DEATH OF A WELL-KNOWN MAN.

Mr. Patrick Cullinane of South Washington Passes Away.

Mr. Patrick Cullinane, whose serious illness has been mentioned in THE CRITIC, died at his residence on Sixth street, between G and H southwest, at an early hour yesterday morning. During the late fire at St. Dominic's Church, Mr. Cullinane organized a body of men and, regardless of his age and weak condition, he foremost plunged into the burning edifice and saved most of the valuable church ornaments. He was several times drenched with water and made three changes of clothes. He contracted a cold, but gave it little attention until last Wednesday, when he was unable to leave his bed. Septic fever, superinduced by erysipelas, had set in.

Physicians were called in and everything was done to save him, but to no purpose. The news of his death was soon known all over South Washington, and the house was thronged with sympathizing friends, extending condolences to the family.

There were but few citizens in Washington who did not know and respect Patrick Cullinane. He was born in Mitchelltown, County Cork, Ireland, in 1829. He came to this country with his father, mother, and brother Michael when he was 21 years old. They came to Washington immediately and have been here since.

He was not an educated man, unable almost to read or write, but being of an industrious disposition, he soon obtained work and commenced his new life as a laborer. After four years of hard work, he became a contractor, and made a bid for some street improvement under the Board of Public Works. The contract was awarded him, and he then entered upon a service of twenty years in this business. Under the Board of Public Works, he executed some heavy contracts. The largest contract he handled was the grading and paving of Four-and-a-half street, from Missouri avenue, to the Arsenal gate. His bid was $30,000. He cleared $7,000 on the contract. His connection with the Board of Public Works was cut summarily short by one of the frequent scandals of the improvement period.

He carried out other contracts and invested all his earnings in building up South Washington, and at the time of his death he owned fully 125 houses in that section. He always claimed that he had settled in South Washington and wanted to see that the foremost section in the city. He retired from business in 1874 with a fortune of nearly $500,000, invested for the most part in real estate in South Washington, and has since given his exclusive attention to his real estate. He belonged to several societies, including the Clan-na-Gael and the Knights of St. Patrick, and was an honorary member of the Union Veteran Corps. His funeral will take place at 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning from St. Dominic's Church, where a solemn mass of requiem will be celebrated. The interment will be made at Mt. Olivet Cemetery. The pall-bearers will be Messrs. James McDevitt, Thomas Holden, Owen O'Hara, C. T. Bride, P. B. Dunn and Arthur McDermott.

Among the Churches.

The President, Miss Cleveland and Miss Van Vechten attended services yesterday at Dr. Sunderland's Church. All the pews were filled. Many of those present were strangers in the city. Dr. Sunderland preached from the text, "The World by Wisdom Knew Not God."

Rev. Dr. Nourse, at the Tabernacle last night, preached about miserable marriages. He spoke of the horrors attending the marriage of pure women to bestial and brutal men.

The A. M. E. Zion Conference ministers filled the pulpits of nearly all the colored churches of the District yesterday. Two bishops officiated at Galbraith Church—Bishops Hood and Moore.

At the Mount Zion A. M. E. Church last evening Bishop Andrews preached on God's power to work in the heart of man. In the morning the Bishop preached at Hamline Church on faith.

Dr. Domer delivered a very interesting sermon last night at St. Paul's English Lutheran Church on "Give our city boys a chance."

"DISEASE is very various," was Mrs. Partington's remark, as she wiped her spectacles for the fifth time that day. Some people die of hermitage of the lungs and others of brown creatures." Disease may vary, but there is only one reliable remedy for coughs and colds and that is Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

IMPROVING THE SCHOOL SYSTEM.

Some Interesting Comments on the Employment of Substitutes.

"The School Board at its last meeting in changing the forms of the pay-rolls did a very judicious and wise act," remarked a District official to a CRITIC reporter to-day, "and the reason that nothing was made of it in the papers was because the true inwardness of the old abuse was not discussed at the meeting, and for a very good reason."

On being pressed for the facts he said:

"In the first place it has been the rule in making up the pay-roll to have it signed by the superintendent, the supervising principal and the chairman of the Committee on Accounts. A copy was made of this and the original was filed away in the superintendent's office and the copy sent to the Auditor of the District, on which to make payments, and names of persons were borne on the rolls who had not attended a session for a year. They were friends of school trustees. This was contrary to the rules, for the rules say that any teacher away after a certain length of time, I think a month, shall be dropped from the rolls. These teachers were allowed to employ substitute teachers and pay them what they chose. The name of the substitute did not appear on the roll and the roll purported that the teacher was performing her regular duty, and she continued to draw the salary. The substitute knew that she was working for less than the regular rates, but she was given to understand that if she complained she would be dismissed."

"Well, how will this alleged abuse be remedied?" queried the reporter.

"Simply by requiring the signed roll to be filed with the auditor, and every person who is nominally a teacher will be so recorded and the time she has been absent from duty will also be stated. Frauds were possible to almost any extent under the old system. The greatest wrong done was the injury that the practice worked on the schools in having inefficient substitute teachers in schools for years. Under the old system there was no responsibility, but under the new system any falsification of pay-rolls will be liable to send the perpetrator to the penitentiary. The reform is a most valuable one and I trust the Commissioners will make it permanent."

MRS. GARFIELD'S PROPERTY.

The Financial Condition of the Martyr President's Widow.

The recent reports concerning Mrs. Garfield's endowment of the Garfield Hospital, and other gossip about the widow of the martyr President, have created some curiosity about that lady's financial condition. An intimate friend of Mrs. Garfield's, residing in this city, gives the following description of her estate:

"The subscription raised through the instrumentality of Cyrus Field aggregated, when invested in Government bonds, about $312,000. General Garfield's life was insured for $50,000, the payment of which the companies, for the sake of the extended advertisement it would give them, if for no other purpose, promptly made. Congress also voted her the remnant of the salary which would have been due General Garfield for the first year of service as President, which amounted to $10,000. The little estate which Garfield left aggregated some $30,000. This was all that he had been able to accumulate after a life of unusual activity. This makes her total estate, in round numbers, about $450,000 in money well invested. From this an income of probably $16,000 is derived. In addition to that she has from Congress an annual pension of $5,000, which is now voted to the widows of all ex-Presidents.

THE POLICE COURT.

John Dickson, a white man, pleaded guilty to stealing a watch and chain from William Dickson and was sentenced to sixty days in jail.

Agnes Griffin, a colored woman, had John Arms, a colored man, arrested on Saturday last for committing an assault upon her. In the Police Court she refused to testify against him and was committed for contempt.

Neal Smith, a colored man, was fined $10 for assaulting Mary Donohue, a white woman, yesterday. He went to jail in default.

ENLARGING A LIBRARY.—Quite a large addition will shortly be made in the library at Fifth Baptist Church. Several weeks ago the Sunday-school scholars were furnished with books to collect money to enlarge the library, with the inducement that those who collected over $20 would be presented with medals, and all those who collected over $2.50 would be given a book. The amount of collections was turned in yesterday. Miss Belle Howison, Miss Butler and Master Deatley captured medals, and a large number of the scholars turned in their amounts, over $2.50, and were presented with books. The presentations were made by the committee in the lecture-room yesterday afternoon.

A FLOURISHING SOCIETY.—The Home and Foreign Missionary Society met in the lecture-room of the Fifth Baptist Church at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The usual routine of business was transacted. The society is in a flourishing and prosperous condition.

AN INTERESTING SERMON.—Rev. Dr. Nourse, pastor of the Tabernacle, preached an interesting sermon last evening. The subject of the sermon was "Miserable Marriages." The church was crowded to its full capacity.

RIVER STEAMERS.—The steamer George Leary left for Baltimore on Saturday to undergo a thorough overhauling and painting. The steamer Excelsior has taken the route to Norfolk. The Leary will return about May 15, and both steamers will be run on the Norfolk route.

PERSONAL.—Rev. C. C. Meador was called to Nanjemoy, Charles County, Md., yesterday to preach a funeral sermon.

ON THE RIVER.—A vast number of people took advantage of the fine weather yesterday and took a trip to Alexandria on the ferry boats.

Fifty Millions of Them.

There are 50,000,000 of people in this country and more are coming every day. Last year more than 700,000 bottles of Brown's Iron Bitters were sold, and the demand is daily increasing. This shows the great popularity of this wonderful iron tonic. A popularity based on actual merit and complete success in the treatment of debility, dyspepsia, rheumatism and liver troubles. Mr. W. H. Fleming, 631 N. 12th street, Philadelphia, says, "I have used Brown's Iron Bitters with the happiest results for toning the system and for loss of appetite."

The market this morning opened irregular, but after the first call prices advanced on a sharp buying of the leading stocks, induced by the receipt of more threatening news from abroad and the belief that Russia intends forcing a war. At noon prices were up ¾ to 1¾ per cent. After mid-day, on selling of some Western trunk line stocks on reports of an impending war of rates, the advance of the morning was lost. Prices are now at the lowest point.

NEW YORK, April 20.—Gould stocks are held pretty firm; balance of the list weak, closing at outlowest of the day, with opening of lake and canal navigation there seems but little chance for the trunk lines to improve their condition. With a general war among the grangers probable, we don't know where they can make any better showing, with the advent of warm weather, reducing domestic consumption of coal, where is the better outlook for coalers? The market must have a short interest as the rallying pivot for the bulls, and that looks to us of less magnitude than for months, so we would favor short side of stocks in all rallies. Oil tried to advance on dry wells, but undertone remains weak.

Mr. Porter Talks Back.

A recent publication in a Washington paper reflected on the party loyalty of Hon. James D. Porter of Tennessee, the First Assistant Secretary of State. In regard to this publication Mr. Porter telegraphs as follows to a friend in Nashville: "Having learned that Mr. W. C. Whitthorne of Tennessee was the author of the publication, my interest in the matter ceased from that moment. I know the value of anything coming from him, and here, where he served for several terms as a Representative in Congress, he cannot slander or otherwise injure me. At home, where we are both well known, his malevolence is without force, as he is without influence."
