

INDIANA MOOSE BACK IN RANKS AS REPUBLICANS Reunited Party Certain to Defeat the Democrats Next Fall. FAIRBANKS ONLY CHOICE OF STATE His Friends Insist He Will Be Nominated in June and Elected in November.

By HOWARD D. HADLEY. (By Telegram to The Tribune.) Indianapolis, March 12.—The tumult and shouting of Indiana's first direct primary election having died away, and the ballots, with their complicated first and second choice provisions, having been counted, the voters of the grand old Hoosier State have had time to think things over a bit and take account of the results. It is always true that predictions made three months ahead of a national convention and eight months prior to Election Day are subject, like a railroad time table, to change without notice. Never in the last thirty years or more has this been more true than this year.

A lot of water will go over the dam before June 7, and still more will run under the bridge before November. But the figures of the voting in the primaries here last Tuesday and other established facts tend very strongly to show several things.

Two Senators in Sight. The condition of Senator Shire's health, which has been growing more and more alarming for months, is considered to be hopeless, and there is every indication that Indiana will elect a second Senator in a year.

There is every prospect that the delegation from Indiana in the lower branch of Congress, instead of standing eleven Democrats and two Republicans as now, will number at least seven Republicans and not over six Democrats in any reasonable estimate, with a very good chance of the Republicans getting eleven of the thirteen and a fair possibility of electing a solid Republican delegation, as has been done in years gone by.

Call Him Second McKinley. The Hoosiers refer to Fairbanks broadly as a "second McKinley." They point to his twelve years in the United States Senate, his four years in the Vice-President's chair, his years of travel all over the world, for and against foreign affairs at first hand, his wide acquaintance in this and other countries with public men, his success as a man of affairs, his tact and diplomacy, all combining, they agree, to make him the most competent man available to guide the destinies of this country during the next four years.

Progressives Invited to Return. Practically the first move made was to invite about one hundred of the leading members of the Progressive party to a dinner here in the Severin Hotel. The progressives were invited to join the Republican party and take hold and help build up a militant Progressive-Republican party in the state. The progressives were assured unequivocally that there was every disposition to wipe the slate clean, forget old scores and start new, all on an equal basis.

The Progressive leaders took the Republican leaders at their word, and the own story. Roosevelt in 1912 polled 10,000 votes in Indiana, leading Taft by over 10,000. The Progressives on Tuesday polled fewer than 3,500 votes.

INDIANA MOOSE BACK IN RANKS AS REPUBLICANS

Reunited Party Certain to Defeat the Democrats Next Fall.

FAIRBANKS ONLY CHOICE OF STATE

His Friends Insist He Will Be Nominated in June and Elected in November.

By HOWARD D. HADLEY. (By Telegram to The Tribune.) Indianapolis, March 12.—The tumult and shouting of Indiana's first direct primary election having died away, and the ballots, with their complicated first and second choice provisions, having been counted, the voters of the grand old Hoosier State have had time to think things over a bit and take account of the results.

Two Senators in Sight. The condition of Senator Shire's health, which has been growing more and more alarming for months, is considered to be hopeless, and there is every indication that Indiana will elect a second Senator in a year.

There is every prospect that the delegation from Indiana in the lower branch of Congress, instead of standing eleven Democrats and two Republicans as now, will number at least seven Republicans and not over six Democrats in any reasonable estimate, with a very good chance of the Republicans getting eleven of the thirteen and a fair possibility of electing a solid Republican delegation, as has been done in years gone by.

Call Him Second McKinley. The Hoosiers refer to Fairbanks broadly as a "second McKinley." They point to his twelve years in the United States Senate, his four years in the Vice-President's chair, his years of travel all over the world, for and against foreign affairs at first hand, his wide acquaintance in this and other countries with public men, his success as a man of affairs, his tact and diplomacy, all combining, they agree, to make him the most competent man available to guide the destinies of this country during the next four years.

Progressives Invited to Return. Practically the first move made was to invite about one hundred of the leading members of the Progressive party to a dinner here in the Severin Hotel. The progressives were invited to join the Republican party and take hold and help build up a militant Progressive-Republican party in the state. The progressives were assured unequivocally that there was every disposition to wipe the slate clean, forget old scores and start new, all on an equal basis.

The Progressive leaders took the Republican leaders at their word, and the own story. Roosevelt in 1912 polled 10,000 votes in Indiana, leading Taft by over 10,000. The Progressives on Tuesday polled fewer than 3,500 votes.

The Progressive leaders took the Republican leaders at their word, and the own story. Roosevelt in 1912 polled 10,000 votes in Indiana, leading Taft by over 10,000. The Progressives on Tuesday polled fewer than 3,500 votes.

MOOSE DEMAND T. R. OR EQUAL

This the Price of Union with Republicans, Says William Flinn.

PATRIOTISM MUST DOMINATE PLATFORM

Keystone Leader Predicts Penroses and Barneses Won't Control Convention.

By Telegram to The Tribune. Pittsburgh, March 12.—Roosevelt or "a man somewhere near his equal" for President, nominated on a platform of patriotism, is the means of amalgamation which the Progressive party will offer the Republican party when the national conventions meet next June in Chicago, William Flinn, Pennsylvania member of the Progressive National Committee, declared here today.

The ship statement still stands, said Mr. Flinn, referring to his remark, made a month or two ago: "The rule of the seas applies to me. I must be the last—or one of the last—to leave the Progressive ship; that is, provided all the others decide to leave." Progressive belief that the only logical move for the Republicans would be to nominate Roosevelt, expressed today by Senator Flinn, has been voiced before by men active in the third party, but Mr. Flinn added: "Colonel Roosevelt practically says that he will accept nothing short of a unanimous call from the convention."

Union Depends on Republicans. "The ship statement still stands," Mr. Flinn continued. "I am a Progressive and will remain a Progressive, unless there is an amalgamation between the Progressive and Republican parties when the two national conventions meet in Chicago, in June." "Whether there is to be an amalgamation rests with the Republicans. The Republican party at its national convention will be offered opportunity to nominate a candidate for President the Progressives can endorse, and upon a platform they can support, and the Progressives, assembled in convention at the same time, will be on hand to pass judgment.

Conventions Uncontrolled. "The country will be found displaying precious little concern with politics, politicians, or even parties at a time when the future of the Republic is at stake." "The Barneses and Penroses will not control the next Republican convention, because the exigencies of the party itself and of the nation will make it impossible. Nobody will control the convention."

Minnesota to Name Choice for President To-morrow. St. Paul, March 12.—Minnesota's first Presidential preference primary election will be held next Tuesday, when delegates to the Republican, Democratic and Prohibition national conventions will be chosen. The Progressives have filed an unopposed list of candidates, who will be certified on the ballot as electors.

Westchester County suffragists were jubilant yesterday, and Senator George F. Slater, who has been a target for the anti because he introduced a bill at Albany for Presidential suffrage, feels that he was vindicated at an anti-suffrage meeting held in St. Mary's Hall Saturday night. Senator Slater said it would be a hard precedent if a bill once defeated could never be reintroduced.

There are nearly 350,000 people in Westchester County, and Senator Slater, and only 47,000 voted. Therefore every legislator is elected by the minority. I believe the great number of women in the majority are entitled to representation, and as a true representative I only did my duty. Anti-suffrage speakers who followed Senator Slater were Miss Alice Hill, Chittenden and Miss Lucy Price, while Mrs. Harriet Stanton Hatch and Mrs. Beatrice Forbes-Robertson Hatch spoke for the suffrage cause. If applause is a barometer, the meeting was a triumph for suffrage. It was called to give Senator Slater an opportunity to explain his position on the bill.

BROOKLYN BACKS ENRIGHT

Citizens to Protest Against Failure to Promote Lieutenant. The 13th Assembly District Taxpayers, the Eastern District Civic Association, the North Side Board of Trade and several minor organizations in the Williamsburg and Greenpoint sections of Brooklyn are preparing to protest to Mayor Mitchell the refusal of Police Commissioner Woods to promote Lieutenant Richard E. Enright, of the Stagg Street Station.

On Friday Commissioner Woods called Enright, the head of the Civil Service eligible list, and rejected him for the third time, "for the good of the service." He appointed four lieutenants under Enright, thereby causing Enright to be automatically dropped from the list. Mayor Mitchell on Saturday endorsed the Commissioner's action, which was caused, the Mayor added, by departmental reasons, the nature of which he refused to disclose.

Enright reported for duty at the Stagg Street station at 8 o'clock a. m.

Dinner for Koenig. A complimentary dinner will be given for Samuel S. Koenig, chairman of the Republican County Committee, at the Republican Club, in Fortieth Street, to-morrow night, by the thirty-one district leaders of New York County and the state committee of this city. There will be six guests: Governor Whitman, Herbert Parsons, Ogden L. Mills, Otto T. Barnard, Marcus M. Marks, Martin Stenlund and Charles D. Hilles. Governor Whitman will speak.

Philadelphia, March 12.—Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh, in response to a letter from Henry G. Wasson, Republican National Committeeman from Pennsylvania, urging that he be a candidate for the Presidential nomination, made public to-night his reply accepting the invitation. Mr. Brumbaugh's name will accordingly be placed on the Presidential preferential ballot to be voted in the primary election on May 16. Mr. Wasson, who was elected to the national committee by the followers of Theodore Roosevelt in 1912, urged the Governor to assume the leadership in a movement to secure a delegation to the Republican National Convention which would be acceptable to the Progressives, as well as the Republicans. Political leaders believe that the Governor's announcement presages a fight in the Republican primary between Mr. Brumbaugh and Senator Boies Penrose for control of the delegation from this state.

Governor Brumbaugh declares in his letter to Mr. Wasson that "such unity of thought and concert of action by the Republican forces of the Commonwealth as to presage a reunited party and a Republican victory in November cannot be accomplished under any factional leadership," and that he has been assured by many that "those who are held responsible for the disaster of 1912 cannot bring together the broken forces of the party and lead it to decisive victory."

In case of a factional contest in the state the Governor is said to have been assured of the support of Representative William S. Vare and his brother, State Senator Edwin H. Vare, who are among the potential political leaders in this city, as well as ex-State Senator William Flinn and other supporters of Colonel Roosevelt in the western section of the state.

state the Governor is said to have been assured of the support of Representative William S. Vare and his brother, State Senator Edwin H. Vare, who are among the potential political leaders in this city, as well as ex-State Senator William Flinn and other supporters of Colonel Roosevelt in the western section of the state.

BRUMBAUGH OUT FOR PRESIDENT

Keystone Executive's Decision Means Fight with Penrose for Control.

Philadelphia, March 12.—Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh, in response to a letter from Henry G. Wasson, Republican National Committeeman from Pennsylvania, urging that he be a candidate for the Presidential nomination, made public to-night his reply accepting the invitation. Mr. Brumbaugh's name will accordingly be placed on the Presidential preferential ballot to be voted in the primary election on May 16. Mr. Wasson, who was elected to the national committee by the followers of Theodore Roosevelt in 1912, urged the Governor to assume the leadership in a movement to secure a delegation to the Republican National Convention which would be acceptable to the Progressives, as well as the Republicans. Political leaders believe that the Governor's announcement presages a fight in the Republican primary between Mr. Brumbaugh and Senator Boies Penrose for control of the delegation from this state.

Governor Brumbaugh declares in his letter to Mr. Wasson that "such unity of thought and concert of action by the Republican forces of the Commonwealth as to presage a reunited party and a Republican victory in November cannot be accomplished under any factional leadership," and that he has been assured by many that "those who are held responsible for the disaster of 1912 cannot bring together the broken forces of the party and lead it to decisive victory."

In case of a factional contest in the state the Governor is said to have been assured of the support of Representative William S. Vare and his brother, State Senator Edwin H. Vare, who are among the potential political leaders in this city, as well as ex-State Senator William Flinn and other supporters of Colonel Roosevelt in the western section of the state.

state the Governor is said to have been assured of the support of Representative William S. Vare and his brother, State Senator Edwin H. Vare, who are among the potential political leaders in this city, as well as ex-State Senator William Flinn and other supporters of Colonel Roosevelt in the western section of the state.

state the Governor is said to have been assured of the support of Representative William S. Vare and his brother, State Senator Edwin H. Vare, who are among the potential political leaders in this city, as well as ex-State Senator William Flinn and other supporters of Colonel Roosevelt in the western section of the state.

state the Governor is said to have been assured of the support of Representative William S. Vare and his brother, State Senator Edwin H. Vare, who are among the potential political leaders in this city, as well as ex-State Senator William Flinn and other supporters of Colonel Roosevelt in the western section of the state.

state the Governor is said to have been assured of the support of Representative William S. Vare and his brother, State Senator Edwin H. Vare, who are among the potential political leaders in this city, as well as ex-State Senator William Flinn and other supporters of Colonel Roosevelt in the western section of the state.

BRUMBAUGH OUT FOR PRESIDENT

Keystone Executive's Decision Means Fight with Penrose for Control.

Philadelphia, March 12.—Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh, in response to a letter from Henry G. Wasson, Republican National Committeeman from Pennsylvania, urging that he be a candidate for the Presidential nomination, made public to-night his reply accepting the invitation. Mr. Brumbaugh's name will accordingly be placed on the Presidential preferential ballot to be voted in the primary election on May 16. Mr. Wasson, who was elected to the national committee by the followers of Theodore Roosevelt in 1912, urged the Governor to assume the leadership in a movement to secure a delegation to the Republican National Convention which would be acceptable to the Progressives, as well as the Republicans. Political leaders believe that the Governor's announcement presages a fight in the Republican primary between Mr. Brumbaugh and Senator Boies Penrose for control of the delegation from this state.

Governor Brumbaugh declares in his letter to Mr. Wasson that "such unity of thought and concert of action by the Republican forces of the Commonwealth as to presage a reunited party and a Republican victory in November cannot be accomplished under any factional leadership," and that he has been assured by many that "those who are held responsible for the disaster of 1912 cannot bring together the broken forces of the party and lead it to decisive victory."

In case of a factional contest in the state the Governor is said to have been assured of the support of Representative William S. Vare and his brother, State Senator Edwin H. Vare, who are among the potential political leaders in this city, as well as ex-State Senator William Flinn and other supporters of Colonel Roosevelt in the western section of the state.

state the Governor is said to have been assured of the support of Representative William S. Vare and his brother, State Senator Edwin H. Vare, who are among the potential political leaders in this city, as well as ex-State Senator William Flinn and other supporters of Colonel Roosevelt in the western section of the state.

state the Governor is said to have been assured of the support of Representative William S. Vare and his brother, State Senator Edwin H. Vare, who are among the potential political leaders in this city, as well as ex-State Senator William Flinn and other supporters of Colonel Roosevelt in the western section of the state.

state the Governor is said to have been assured of the support of Representative William S. Vare and his brother, State Senator Edwin H. Vare, who are among the potential political leaders in this city, as well as ex-State Senator William Flinn and other supporters of Colonel Roosevelt in the western section of the state.

state the Governor is said to have been assured of the support of Representative William S. Vare and his brother, State Senator Edwin H. Vare, who are among the potential political leaders in this city, as well as ex-State Senator William Flinn and other supporters of Colonel Roosevelt in the western section of the state.

YOU CAN AVOID the pitfalls in the Investment Market and add to your Material Assets by purchasing our 4 1/2% GUARANTEED FIRST MORTGAGES. LAWYERS MORTGAGE CO. RICHARD M. MURD, President. Capital, Surplus & Pr. $9,000,000. 29 Liberty St., N. Y. 134 Montague St., Bklyn.

And for Bonnie Annie Laurie I'd lay me down and die. PHONOGRAPH RECORD. Soprano Solo. ANNIE LAURIE. A 17372. "—that afternoon I sang "Annie Laurie"—not with my own voice, but with my own feeling!" THE AEOLIAN-VOCALION MODEL K $300. "THE PHONOGRAPH OF RICHER TONE THAT YOU CAN PLAY". I HAD stopped for a moment in a beautiful music wareroom—and on my journey to the door I paused. Some one was singing "Annie Laurie" behind me, so sweetly, so touchingly, that I turned. I was listening not to the human voice as I had thought, but to the Aeolian-Vocalion, the new and greater phonograph which I had never heard till then. That was a wonderful moment for me! I was listening to a song whose depth of emotional appeal depends on the delivery of every tonal shade. And yet each tone was sounding so beautifully and with such a delicate significance, for all its richened quality, that the tears came to my eyes! So I found myself sitting before this newest type of phonograph, and the salesman was asking me, "Would you not like to sing that song yourself?" I merely stared, for how could I sing it—I who have no voice but merely a deep feeling and love for beautiful music? He smiled and passed me what he called the Graduola—a seemingly simple device operated by a finger. He showed me how, with a graduated pressure upon it, I could fairly melt the tones away to an extremity of plaintive sweetness, or swell them forth so that they reflected every deep emotion this tender old song roused within me. That afternoon I sang "Annie Laurie," not with my own voice but with my own feeling—through the Graduola device which has revolutionized the phonograph. That musical experience I will never forget. I never had one like it, and though I never expected to buy a phonograph, yet I did buy the Vocalion—so infinitely more wonderful than any phonograph I have ever heard. For no phonograph but the Vocalion enables you to play the phonograph yourself, and so to become—far more than a mere listener—a sharer in music. Of course, the Vocalion plays itself, exactly as do the older fashioned phonographs, though with far richer and fuller tones. Neither will it vary a record in any way, unless you wish it to. The self-expression device is simply an added privilege which, when you exercise it, adds immeasurably to the interest of the phonograph. We invite you to hear this and other models of the Aeolian-Vocalion irrespective of any question of buying. THE AEOLIAN COMPANY. AEOLIAN HALL, 29 WEST 42ND STREET, BETWEEN 5TH AND 6TH AVENUES. Makers of the famous Pianola—Largest Manufacturers of Musical Instruments in the World. Copyright, 1916, The Aeolian Company.

The Coward Shoe. When the merits of an article make it famous, it is sure to be imitated. Most people prefer the original. Sold Nowhere Else. James S. Coward. 265-274 Greenwich St., N. Y. (Near Warren Street). Mail Orders Filled. Send for Catalog.