

THE RACETRACK.

TALK ABOUT TURF-BRIGHTON BEACH ENTRIES FOR TO-DAY.

Francis D. Beard is now one of the regular morning visitors to the Brighton Beach track, and is manifesting an unusually lively interest in the exercises of his horses.

Some of the visitors at the Brighton track yesterday expressed the hope that other owners like Beard would soon follow his example.

William Lakeland was discovered last week examining the floral display at the Brighton Beach track.

The entries for to-day's races at Brighton Beach are as follows:

COST OF HORSE AND "AUTO."

A QUESTION WITH TWO SIDES TO IT—SOME COMPARATIVE FIGURES.

Whether automobiles are cheaper than horses is a question to which there are undoubtedly two sides. It is asserted in behalf of the automobile that it is more economical than the horse for cab service, and that more can be accomplished with it.

The horse is a thing of the past for certain kinds of work. We know that automobiles are at least one-third cheaper than horses, depending on the size of the plant. This applies particularly to the
