

A salute to Spring. Interpretative dancers at the Virginia Teachers' College, Fredericksburg, Va., welcome the glad season on the campus. ©A. P. Photo.

And now for that Summer cruise! The palatial yacht Valero III, built for G. Allan Hancock of Los Angeles, is launched with a great splash at Long Beach, Calif. The 195-foot yacht is the largest of her type on the Pacific Coast. ©Wide World Photos.

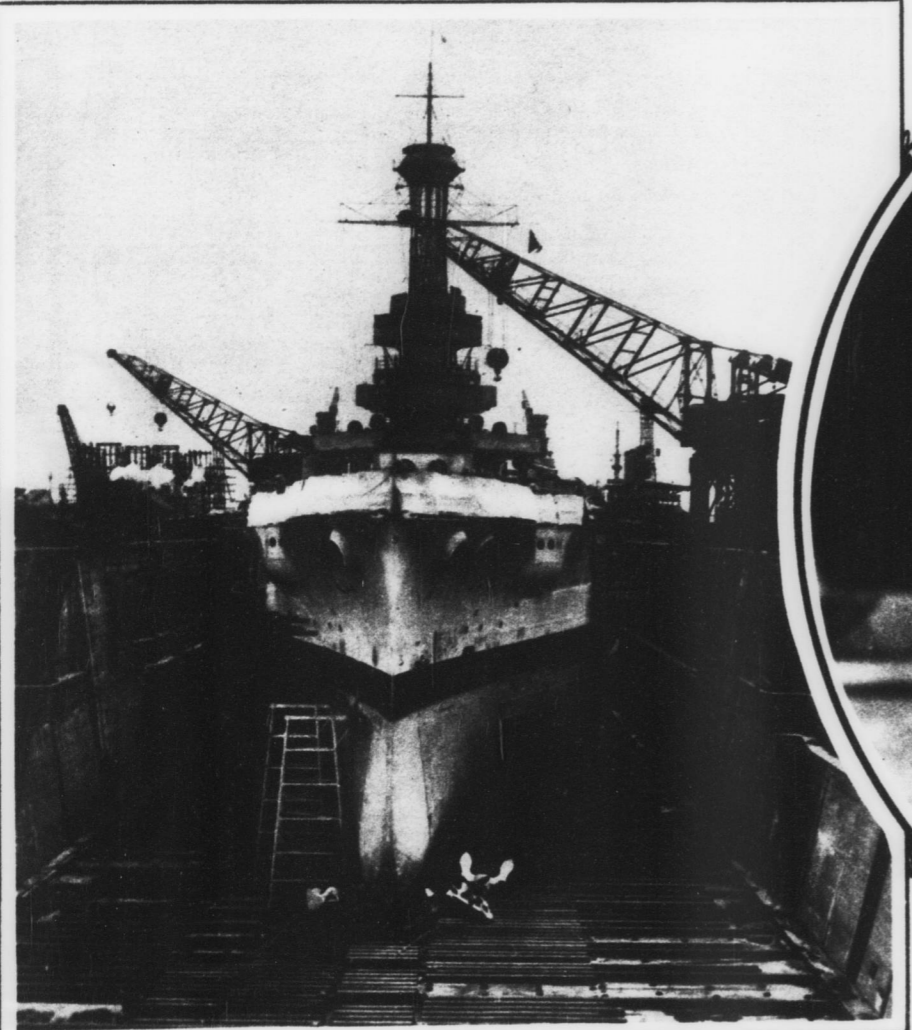

A neighbor drops in. Something inviting about an open door these Spring days. ©Boyer Photo.

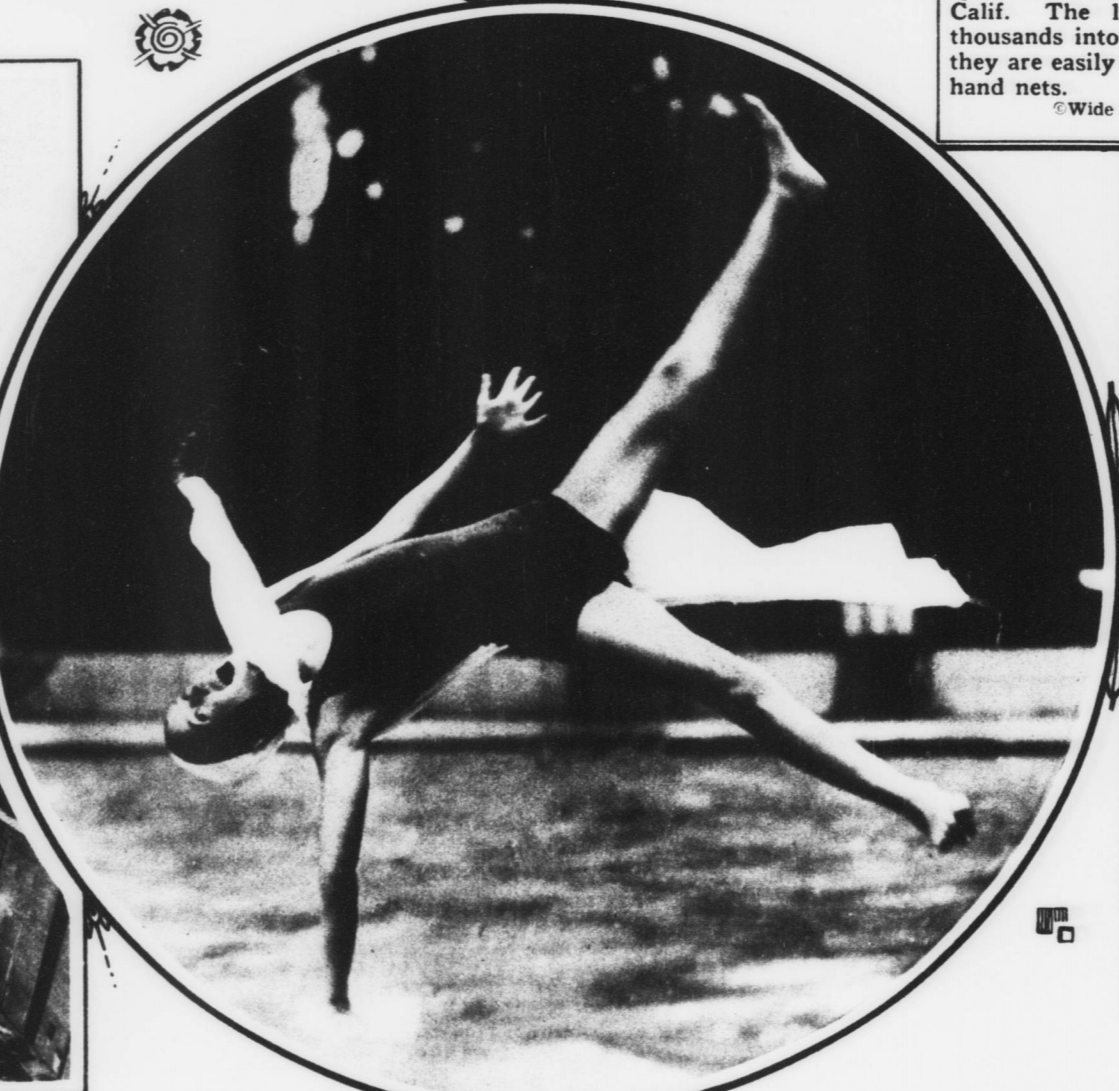

Catching flying fish by searchlight. It's the latest sport at Catalina Island, Calif. The light brings thousands into the air and they are easily snared with hand nets. ©Wide World Photos.

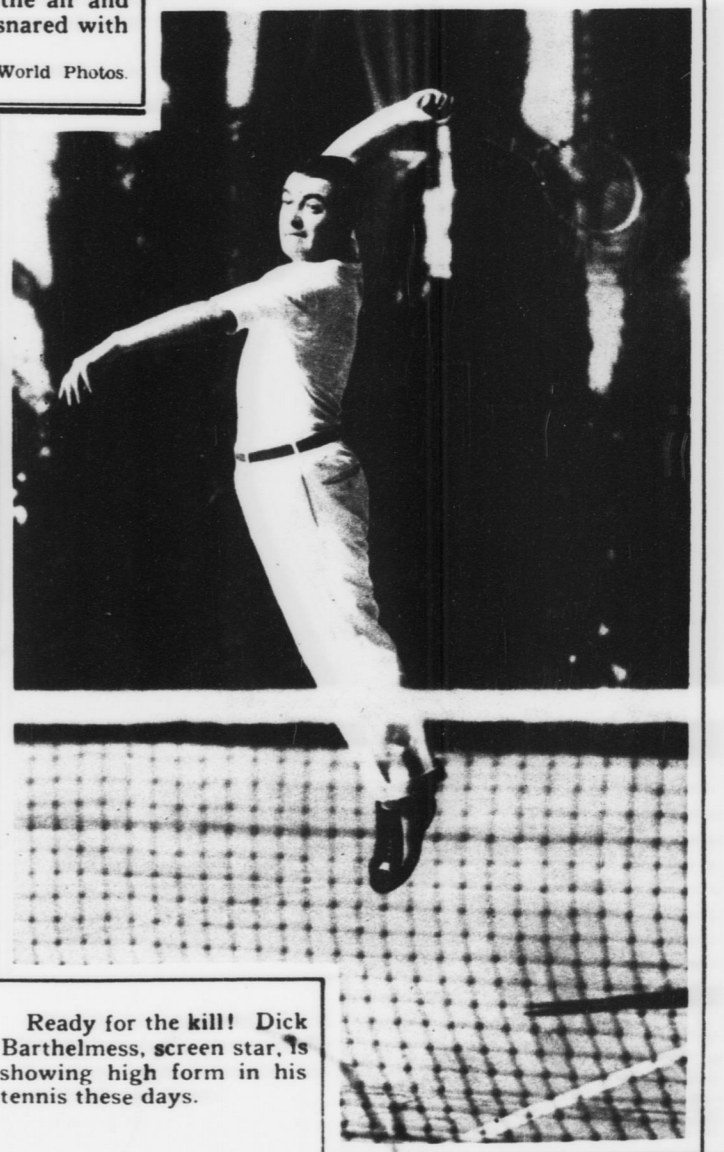

Mlle. Fanny Bunand-Sevastos, young Greek-French painter, who is holding an exhibit of her oil work at the Arts Club of Washington. ©Jordan

The old battleship Wisconsin becomes a training ship. Here she is in drydock at the Philadelphia Navy Yard, being prepared for the midshipmen's cruise this Summer. ©Wide World Photos.

The champion clown dive of the year! This graceful plunge won top honors for Miss Mary Cobb of Pasadena, Calif., in a swimming gymkhana of the younger set there. ©Wide World Photos.

Ready for the kill! Dick Barthelmess, screen star, is showing high form in his tennis these days.