

strongest hands in the financial world. Interests that have stood aside for many months watching the decline are now busy buying bargains. They do not hesitate to say that these stocks will be for sale should the market advance, because the purchasers are taking aboard an abnormal volume of securities.

The banks of importance are finding themselves supplied with an abundance of cash. It will be no calamity in the Wall Street view if a few hundred small banks disappear from the horizon permanently, and the big people are standing things as they are, even in these small banks will get all of their money back.

Standard Advanced. No particular stock distinguished itself today, but the standard issues were used to influence sentiment and they advanced from 1 to 3 1/2.

Money was turned freely and the responsible bankers said they looked for no further panic just now on that account.

The United States Exchange Bank, Nos. 23 and 25 West 15th street, posted a notice before banking hours today announcing its temporary suspension.

A large crowd gathered in front of the bank and the officers telephoned to police headquarters for protection, bearing a hostile demonstration. The Borough Bank, of Brooklyn, also printed a notice of suspension.

The notice posted at the United States Exchange Bank was as follows: "NOTICE. In consequence of the closing of other banks and the unusual demand for cash, we have decided to remain closed to-day. The bank is perfectly solvent, but these are extraordinary times, and we have to resort to extraordinary measures to protect ourselves and our depositors."

Nearly $1,000,000 Deposits. The United States Exchange Bank is capitalized at $100,000 and has a surplus and profits of $7,776. Individual deposits amount to $889,570.

The last report of the Borough Bank of Brooklyn, which also posted a notice of temporary suspension, gave a capital of $200,000, with a surplus of $20,000. The loans were given at $2,500,000, with deposits of $3,250,000. The undivided profits were $35,000.

Another Brooklyn Bank Closed. The third was the Brooklyn Bank, with a branch at 601 Fulton street, Brooklyn. Both Brooklyn banks are controlled by the International Trust Company of New York, which also holds the majority of stock of several other Brooklyn banks.

Providence Bank Forced to Close By Money Slump. PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 25.—The Union trust company, the largest financial institution in this city, closed its doors today, posting a notice that it was compelled to do so because of the stringency in the money market.

The company announces that it has assets of $28,000,000, with deposits of $21,000,000. Of the deposits $10,000,000 were subject to check, and $11,000,000 were savings accounts deposited by more than 25,000 persons, most of them poor.

J. Edward Studley is president of the company, and Mrs. J. Perry, who was associated with Oakleigh Thorpe, of the Trust Company of America in the purchase of the Central railroad, of Georgia, is vice president, director, and ruling spirit of the institution.

The capital of the Union Trust Company was $200,000, with a surplus of $3,250,000. C. S. Wetland has been appointed a receiver for the company.

At the close of the meeting of the directors of the company this morning the following notice was posted: "Expect to resume Monday."

Dollar Bank Run Renewed; One Casualty. NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Arthur C. Simpson, fifty years old, had stood in the line of depositors making the run on the Dollar Savings Bank, at 140 street and Third avenue, so long that today he collapsed.

It was believed that he had been in line since daybreak yesterday and that he had had no nourishment. R. R. Frev, of the Lincoln Hospital, was called, gave the man brandy and took him to the hospital, where it was said he would recover. He was suffering from almost complete physical exhaustion.

All-Night Vigil At Banks' Doors Kept by Scores

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Not even the promptness with which earlier arrivals got their money yesterday served to prevent the gathering of big crowds to-day in the banks and trust institutions on which runs are in progress.

At the Lincoln Trust Company the first in line was an aged, white-haired man, who reached the entrance at 11 o'clock last night. He brought a camp stool with him, on which, hunched in a shawl, he sat until the opening hour to-day. Between 200 and 300 other depositors had joined him by daylight.

From Trust Company of North America's lobby men and women were awaiting a chance to withdraw their deposits also extended several blocks. Crowds gathered in front of a few other concerns, but nowhere in such numbers as at the Lincoln and Trust companies.

Leading financiers expressed the opinion, following a conference at J. P. Morgan's home lasting until 1 a. m., that the worst of the financial flurry is over.

Just what was done at the Morgan meeting no one would say. President Steiwer of the National City Bank said it was only an informal talk. The situation, has improved so much that I shall make no statement to-night, said Secretary Cortelyou at the Hotel Manhattan to-night.

"So far as I have been able to learn, all the banks under my supervision are solvent," said Clerk Williams, the new State banking superintendent. "Only rash and unreasonable action by the depositors can further endanger the situation."

Financiers point out, with much satisfaction, that, though Wall street has been embarrassed by the shortage of money, and the banks by heavy withdrawals, there have been no commercial failures. They take this as a positive indication that business conditions are sound.

Plan Temporary Receiver for Knickerbocker Trust; Offers to Sell Its Building. NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—It was learned today that the directors and committees that are trying to bring order out of the chaotic affairs of the Knickerbocker Trust Company have determined to apply for the appointment of a temporary receiver. If the superintendent of banks and Attorney General Jackson approve of the plan, the directors and men acting with them will resolve themselves into a protective pool, which will eventually absorb the assets of the company and assume all its obligations.

The depositors, it is said, will be paid. It is likely that the company, in the event of the guarantee plan going through, will ask permission first to open its trust department. Some of the directors said there was hope that this department might be in operation again by the first of next week.

The activities of this department are confined solely to stock and bond transfers. The revenue from this business is about $250,000 a year. Some of the Knickerbocker directors approached certain interests in Wall Street yesterday with a view to bringing about a sale of the company's big home at Thirty-sixth street. It is understood they want $2,500,000 for the building. The interests approached were not in a position to take the property. The building is one of Stanford White's finest pieces of work.

London Market Improves As New York Grows Steadier. LONDON, Oct. 25.—Sentiment in relation to American securities has been much strengthened by the support given to the situation by the Federal Treasury and leading financiers, and the late rally on the New York exchange yesterday.

Covering of shorts and free buying orders have combined to affect material advances in prices to issues at this center. The greatest gains are in Illinois Central and St. Paul. Depositors Withdraw $50,000 From Bank in Baltimore. BALTIMORE, Oct. 25.—The run on the eastern branch of the Home Bank continues today. The crowd, held in check by police, has already withdrawn $50,000. Other banks are seemingly unaffected.

Suspended Institution Without Connection Here. James M. Morgan, assistant manager of the International Banking Corporation, received word this morning from New York that a small trust company, having the title of the International Trust Company had closed its doors.

Mr. Morgan said that the company was not connected in any way with the International Banking Corporation of New York and this city, but only a small local concern that had been in existence for less than a year.

MEYER ISSUES ORDER RELEASING LARGE SUMS. Postmaster General Meyer today issued an order amending the postal regulations authorizing postmasters to collect only such amount as is necessary to cover cost of material and printing for such orders as may be placed with them for special-request envelopes.

The practice has been to require patrons to deposit with postmasters an amount sufficient to cover cost of material and printing, as well as the stamp value of the envelopes when placing orders. It is to prevent taking this large amount of money out of circulation that the new rule is made.

Bulletin

The official announcement of the opening of the new Union Station at Washington is made as follows:

OPENING OF THE UNION STATION OF THE WASHINGTON TERMINAL COMPANY

The new Union Station of the Washington Terminal Company will be placed in service on Sunday, October 27, 1907.

On that date all passenger trains of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, both through and local, will enter and depart from the new station, and the present station of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad at New Jersey Avenue and C Street will be closed to traffic.

On November 17 the passenger trains of the Pennsylvania Railroad (Philadelphia, Baltimore & Washington Railroad), the Washington Southern Railway, the Southern Railway, the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway, the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, and the Seaboard Air Line Railway, will run into and depart from the new Union Station, and the present station at Sixth and B Streets will be discontinued.

The station building, as far as the interior arrangements are concerned, is not finished to that degree of completeness in which the Washington Terminal Company has endeavored and hoped to present it to the use of the public, and for some time at least, on account of the enforced continuation of the work of fitting out the interior, the traveling public will not be able to enjoy the full benefit of its conveniences.

This condition is due entirely to the fact that in order to complete the grading of the ground adjacent to the station, according to the Act of Congress creating the station, the present tracks of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad must be removed, and to the further fact that in order to push to completion the elevated structure carrying the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad, the surface tracks on a portion of Maryland Avenue and on Sixth Street leading into the present Pennsylvania Station must be abandoned, thereby cutting off all track connection with the Sixth and B Streets Station.

All track connections of the various railroad lines with the Union Station are complete, and the eastern end of the Union Station will be fully equipped for business on the specified dates.

In the meantime the work on the main portion of the new station will be forced forward with all possible rapidity, and it is confidently expected that the entire structure will be completely finished by the end of the present year.

THE WASHINGTON TERMINAL COMPANY, G. W. Martin, Superintendent. Detailed announcements relative to the new station will be published by the Pennsylvania Railroad at a later date.
