

AMONG US MORTALS

Drawn by W. E. HILL.

THE SUBURBAN STATION

Somebody's cook is leaving, and an air of tragedy hangs over the whole of the countryside.

Someone has just told Pete, the baggage man, that it was "one cute little dame" he was with last Sunday.

The lady who made her money in dressmaking saying "good morning" to the lady who inherited hers.

Tired business man hurrying home from the 6:10 to take the wife back to town on the 7:16.

The pest who cracks jokes at 7:45 on a cold, damp morning and does his own laughing.

The lady who plays the organ in the church going to town to give a music lesson.

Waiting for the 12:45 into town on matinee day. The lady on the right is taking her feathers to be curled.

Musical comedy comedian who has a little papier mache house in the suburbs.
