Naps Take a Parting Fling at Yankees by Winning Two Games

Joe Jackson Enjoys a Big Day with the Bat and in the Field.

ONE HOME RUN ON LIST

Keating, McConnell, Schulz and Warhop the Pitchers New York Offered Up for the Sacrifice.

The Cleveland Naps wound up their engagement at the Polo Grounds yesterday afternoon with an entrancing double victory over the humble Yankees.

Concentrating their attack with rare skill, the Westerners picked out an inning in each game for some sharp stick work and piled up enough runs while they were about it to swing each contest into the won column.

The pitchers which Chance offered up for the sacrifice made futile efforts to stave off the enemy and succumbed to the fire of the invaders. A copious supply of wild pitches and hit basemen was to be noted among other twirling sins, so that on the whole the visitors had little difficulty in fattening their percentage. The scores were 6 to 2 and 6 to 3.

The Peerless Leader hopefully dispatched the youthful Ray Keating in search of the laurels in the first game, with Kahler as his opponent. Keating handled the situation with great discretion for five innings, giving only one pass and allowing three hits. But a pair of hits and two bases on balls, with one out in the sixth, necessitated a realignment of forces, and McConnell was asked to relieve the youngster.

George did not distinguish himself in attempting to pull out of the hole, for he made two wild pitches which let a pair of runs leak across the plate. He was sparing with the hits, limiting the Westerners to two in a trifle over three innings, while Keating allowed five. The Yankees made nine off Kahler, but had trouble in converting them into runs.

The two southpaws, Schulz and Mitchell, were paired in the second game, and contributed an uneven lot of pitching. While the Yankees had the benefit of nine passes awarded by the Cleveland twirler, they could not make the fullest use of them, because he allowed only five scattered hits.

Schulz, on the other hand, proved easy picking for the Naps, who reaped eight hits in three innings. A sharp drive by O'Neill hit Schulz on the knee and forced his retirement in the fourth frame, after three hits and an error had netted three runs. Jack Warhop took up the burden, and after passing a man, filling the bases, was found for a clean-up triple by Chapman, bringing the count for the frame up to six. This was all the scoring done by the Westerners, as Warhop steadied and held them to two safeties in the last five frames, hitting one man and fanning two, without giving a pass.

Joe Jackson had a big day and monopolized the limelight much of the time. His work in both encounters may be summed up in a home run to the flower garden in centrefield, a double, two singles, one base on balls, four runs and two stolen bases. He also took care of five flies in the field.

Peckinpaugh played a dashing game at short for the Yankees, handling thirteen chances without an error. Leibold gave ample evidence why he would make a good man for the Yankees with a triple and three singles. Ed Sweeney caught the first game, and made three hits.

The visitors were the first to score in the opening engagement. Jackson beat out an infield hit at the opening of the second inning and advanced to second on Lajoie's sacrifice. Turner hit one in front of the plate, Keating's low throw to Knight pulling the fielder off the bag, so that the runner was safe, and Jackson took third. Graney singled to right, scoring Joe, Turner going to the far station. Graney died stealing and Carisch was tossed out by Peck.

After Chapman had fanned in the sixth, Olson singled and Jackson walked. Lajoie's hit to centre brought Olson home and a pass to Turner filled the bags. McConnell relieved Keating at this juncture, and the first thing the newcomer did was to unleash a wild pitch, which counted Jackson. Hartzell tossed out Graney, Lajoie scoring, and another wild pitch brought Turner home. Carisch flied to Caldwell. With one out in the eighth, Jackson put the ball in the flower garden for a home run.

The Yankees counted in the fourth, when Wolter opened with a single and went to second as Caldwell beat out a bunk. Peck sacrificed, and on Knight's sacrifice fly Wolter scored. Cree's double and Sweeney's single in the ninth netted another.

The Naps sewed up the second contest with six runs in the fourth inning. Jackson, as usual, showed the way with a piping single to left. Lajoie beat out an infield hit. Turner was safe on Hartzell's fumble, Jackson scoring while Graney walked, filling the bags. O'Neill hit Schultz on the knee with a sharp drive, which bounced away to the New York bench, letting Lajoie and Turner count.

Warhop succeeded Schulz and issued a pass to Mitchell, filling the bases again. After Leibold had lifted to Cree, Chapman tripled to left, scoring three runs. Olson hit to Peck, who nipped Chapman at the plate, while Olson was caught stealing second.

The Yankees had numerous chances to score, but failed to make the best of them, because of Mitchell's ability to tighten up in the pinches.

PHILLIES HAMMER PIRATES ONCE MORE

Hit Hendrix Hard and Make Off with Three Games Out of Series.

Pittsburgh, July 29.—Philadelphia hammered Hendrix at the right time this afternoon and defeated the Pirates easily by a score of 7 to 4, making it three out of four in the series.

Triples by Butler and Hendrix were mainly responsible for Pittsburgh's four runs, and with the score a tie in the sixth Dooin sent in Alexander to supplant Mayer. Off Alexander the Pirates got only two hits, while the visitors kept after Hendrix steadily and added three more runs to their total.

A single by Becker, a base on balls to Cravath and a single by Doolan gave them the winning run in the eighth. They added two more in the ninth.

HOME RUN IN NINTH BEATS THE INDIANS

Lennox Delivers Winning Punch After Newark Had Made Gallant Stern Chase.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.]

Montreal, July 29.—Lennox's homer over the left field fence in the ninth inning defeated Newark to-day by a score of 4 to 3. Barger was in much trouble early in the game, but held Montreal to two runs in seven innings.

Dale held Newark scoreless until the eighth, when Dalton's home run, following Higgins's single, tied the score.

Montreal batted a run across in the eighth, but Newark came back in the ninth, Getz's hit scoring Swacina after two were out. Then Lennox delivered the winning punch.

SKEETERS SCORE TWO RUNS

Poor Showing, However, as Buffalo Piles Up Seven.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.]

Buffalo, N. Y., July 29.—The Skeeters evidently used up all of their steam in defeating Rochester on Monday, for they were a tame lot to-day, and Buffalo easily won by a score of 7 to 2.

There was not an inning that the "Herd" did not find Coakley for a hit or two. Truesdale led with four safe drives, and Tim Jordan followed with three, all lusty wallops.

GIANTS PLUNGE ON, WINNING TWO GAMES

Demaree and Fromme Parcel Out Five Hits Each to the Cardinals.

MEYERS TO THE RESCUE

Two-Bagger by the Chief Opens Way for Only Run Scored by New York in the First Struggle.

St. Louis, July 29.—Ample revenge for some trifling indignities suffered at the hands of the St. Louis Cardinals this season was taken by the Giants this afternoon when they forced the local team into last place in the National League race.

Bringing their visit here to an end, the champions took both games of a crisp double-header. This gave them four out of five in the series and naturally was a cause of much rejoicing for Johnny Evers, of Chicago, who was grieving so bitterly a few days ago over the way the leaders were going to crack on the present trip. The scores were 1 to 0 and 3 to 1.

McGraw asked two of his "second string" pitchers to teach the Cardinals manners this afternoon, and the home team succeeded in scoring one run off them in eighteen innings. Al Demaree, the Southern shut-out king, who cannot shake off his old habits, was in charge of the opener and whitewashed the Cardinals, holding them to five scattered hits. Only one runner reached third base. This was Mowrey, who led off with a double in the sixth frame. Doak fouled to Meyers trying to sacrifice, but Huggins drew a pass. Then Demaree tightened up and Magee went out to Merkle unassisted, while Fletcher tossed Oakes out at first.

Fromme had everything his own way in the second game, and never gave the Cardinals a look-in. He, like Demaree, limited the batting to five well distributed safeties, and although two of them were doubles, still the home players failed to cross the plate until the champions had taken a lead of three runs. Fromme gave four passes, which was three more than Demaree awarded, and fanned three batsmen, to five for the cartoonist.

Doak, who has pitched with considerable effectiveness against the Giants this season, fought Demaree to the end. Five hits were all he condescended to give the leaders. Two of these were picked up by Chief Meyers, who led off with a double in the third inning and later counted the only run of the game, which meant victory for New York.

Slim Sallee tried to repeat his excellent performance of last Saturday, but some ragged support and a bit of consecutive hitting proved his downfall. He allowed only six hits in the seven innings he worked, and retired in favor of a pinch hitter, Geyer twirling the last two innings and checking the visitors admirably.

George Burns shows no inclination to let up in his hitting, even though the others are taking things rather easily. He had a home run to his credit in the second encounter as well as two singles in the first contest. Fletcher played a dashing game at short, handling seventeen chances with only one error. He made several stops of Wagnerian brilliance.

Meyers struck the blow that won the first game by doubling to the left field fence in the third inning. The Indian went to third while Huggins was tossing Snodgrass out at first. Demaree rapped out a long sacrifice fly to Evans which wandered so far afield that even the Chief was able to count from third. Burns beat out an infield hit and stole second. Whitted dropping a perfect throw, but Shafer fanned.

The Giants went out after the second game at an early hour. With two out in the first inning, Fletcher singled to left and stole second. Whitted fumbled Doyle's roller, Arthur going to third. He counted on a double steal with Larry, Huggins missing McLean's throw. Doyle went to third on the error, but Merkle lifted to Magee.

In the third frame Burns lined the ball past Magee for a home run. In the sixth Herzog, who appears at the far station whenever a southpaw faces the Giants, bounced a single off Huggins's shins and went to second on Fletcher's hit to right. Doyle advanced both runners a base with a sacrifice and Herzog counted on Merkle's smash to Whitted, Fletcher being caught in a chase between third and second.

The Cardinals were saved from another shut-out when Whitted walked in the seventh frame and Konetchy singled. Evans forced Konetchy at second, and while Fletcher held the ball, Whitted crossed the plate.

RAIN HELPS ATHLETICS

Win First, but Tigers Are Ahead When Storm Ends Second.

Philadelphia, July 29.—Philadelphia shut out Detroit to-day by the score of 8 to 0 in the first game of a scheduled double-header. The second game was called in the third inning on account of a thunderstorm. The home team scored one run in the second inning of the second game, and Detroit had two runs in and the bases full with two out in the third when the game was stopped.

Hall and Stanage were the battery for Detroit in the second game and Houck and Lapp for Philadelphia. After the bases had been filled Houck was taken out and Leslie Bush substituted, but the game was called before he had a chance to pitch a ball.

SENATORS CAPTURE SERIES

Engle Wins His Second Game Against the Browns.

Washington, July 29.—Washington made it three out of four by defeating St. Louis to-day by a score of 2 to 1. It was Engle's second victory in the series, and in the two games St. Louis made only five hits and scored only once.

Leverenz, although batted rather freely, tightened up with men on bases and kept the score down. Errors behind him helped Washington win the game.

The score follows:
