this city, at Metzger's Hall, on Monday and Tuesday, the 9th and 10th instants, assisted by Madame Varian Hoffman, Mrs. Ignatz Polak and Mr. E. Hoffman, the pianist. The lovers of good music, as well as the admirers of extraordinary talent and artistic execution, will have an opportunity to enjoy a rich treat. Some seventeen years ago Old Bull gave one of his rare entertainments in what is now known to the students of Washington as Charvat's saloon. A plain, unpretending gentleman, modestly attired, no gawgaw, no diamond breastpin or rings on his fingers, "no ruffles on his shirt, nor malles in his mind," he won the esteem of every notable artist, as well as the plaudits of the entire portion of the house. Since then his career has been chequered. All remember the fate of his colony in northern Pennsylvania, and all cherish the recollection of the patriotic incident which induced him to accept of the offer of a salary to visit all nations. The entertainments of Old Bull will be much enhanced by the exquisite vocalization of Madame Hoffman and Madame Varian James, whose reputation as a contralto is well established, and by the accompaniment of Ignatz Polak, who has been for some time the public music anticipator and musical soloist.

OPP FELLOWS' HALL.—There will be tableaux, music, and refreshments at Opp Fellows' Hall, March 26, 4th, and 5th, for the benefit of the Memorial Lutheran church.

NATIONAL THEATRE—"Under the Gas-light" will be produced this evening at the National with the full strength of the company.

A CONCERT.—The Fanny M. E. Sabbath School will give a concert at that church March 3, at 7:30 o'clock, p. m.
