WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

WHITE PLAINS.

Justice J. O. Dykman, in the Supreme Court, in the case of the receivership of the New-York, Westchester and Boston Railway Company, has vacated both orders made upon the application of the receiver in this proceeding, and in an opinion accompanying the order the Judge says: "Now the field is open and the receiver can make another application upon notice, so that all parties interested can be heard."

The certificate of incorporation of the Mount Vernon Chemical Company, of Mount Vernon, was filed in the County Clerk's office yesterday. The corporation is formed for the manufacture and sale of medicinal preparations; the capital stock is fixed at $10,000, divided into 100 shares of the par value of $25. The corporation is to continue forever if its existence be not sooner legally terminated, and the directors are Leonard Lewis, Walter S. Wood and Solomon Bernstein, all of the Borough of Manhattan, New-York City.

EAST VIEW.

The Board of Supervisors paid their annual visit of inspection to the county almshouse yesterday. The supervisors and guests, about two hundred in all, arrived at noon and were shown through the different buildings by Superintendent Esser and Mr. Crisfield. Everything was found in excellent condition, and the different supervisors did not hesitate to commend Mr. Esser at the dinner which followed. Chauncey M. Secor, of Scarsdale, chairman of the Board, made the opening address. Superintendent Esser responded and speeches were made by Supervisor Dillon, of New-Rochelle; ex-Senator Charles F. McClelland, of Dobbs Ferry; Supervisor See, of North Castle; Supervisor Lent, of East Chester, and Supervisor Schermer, of White Plains.

TARRYTOWN.

Michael McManus, an old resident of Pennybridge, died on Tuesday. He was seventy-eight years old. His funeral will be held this morning in the Church of the Transfiguration, and the burial will be in Sleepy Hollow.

A large number of costly palms in F. W. Pierson's greenhouses, in North Broadway, were recently destroyed by rats.

It is announced that some of the members of the Young Men's Lyceum are in favor of changing the name of the Public Library to that of the Ferris Library, in appreciation of the bequests of Benson Ferris.

MOUNT VERNON.

Mrs. Barbara Coles died on Monday at her home, No. 49 Beech-st. It is said that Mrs. Coles predicted her own death. Seeing a funeral passing the house, she turned to the family and remarked that she would be the next to go. She was taken ill almost immediately, and died within ten minutes afterward. The cause of her death was dropsy.

While the women of the house were out shopping burglars entered the home of John H. Jones, No. 58 North Eighth-ave., on Tuesday afternoon, and carried away jewelry and silverware valued at $400. There is no clew to the thieves.

William Buckley, one of the oldest merchants in this city, died at his home, in south Fourth-ave., on Tuesday. Mr. Buckley was eighty-seven years old and was born in Ireland. He had lived in Mount Vernon thirty-seven years, conducting business until two years ago, when he was succeeded by his son, Albert Buckley. The funeral was held in St. Paul's Episcopal Church yesterday.

YONKERS.

There was a home wedding on Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Wheaton, when their daughter, Miss Medora Maud Wheaton, was married to Elijah Yerks. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. John M. Reed, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church. Miss Alice C. Schoonmaker was the maid of honor, and Charles Frederick Wheaton, brother of the bride, the best man. Among the many handsome gifts was a silver service from the members of Rising Star Lodge, F. and A. M., of which Mr. Yerks is Master. After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Yerks will live at No. 24 Buena Vista-ave.

Abigail Jane Odell Belknap, mother of School Trustee Ethelbert Belknap, died at the latter's home, in Warburton-ave., on Tuesday. She was seventy-nine years old.

A special meeting of the Yonkers Corinthian Yacht Club will be held this evening at the Hollywood Inn Club to decide on winter quarters and the building of a new approach to the clubhouse, near the end of Vark-st.

Last night the Hollywood Inn Club entertained nearly five hundred employes of the Alexander Smith & Son's Carpet Company. The guests began to gather at 7:30 o'clock, and had the freedom of the house till about 9 o'clock, when an entertainment was given in the assembly hall. The club will give a reception this evening to about five hundred more employes of the same concern, whom it could not entertain last night.

The free entertainment on Christmas Eve, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association, will be made appropriate to the Christmas season. It will be given by Mrs. Fanetta Sargent Haskell.

PORT CHESTER.

Charles L. Austin, a prominent real-estate dealer of this village, was married last evening to Miss Mary Fehrs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Fehrs. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents, in Westchester-ave., and was followed by a reception. The Rev. Charles Edward Brugler, of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, officiated.

The recent estimate of the Highway Commissioners of Rye of $2,000 to maintain the roads outside the villages of Port Chester and Mamaroneck has been reduced by the Town Board to $1,600. The reduction was made at the request of the Rye Protective Association and other citizens, who have been dissatisfied with the work of the Commissioners.

WAR TAX IN SURROGATE'S OFFICE.

From inquiries made at the Surrogate's office as to what papers require stamps under the War Revenue law the following facts were gleaned: Administration bonds require a 50-cent stamp; all acknowledgments made before a notary require a 10-cent stamp; all copies of orders or decrees (made by a clerk of the court) have to be certified as true copies and require a 10-cent stamp; every instrument which is required by law to be stamped, if produced in evidence, must be stamped with a 10-cent stamp before being filed; indemnity bonds of all kinds take a 50-cent stamp, as do all other bonds except those required for legal proceedings; certificates attested by a notary require a 10-cent stamp.

RAPID TRANSIT AFFAIRS.

It is doubtful whether the Rapid Transit Commission will hold its regular meeting to-day. Lewis L. Delafield, the secretary of the Board, said yesterday that there might be no need of a meeting, inasmuch as there was only one matter now occupying the attention of the Commission. That one matter is the bill which the Board's counsel have been instructed to prepare seeking special legislation to enlarge the Board's power of resource in obtaining the capital necessary to build the underground railroad.

It is inferred from Mr. Delafield's remark concerning the possibility of a meeting to-day that the draft of the bill is not yet ready to be laid before the Board.

NEW COINS FOR CHRISTMAS GIFTS.

THE ANNUAL RUN AT THE SUB-TREASURY UNDER WAY.

For about a week preceding Christmas each year there is a great demand on the Sub-Treasury for brand-new coins and currency to be used as Christmas gifts. The annual run is now in full swing, and yesterday there was a long line of applicants before the paying teller's window in the Sub-Treasury, all desirous of exchanging old one and two dollar bills for crisp new ones. The paying teller is accommodating these persons to the extent of about $25,000 a day. The Sub-Treasurer has laid in a large stock of new coins, as well as bank bills, in preparation for the Christmas rush, and the stocks of all classes are being largely drawn upon. In the coin division the teller is paying out about $5,000 a day in bright gold double eagles, eagles, half-eagles and quarter-eagles, of the mintage of 1898, and a large sum in silver coins, which also were turned out from the mint this year. In the minor-coin division there are many applications daily for fresh and shiny copper cents, a large part of the demand representing the needs of the big department stores.

ACTION AGAINST ONONDAGA COUNTY.

MR. LYMAN, EXCISE COMMISSIONER, WILL INSIST ON REIMBURSING EXCISE AGENTS.

Albany, Dec. 21.—The State Excise Department is about to begin action against Onondaga County. The outcome will be of much importance. Excise Commissioner Lyman recently made a demand on the District-Attorney of that county that the latter pay the mileage and attendance fees for various special excise agents who have appeared before the Grand Jury since the Liquor Tax law took effect. The District-Attorney refused to comply with the demand, and Mr. Lyman will begin mandamus proceedings to compel the county to accede to his demand.

The litigation will be interesting, as the law regarding witnesses before a grand jury is rather ambiguous, and cannot escape construction by the courts in such an action. The law is that witnesses appearing in a criminal proceeding in a court of record, if summoned or subpenaed, shall be entitled to the same fees as witnesses in a civil action in the same court. Commissioner Lyman believes that a grand jury being an adjunct to the Supreme Court, properly comes under this law, and that will be the first question to be disposed of if mandamus proceedings are brought.

MASKED BURGLAR ROBS BY DAY.

DISTURBED AT HIS WORK BY A YOUNG WOMAN IN A WEST BRIGHTON HOUSE.

A masked thief working by daylight caused considerable excitement in West Brighton, Richmond Borough, yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock. The man entered the house of William Lynch, a contractor, in Davis-ave. He was seen by one of the inmates later and wore a false face, to which was attached a grey beard. The thief made a noise which was heard by Mrs. Lynch, but, knowing no one should be in the part of the house whence the noise proceeded, she sent her daughter, Francis, to see what the trouble was. On her way upstairs the daughter met the masked man. He displayed a revolver and threatened to kill her if she made an outcry. The girl screamed and ran, and the thief bounded downstairs after her and out the front door. Mrs. Lynch gave chase, but the man was soon lost to sight owing to the fog. He stole about $100 in money.

ANTI-ANARCHIST CONFERENCE ADJOURNS.

DELEGATES ATTACH THEIR SIGNATURES TO A PROTOCOL WHICH IS NOT BINDING.

Rome, Dec. 21.—The anti-Anarchist conference, which has been in session in the Palazzo Corsini for some weeks, under the presidency of Admiral Canevaro, Italian Minister of Foreign Affairs, closed its sittings to-day.

The delegates appended their signatures to a protocol. It is understood that a number of practical resolutions were adopted, but the proceedings have not resulted in a convention binding the States represented.

NEW-YORK'S WAY PREFERRED.

A SUBURB OF SYDNEY, NEW SOUTH WALES, WANTS TO KNOW SOME THINGS ABOUT CONSOLIDATION.

Out in Sydney, New South Wales, they have learned something about the Greater New-York, and they are anxious to learn more, as indicated by a letter received at the City Hall yesterday from Thomas A. E. Wearne, Clerk of the Council of Hurstville, a suburb of Sydney, and reading in part as follows:

His Honor Judge Van Wyck, Mayor of Greater New-York.

Right Worshipful Sir: I have the honor, by direction of His Worship, the Mayor of Hurstville, Alderman J. G. Griffen, Justice of the Peace, to forward herewith a copy of a minute prepared by him, and unanimously adopted by this Council. You will note, on referring to this minute, that the following resolution was unanimously carried:

"That the Council of the city of Sydney and the Councils of the fifty-one municipalities within the metropolitan area be requested each to send two delegates to a conference to discuss and if possible propound, a scheme for the unification and consolidation of the local government of the metropolis, with the view to the formation of a greater Sydney."

I am instructed to say that the Councils above mentioned and the replies received have been of a highly satisfactory nature. The Mayor of Hurstville prefers the system adopted in the formation and working of a Greater New-York, rather than that adopted by the County Council of the city of London.

The letter specifies various data which the Mayor of Hurstville would like to have Mayor Van Wyck send him. All of the data is in the city charter, a copy of which was sent in reply, together with the report of the Charter Commissioners.

POLICEMAN CHARGED WITH ASSAULT.

SUSPENDED AND PLACED UNDER ARREST ON A WOMAN'S COMPLAINT.

Policeman Charles J. Pyle, of the West Thirty-seventh-st. station, was placed under arrest on Tuesday night by Captain Stephenson on a charge of felonious assault in the first degree. The arrest was made on a bench warrant issued out of the Court of General Sessions yesterday on an indictment found by the Grand Jury. Deputy-Chief Cortright, who is Acting Chief of Police, instructed Captain Stephenson to arrest Pyle, suspend him from duty and take away his shield. This order was at once obeyed. A colored woman named Brown, who lives at No. 217 West Twenty-ninth-st., appeared before the Grand Jury on Tuesday and complained against Policeman Pyle. She testified that on the morning of October 19 Pyle, without any cause whatever, struck her with his night stick, and afterward beat and kicked her, dislocating her right thigh. All this time, she says, he applied the vilest and most abusive epithets to her. Pyle denies all knowledge of the affair, and though he was on the post that night declares that he never saw the woman.

WHIP AND YACHTSMAN SUED.

MRS. B. R. DUELFER, OF NEW-ROCHELLE, WANTS $5,000 FROM JOHN F. BAUDOUINE FOR ALLEGED INJURIES.

John F. Baudouine, the whip and yachtsman, is being sued for $5,000 damages by Mrs. Bertha R. Duelfer, of New-Rochelle. Mrs. Duelfer, through her attorney, Stephen J. Stillwell, charges in her complaint that she was in a carriage with her husband and three children on the west side of Main-st., New-Rochelle, in July, and their horses were drinking water from a public fountain when Mr. Baudouine, driving four horses and a tally-ho containing a party of guests, came dashing along and crashed into her carriage. She says that her carriage was broken and that she received injuries from which she will never recover.

The case will be heard to-day before Justice Keogh in the Supreme Court, White Plains.

WHITECAPPER MURDERER PARDONED.

SENTENCED TO BE HANGED AND TO BE IMPRISONED FOR LIFE, BUT ESCAPES BOTH.

Jackson, Miss., Dec. 21.—Governor McLaurin has pardoned William Purvis, the famous Marion County Whitecapper, who was once sentenced to be hanged in this State for the murder of a fellow-Whitecapper. Purvis's neck was not broken in his fall from the scaffold, and, owing to the threatening attitude of the crowd around the jail, the Sheriff did not make a second attempt to execute his prisoner. Purvis was later rescued by the mob and hidden away for some time, but finally gave himself up to the authorities, and his sentence was commuted to life imprisonment.

COLONEL DANIEL MORRIS DEAD.

Atlantic City, Dec. 21.—Colonel Daniel Morris, seventy-nine years old, who planned the streets of this city, and was constructing engineer of the first railroad from Camden to this city, died to-day. Colonel Morris accumulated over $1,000,000 by investments in real estate in this city, but now his fortune is estimated at about $250,000. He had turned over to charitable institutions the greater part of his wealth. A few years ago he erected a home for orphans at Hopewell, N. J., known as the St. Michael Orphan Asylum and Industrial School. For several years in the forties he was a surveyor of State railroads in Pennsylvania. In 1880 he organized an independent military company, known as the Morris Guards. The command enlisted in the volunteer service at the outbreak of the Spanish-American war, joining the 4th New-Jersey Regiment, and is now encamped at Greenville, S. C.

JOHN JAY JENKINS.

John Jay Jenkins died at the home of his sister, Mrs. A. D. Gillette, at No. 240 West Seventy-second-st., yesterday. He was in the eighty-fifth year of his age. Mr. Jenkins was a graduate of Columbia University, and some years ago practised law in this city. The funeral will be private.

THOMAS S. MARLOR.

Ex-Congressman Thomas S. Marlor died at the Park Avenue Hotel yesterday, after a long illness. He suffered from heart trouble, and had been under a physician's care for the last five weeks. Mr. Marlor was born in England about fifty-nine years ago. He was for many years a member of the Stock Exchange, and had been for some time a member of the old Gold Exchange. His home was at Brooklyn, Conn., but in the winter he lived in this city. He several times represented Windom County, Conn., in Congress. Mr. Marlor presented to his townspeople a monument to Israel Putnam, and also a Soldiers and Sailors' Monument. He leaves a widow and two sons. The burial will be in Brooklyn, Conn.

A CORRESPONDENT'S VIEWS.

FORMER WRITER FOR "THE STANDARD" REPROACHES THE FRENCH FOR THEIR ACTIONS.

The late Hely Bowes, the correspondent of "The London Standard" in the Turco-Russian, the Franco-Prussian and several other wars, spent the last months of his life at a small Swiss village, where he had as an intimate friend M. Masson-Forestier, a well-known Frenchman. They often talked about the war, which had just begun, between the United States and Spain, and about the vacillating policy followed by France in delaying the proclamation of her absolute neutrality between the belligerents. Mr. Bowes criticised that policy in strong terms, and his French friend could not reproach him with unfriendly sentiments toward France, since he relates how, in the Franco-Prussian war, "The Standard's" correspondent had rendered a signal service to a French army corps by carrying dispatches to Havre across the German lines. In the two articles already published by M. Masson-Forestier in the "Revue Bleue," of Paris, he gives conversations which he had with his English friend, and from which the following extracts are of some interest. "The Standard's" correspondent admitted that soon after the opening of the war France displayed sentiments of a sincere neutrality, but he could not see why these sentiments had not been shown from the beginning of the Spanish-American question.

"The rebellion of the American-British colonies," he said to his friend, "would have failed if France had not rushed to the rescue with the élite of her youth. Thanks to Lafayette and Rochambeau, the United States became free. That liberation cost you French people dearly. But it was inspired by politics as much as by sentiment; therefore, the Americans were not left with a big debt of gratitude toward you. Still, in 1812, at the hour of the supreme struggle of all Europe against Napoleon, your Emperor found only one ally, the United States, which boldly declared war on England. Its privateers caused then enormous losses to our British commerce.

"From that time that nation has seen flocking to it the best elements of the Old World. It has grown up; it has come to be a kind of Colossus, which walks in front of the economical movement. You are pleased to believe that for the Americans there is nothing but business and the dollar, and that they are incapable of generosity and disinterestedness. This is a mistake. When, two years ago, all Europe, excepting perhaps England, was letting the Sultan murder Armenians, America thought seriously of acting against Turkey. The task, however, was then impossible, and it had to be abandoned; to-day the Sultan would not begin again with impunity. Americans know how to wake up the conscience of Europe. . . . While growing up, have the American people hurt you in any way? No. Then why were you displeased with them? You dream of regenerating your youth; do you find that the Yankees would be a bad example to that youth? No. You say that the American is rough and brutal. That's true, but you only forget that those are the defects of his good qualities. Brutality is strength which overflows.

"There remain two grievances. The first is that your papers tell you that to allow the Americans to liberate Cuba means the risk of seeing them put their hand to-morrow upon your Antilles possessions. And, even if it were so, do you ignore the fact that the Lesser Antilles are all in the deepest misery? We Englishmen, who are aware of this, would willingly give up ours. The second grievance is that Americans are people who caused the death of the Indians. Absurd! The Indians, who are still in your eyes the heroes imagined by Fenimore Cooper and Gustave Aimard, are ignoble brutes, refractory to any civilization, as proven by the fact that they have been incapable of reaching the pastoral age; they have remained in the hunting period of development.

"To sum up, the American is a fine type—humanity does not possess any more vigorous—and you Frenchmen ought to be proud to have helped him to get his emancipation. And yet your sympathy was at first for the Spaniards. America was stupefied at this. 'What,' said she, 'it is you, France, who pretends to stop us. But why should we not do for the Spanish colonies what you did, one century ago, for the British colonies of North America?'"

FINDING OF GOLD IN PIKE'S PEAK DENIED.

Denver, Dec. 21.—Latest reports from Dawson City, the new mining camp in the Green Horn Mountains, near Canon City, indicate that the rich gold ore found in the Copper King claim by the Dawson brothers came from a small pocket. Experts are of the opinion that a copper mine may be opened on the claim, but do not expect that a gold bonanza will be found there. However, other discoveries of free gold in the neighborhood are reported, and the town is growing rapidly. The report that silvanite ore rich in gold, had been found in the Colorado Springs water tunnel that is being driven through Pike's Peak, is denied by Denos Durfee, the city engineer on the ground.

INDIANS' SUIT AGAINST MR. THACHER.

O'Neill's

And Now For the Cut in Prices!

Every vestige of our big Holiday Stock must be gone by closing time Saturday night. In order to empty the counters and shelves of Santa Claus Goods so quickly we've gone through the different departments cutting prices right and left, in some cases in half. The result is the greatest collection of Holiday Bargains ever offered in New York—or anywhere else.

Now Is Your Opportunity!

OPEN EVENINGS.

All paid purchases, except bicycles and sewing machines, delivered to any railroad station within 100 miles
