NEWS FROM NEW-JERSEY.

JERSEY CITY.

SERGEANT McGUINNESS'S MISHAP.

Sergeant Charles McGuinness, of the Second Precinct Police, is in a dangerous condition from injuries received in a runaway accident in New-York last Saturday afternoon. He was driving up Eighth-ave. at Fifty-eighth-st., with his ten-year-old son Charles to see the baseball game, when the horse was frightened by an elevated train and turning sharply threw the sergeant out upon his head on the stone pavement. The boy kept his seat until the wagon was dashed against a street car which met it. He struck the pavement on the left side of his face, but was not severely hurt. Sergeant McGuinness was carried unconscious into a drug store and a hospital surgeon bandaged his head. He was taken to his home at No. 287 1-2 Third-st., Jersey City, in a coach and Police Surgeon Nevin and Dr. McLaughlin, of St. Francis's Hospital, took six stitches in a ragged cut in the left side of his scalp. He was semi-conscious much of the time yesterday. The doctors are apprehensive of a fracture of the skull and of inflammation. Last night he was slightly better.

PASSAIC.

GOOD WAY TO GET RID OF TRAMPS.

A posse of seventeen armed residents of Passaic and Clifton made a raid on Peter Green's barn in Clifton on Saturday night and captured a gang of nineteen tramps. The prisoners were sentenced on the spot to ninety days each in the county jail and handed over to the proper custodians. This is the latest of a series of raids which have been made during the last two years. The level country between Passaic and Paterson is infested with tramps, who gather in strong gangs and take possession of barns. They molest the inhabitants continually, and steal live stock, fruit, vegetables, clothing and other articles. Last fall the gangs were particularly numerous, and on one occasion fifty-seven of them were seen to come out of one big barn. Several raids were made, and once eleven men were captured. This frightened the tramps, and in a few days they all disappeared. For the last month, however, several of them have slept in a barn belonging to Peter Green, a milkman. He complained to Justice Ross, of Passaic, and they organized a posse. It included Constables Burgoyne and Berry and Judge Ross's son Hamilton, who is a lieutenant in Company B, 4th Regiment. Ten other men were in the party. At 11 o'clock on Saturday night Green's barn was surrounded. Lieutenant Ross and the two constables went inside bearing lights. The tramps submitted quietly to being handcuffed and bound, and seemed to enjoy the situation. Judge Ross promptly set up a justice of the peace court in the barn and sentenced every one of the men to the county jail for vagrancy.

ORANGE.

The Gentlemen's Riding Club of East Orange had an exciting paper chase on Saturday afternoon. The start was at Central-ave. and Harrison-st. and nearly fifty stylish equipages were on the ground. The course was ten miles through South Orange, Maplewood, Hilton and Irvington to a finish at South Orange-ave. and Centre-st. It was a difficult ride, with a great number of high fences, water jumps and deep ditches. The hares were F. H. Lapierre and Charles E. Hathaway and the hounds were led by James B. Dill. Twenty-three riders started, among them six women, but only three rode over the course and took all the jumps. They were Mr. Dill, George Ring and Dr. E. C. Batten. The club has presented to Miss Etta Hedden a handsome silver tray, as a souvenir of her pluckly ride over the course of three weeks ago. On the centre of the tray is a bas relief representing Miss Hedden on her pony taking the famous leap at the old graveyard.

The last private concert of the Orange Mendelssohn Union for the season will be given in Music Hall this evening.

NEWARK

Suits have been begun in the Supreme Court of the State against the Pennsylvania Railroad by the widows of Peter Mullin and Francis P. McGuinness. Freeholders, who were killed in a carriage at the crossing of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Market-st. last October. The damages in each case are laid at $50,000.

The unhappy marital relations of George H. Bell and his wife, living at No. 238 North Seventh st., Roseville, culminated on Saturday, when the husband attempted to move the furniture and other property from the house. His wife offered a stout resistance and called in her lawyer, who put the goods in the charge of a special officer. Bell's lawyer ordered the truckmen to go on with the work of removing the goods. A fight resulted, in which crockery and other articles were broken. A policeman then appeared on the scene and Mrs. Bell was left in possession. Bell is a superintendent for the Domestic Sewing Machine Company and a vestryman of a Baptist church.

Patrolmen Carson and Zeigler, having charge of a lunatic, were on their way to the lunatic asylum in a patrol wagon last evening when, at Broad and Academy sts., the bit broke in the horse's mouth and the horse started to run. Garritt, the driver, was thrown out and his leg was injured. Zeigler was also thrown and struck on his head, receiving a serious wound. Carson jumped and escaped injury. The lunatic was thrown out and landed on his feet uninjured. He immediately made off, but was recaptured several blocks away.

RUTHERFORD.

The Rutherford Wheelmen and St. George's Baseball Club, of New-York, opened the baseball season here on Saturday. The Wheelmen outplayed the visitors and won by the score of 12 to 4.

The Carlstadt Fife, Bugle and Drum Corps held its third annual ball and exhibition drill in Neiderer's Hall, Carlstadt, on Saturday night.

"Iviswold," the country house of David B. Ivison, the New-York publisher, is being put in order, preparatory to the return of Mr. and Mrs. Ivison next month.

The Republicans of Orvil Township have elected Charles L. Parigot, of Allendale, as delegate to the State and district conventions at Trenton on Wednesday.

ELIZABETH.

A shameful condition of affairs exists in the Elizabethport Police Station where the prisoners male and female are huddled in two cells 3x7 feet. The other part of the station is only 12x6 feet and in this narrow apartment the seven officers on duty in the five lower wards of the city with a population of 20,000 are compelled to report for duty. The roof of the miserable place is leaky and when it rains the water comes through it freely on the prisoners and officers. On the score of morality the place is a disgrace to the city.

The Fire Committee of the City Council, to whom was referred the protest of Assistant Chief Engineer, August Gerstung, against the election of Joseph O'Neill as Chief Engineer at the recent election, gave a hearing on Saturday to the contestant, who failed to substantiate his allegations. Another complication is likely to develop over the contest, as the four members of Washington Company who cast their votes for the successful candidate against the wishes of the other fifty-six members have since been expelled. This is likely to be made the subject of an official investigation by the City Council.

A BELL FOR THE CRUISER NEW-YORK.

MEMBERS OF THE SEVENTH REGIMENT ARE RAISING A FUND TO BUY ONE.

If the gifts of testimonials to the new war vessels are looked upon as luck-bringers, then it would seem hardly possible that the new cruiser New-York could be "hoodooed." On the contrary, the prestige of good luck is manifest in the fact that she is to be trebly honored, and this ought to exert a marked influence upon the seafaring men who have a liking for the Navy and anticipate being a part of the crew of the New-York. In addition to the proposed gift of a silver service and a set of flags, a third gift, considered most appropriate for any vessel, inasmuch as it will give warning to officers and sailors alike of the fast passing half-hours and the quickly approaching time of being relieved on watch, will be the silver bell to be given by the 7th Regiment. Thus far the movement has been so quiet and unostentatious that few outside of the regiment, and they only because they accidentally heard it mentioned, know anything about it. At a recent meeting at the armory Lieutenant-Colonel George Moore Smith, Lieutenant John B. Holland and Lieutenant H. C. Duval were appointed a committee with power to receive subscriptions from the officers and members of the regiment for a bell for the New-York. The limit of cost will be $1,500, but the limit of the amount of silver to be put into the bell will be more closely fixed, else its tone, or rather its consonant, will be partially destroyed. Ordinary bells are made of four parts of copper and one of tin, and in this one the silver will take the place of tin.

The committee propose to obtain silver that has some historical character, for instance, silver spoons of Washington's time, coin, etc. The size of the bell will be determined upon between the committee and the Secretary of the Navy. The Secretary has already accepted the offer of the bell, and it will be ready to put on the ship before she flies her pennant and to respond to the command of the officer of the deck when at sea:

"Strike eight bells!"

"Call the watch; hold the reel!"

"Pump ship and relieve the wheel!"

And inscribed upon it, ever to remind the sailors of the generosity and loyalty of the givers, will be: "Presented to the armored cruiser New-York by the officers and members of the 7th Regiment, National Guard, S. N. Y."

Especially Made

Suits and Overcoats at A. H. King & Co.'s, Sold Usually at $22, $28 and $35, Will Be Offered This Week at $15.00, $18.00 and $20.00.

THE MOST DESIRABLE PATTERNS AND LARGEST LINE OF THOROUGHLY TAILOR-MADE CLOTHES EVER OFFERED AT A SPECIAL SALE; ARTISTIC PRODUCTIONS THAT ARE CORRECT FORM IN DRESS AT LOWER PRICES THAN ARE CHARGED BY OTHER DEALERS FOR ORDINARY READY-MADE CLOTHING!

Our special sales the past two weeks have conclusively proved that we sell better clothes for the money than any house in the city can afford to.

We are in a position to offer actual values which cannot truthfully be attempted by any other retail clothing house in New-York, simply because the clothes we sell are our own productions. The clothes we sell go through our hands from the piece goods until they are the realizations of artistic dress in the buyer's possession, and by being the manufacturers we save you two profits. No American house ever showed such a magnificent display of truly artistic Suits and Overcoats at such nominal prices. We have outdone all our previous efforts.

THE LINE OF SUITS AT FIFTEEN DOLLARS contain the most elegant variety in Sacks and Frocks and Double-Breasted Cheviots and Worsteds; every stylish shade; worth $25.00.

THE OVERCOATS AT FIFTEEN DOLLARS are models of elegance in Coverts and English Top Coats; all the latest colors.

We wish to call especial attention to our lines of fine Black Dress Suits in Sacks, Frocks, Prince Alberts, and Black Cloth Full-Dress Suits, thoroughly silk-lined and tailored to a degree of excellence, at 40 to 50 per cent lower in price than were ever offered.

OUR EIGHTEEN DOLLAR LINE OF SUITS AND OVERCOATS is equal to the clothes made by the leading tailors at $35.00. Not another stock in town to compare with ours in beauty of finish and variety of styles.

THE LINE AT $20.00 CAPS THE CLIMAX.

Every Suit and Overcoat is made of imported fabric in every known material and color. The best tailors could not improve on them for less than $40 to $50. Made by the best journeymen tailors. We use the best silks in the linings, and the fit and finish of them is simply perfection.

We close at 7 o'clock evenings.

NEW-YORK CITY.

The monitor Miantonomoh will be towed up the North River to be anchored opposite the Grant Tomb to-morrow, for the purpose of firing a salute at the laying of the cornerstone of the Grant Monument.

Commander Alexander H. McCormick, who has been inspector of ordnance at the Navy Yard since November, 1889, has been ordered to Washington to be examined for promotion to captain, prior to joining the Lancaster, in the Asiatic Squadron, as her commander. Commander Horace Elmer, recently in command of the Kearsarge, will succeed Commander McCormick at the Navy Yard.

The man who, with a woman, registered at Hull's Hotel on Friday night as "John Vigorod and wife," and was asphyxiated by gas, died at the Chambers Street Hospital yesterday morning. Shortly afterward two men entered the hospital and said that they knew the man. They would not tell his name when they found he was dead, or anything about him; neither did they claim his body for burial.

A dressmaker uptown displays a sign announcing that she is a "laidis taoler."

The amateur photographer who takes a ghastly picture of you and then blandly tells you that the camera never lies is a nuisance of the first water.

The New-York Fruit Exchange will take possession of its new home at No. 78 Park Place to-day.

The big white Sound steamers all have had their spring coats of paint.

Charles De Forest, the actor, who beat and severely injured Ernest Hutchinson, Lydia Thompson's theatrical manager, with his cane, in the lobby of the Fourteenth Street Theatre recently, was arraigned again in the Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday, and furnished bail in the amount of $2,500 for trial in the Court of General Sessions.

Professor Worcester, of Union Theological Seminary, who has been away from his classes on a leave of absence in order to recuperate, is expected to return to-day.

TO AID THE RUSSIAN FAMINE FUND.

The benefit in aid of the Russian famine sufferers should attract a large audience to the Manhattan Athletic Club Theatre on Tuesday evening. The National Red Cross Association has done and is doing noble work in aid of the good cause, and it is for its fund and under its auspices that the performance will be given. Among those who will appear are: Miss Marguerite St. John, Miss Lole Fuller (by permission of Messrs. Hoyt & Thomas), Miss Jennie Hall Wade, the soprano; Miss Bertino Robinson, John Glendenning, Albert G. Thies, the tenor; William B. Green, the humorist; William C. Dore, the banjo player; William Caboone, jr.; "La Regaloneita," the child dancer; Master Henry Levy, the pianist; William J. Daly, humorist; Van Rensselaer Wheeler, the baritone; C. Van Imar, Percy West and Edward C. Lyons. Seats may be secured at the box office of the theatre and at Schirmer's music store, Union Square.

LEFT MONEY TO KILL HER CAT.

It was learned yesterday that Madame de Fenelon, the former actress, who was asphyxiated in her room at No. 107 East Thirty-first-st. on Friday night, had in a brief will left $10 with instructions to chloroform her pet black cat after her death, not anticipating that both would die such a death together. Madame de Fenelon's retirement from the stage was due to her refusal to wear abbreviated skirts. Several years ago she gained considerable notoriety by seeking, in opposition to the Actors' Fund, to enter their plot and decorate with flowers the tomb of her husband.

They Must Agree.

Recent analyses and recommendations of Cleveland's baking powder agree with those made years ago. They have to. The powder is the same,—highest in quality and always the best.

AFFAIRS IN BROOKLYN.

THE ELEVATED ROAD'S INJUNCTION SUIT.

The decision of Judge Wallace, of the United States Circuit Court, in Syracuse on Saturday, vacating the injunction restraining Anthony Barrett from voting on 23,792 shares of Brooklyn Elevated Railroad Company's stock, pending the suit of Anna L. Hitchcock and others against Barrett to turn the stock into the treasury, excites a great deal of interest in Brooklyn. Judge Wallace vacates the injunction on the ground that the stock has been voted upon before without objection, and that persons interested in similar stock also among the plaintiffs. He reserves his decision on the case as a whole. General Wingate in his argument for Barrett made the statement that Barrett, Henry J. Cullen and himself worked for five years to obtain the Union franchise, and that the stock was received in payment.

Charles J. C. Hall, who has a suit before the Court of Common Pleas to accomplish practically the same object as Mrs. Hitchcock in the United States Court, broadly hints that the stock was given in payment for a franchise obtained through improper means. Judge Hall-laver has not yet decided that suit.

TOO MANY ACES ARE DANGEROUS THINGS.

Augustus Ortenti, Frank Mora, and two other Italians were having a quiet game of poker, yesterday afternoon at Mora's rooms, No. 292 Broadway. In the course of the game they reached a point when there was a large amount of money on the table, and everybody bet heavily in the hope of securing it. The game finally narrowed down to Ortenti and Mora, the other two having withdrawn. Ortenti, after a few bets, called Mora, who said he had four aces. When he showed the cards he proved to have five. A fight followed. Mora stuffed the money in his pocket and ran out. The others followed. Mora has a sword-cane, and when pursued he turned and stabbed Ortenti in the back. Then he got away. Ortenti was taken to St. Mary's Hospital, where it was said that the wound was a severe one. Mora was arrested last evening.

WOES OF A WHISKERLESS BRIDEGROOM.

Abram Paoli, forty-five years old, a tailor of No. 27 Moore-st., for twenty years had worn a beard. Three months ago he won the heart of Esther Talwasli, of No. 37 Moore-st., and the marriage was to take place at the synagogue in Moore-st. yesterday. Isaac Cohen, a barber, of No. 33 Eleventh-st., was called upon by the prospective bridegroom yesterday to have his whiskers trimmed. While leaning back in the chair and engaging in golden dreams he fell asleep, and awoke to find his whiskers gone. He yelled and threatened to annihilate the barber. His bride that was to be refused to have anything to do with him when he went to get married, and he applied to Justice Goetting at the Lee Avenue Police Court for justice. His case will be considered to-day.

CHILDREN AND THE TRIBUNE FRESH AIR FUND.

The "Children's Easter Dinner," in aid of The Tribune Fresh Air Fund, held at the home of the young Misses Alice and Ethel Munroe, No. 200 Decatur-st., Brooklyn, on April 9, resulted in an addition of $100 to the fund, a check for which was received by The Tribune yesterday. The following form the committee of little misses who managed the fair: Lyle Schoonmaker, Harlan B. Turner, Myra Redhead, Ethel Redhead, Mattie McIndo, Louise Hamlin, Dorothea Carter, Julia Carter, May Merritt, May Hebbard, Marion Taber, Edna Taber, Aletta Lee, Charles Redhead, Alice Munroe, Ethel Munroe.

A SCARLET FEVER PATIENT IN THE STREETS.

Catherine Behan, nineteen years old, entered the Fifth Precinct late on Saturday night carrying in her arms her nine-months'-old child, and asked for shelter. She told Sergeant Black that she had been turned into the street by her sister, who lives at No. 10 Stillman-ave., and had no place to go. The young woman said that she was employed in a factory, and when she returned to her sister's home on Saturday night she found the child was ill. Dr. Webber, in North Seventh-st., had been called in and diagnosed the case as one of scarlet fever of the worst type. "My sister has children of her own, said the woman, and it was for their safety that she turned baby and me into the streets." The servant told the woman that she could remain in the corridor of the station until morning. At daylight word was sent to the health authorities, and the woman and her child were taken to the Flatbush Hospital, where the condition of the child is said to be precarious.

GATHERED ABOUT THE TOWN.

The department of architecture of the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences is to give its first annual exhibition of architectural designs and drawings, beginning to-day. The private view will be held this evening.

John Gorman, John Lowery and Hugh Crawford, three young men, after drinking a great deal of liquor, started out to have some fun on Saturday night. They took a horse and wagon belonging to William Gallagher, of No. 37 Jay-st., and drove for about five hours. Yesterday morning Patrolman Ryan found them in Columbia-st. He appropriated their wagon to drive them to the Fifteenth Precinct Police Station, where they were held for grand larceny.

Mrs. Kate McGrath on saturday night was found by Policeman McGlynn, of the Clymer-st. squad, unconscious on the sidewalk at Lee-ave. and Heyward-st. She was clasping a twelve-month-old child in her arms. She was suffering from exhaustion, induced by starvation. Yesterday she was taken to the almshouse at Flatbush. The woman is only twenty-two years old, and was deserted by her husband one month ago. She had slept in sheds and outhouses since then.

John Keeffe, of Hicks and Bush sts., was held in the Adams Street Police Court yesterday morning for breaking with a stone a $150 plate-glass window in a liquor store under his home, because the bartender denied his inalienable rights and would not sell him a drink.

St. James's Catholic Club, one of the societies attached to the Roman Catholic Cathedral, will give its annual dinner to-morrow evening at Wilson's. The new Bishop of Brooklyn is expected to be present.

The police of the Third Precinct yesterday morning visited the house No. 331 Warren-st., and there arrested Mary Lawlor, thirty-five years old, on the technical charge of cruelty to her two children, John, six years old, and Willie, eleven years old, who were turned out into the yard half-clad on Saturday. Several other persons were arrested, among them Mrs. Lawlor's fourteen-year-old daughter, Mary.

NO TRACE OF HIS MISSING WIFE.

The police yesterday got no trace of Mrs. Rosamond Peckinbaugh, who disappeared on Friday after a visit to the Eden Musee. Her husband, Dr. G. R. Peckinbaugh, who is staying at No. 101 East Twenty-fifth-st., was at the Central Office again yesterday afternoon and said he had received no message. He and his wife recently came to the city from Mt. Vernon, Ind., and she was in poor health and homesick when she disappeared. As she had $60 and a gold watch with her, the police thought she might have gone back to Indiana.

TRIBUNE EXTRAS.

TRIBUNE ALMANAC, 1892.—A magnificent number, over 350 pages. Price 25 cents. A book of ready reference, without any superior. Full description of the new Navy. Elaborate coinage and currency tables, including coinage since 1795, and details of the circulating medium, year by year, since 1860. Election returns. A thousand other valuable features.

CHILI AND THE NEW NAVY.—Now ready President Harrison's message on the Chilian affair, reprinted in pamphlet form, together with a complete description of the new American Navy. A large number of the typical vessels are described at length, with elaborate pictures and plans, and full details of crew rnament, size, etc., of each. Every vessel in the new Navy is included in the list. Price, 25 cents a copy.

BIG ISSUES OF AN OFF YEAR.—The magnificent tariff and currency articles of Roswell G. Horr in The Weekly Tribune during the last year, reprinted, with various kindred articles, including the wonderful results of Reciprocity, and the article on "Prices in 1896 and 1891." A pamphlet of 88 large pages. 25 cents.

THE DEAD AT ANDERSONVILLE.—The Tribune's list of 12,000 Union prisoners who died there with company, regiment, and cause of death. Authoritative. The only list ever put into print. 10 cents a copy.

NEW TARIFF LAWS.—Old and new rates compared. 10 cents a copy.

WAR SHIPS SUNK AT SAMOA.—What may be expected of the American Navy, in pluck, dauntless courage, and perinacity in a war with Chili, well exemplified. This number contains "The Johnstown Disaster," "American Girls Abroad," "Stories of Hunting," etc. 104 pages. 10 cents.

KNITTING AND CROCHET, 1891.—New, 96 pages. The handsomest and best Knitting and Crochet Extra ever issued by The Tribune. 25 cents a copy. This issue is devoted to patterns for lace, garments, hassock and cushion covers, trimming, curtain bands, bags, mats, scarfs, tidies, handkerchiefs, etc. In addition 44 pages of the charming "Home and Society" articles from the Sunday Tribune. A delightful number.

HOW TO WIN FORTUNE, by Andrew Carnegie, from the Tribune of April, 1890. This is the article which declared that a college education is not essential to business success. In small pamphlet form 5 cents a copy.

PRESBYTERIAN GENERAL ASSEMBLY, 1891.—A few copies. Interesting in view of the approaching Assembly. A handsome pamphlet of 96 large pages. 25 cents a copy.

WASHINGTON CENTENNIAL IN 1889.—132 pages. A full account of the public ceremonies. The orations of Depew, Bishop Potter, President Harrison, Grover Cleveland, and others, in full. A few copies. 25 cents each.
