

A Battleship and Her Brood—Fleet sailing races are fall and winter diversions at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, where our fighting ships play at war

Copyright Mises from Underwood & Underwood

Mothers and children marched through London streets recently in protest against sixpenny milk. They think fivepence is enough, even in time of war

International Film Service

No, the Capitol Isn't Afire. Sightseers who ran blocks in the expectation of seeing something burn up found the building getting its annual bath with a fire hose

Photo by Harris & Evans from Pict. Times

The Deutschland brought this picture from Germany. It shows the Kaiser talking to a wounded soldier in a field hospital.

Copyright, Underwood & Underwood

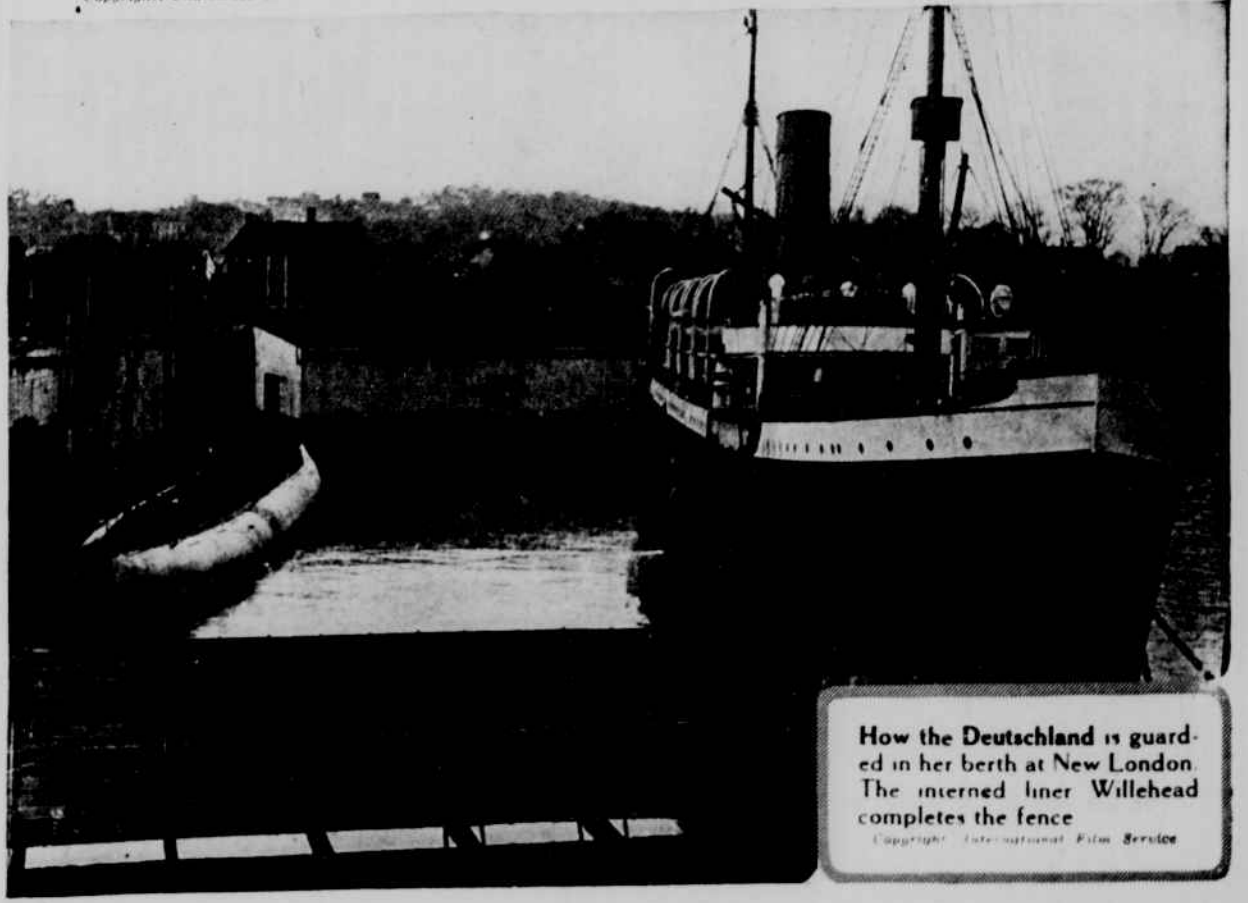

Tom Thumb's widow, long happily married to Count Magri, celebrated her seventy-fifth birthday last week at her home in Middleboro, Mass. "Don't argue; let him have his way," is her recipe for married happiness.

Copyright, Underwood & Underwood

Wellesley holds its annual field day. The start of the basket ball game between seniors and juniors

Copyright International Film Service

How the Deutschland is guarded in her berth at New London. The interned liner Willehead completes the fence

Copyright International Film Service