A great mass of the large yellow and white blooms formed the centerpiece for the prettily appointed table. During dinner Mrs. Sylvester Greenwood of Texarkana, Texas, who recently arrived for the wedding sweetly sang, "I Love You Truly" and "At Dawning," accompanied on the piano by Mrs. E. R. Cunningham.

Covers were laid for the following guests: Miss Agnes Cleo Slitter, the bride-elect, Miss Tilsie Russell and Miss Josephine Smith who will be brides-maids, Mr. Frank Hudson Rodgers, the groom-elect, Mr. W. A. Marshall, best man, and Mr. Arthur Johnson, groomsman, Mrs. Sylvester Greenwood, Mrs. E. R. Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Smith.

DINNER PARTY AT SAN CARLOS FOR DUNCAN-GREEN BRIDAL PARTY.

Mr. Louis Duncan, whose marriage to Miss Vera Green will be brilliantly solemnized at the First Baptist church this evening, was host last night, entertaining the members of the bridal party with dinner at the San Carlos following the rehearsal at the church. Cut flowers and potted tropical plants made a pretty background for the beautifully appointed table, placed in Parlor "A." A mass of great American Beauty roses formed the centerpiece, and roses marked each place. Corsage bouquets of American Beauty roses completed the chic fall costumes worn by the ladies. Covers were laid for the following guests: Miss Vera Green, Miss Edna Finch, maid of honor, Miss Genevieve Carter, bridesmaid, Mrs. J. E. Davis Yonge, Mrs. Terrell Covington, matrons of honor, Miss Lula Finlay, Miss Bessie Finlay, of Pollard, Miss Margaret Giles of Louisville, who will be out-of-town guests, Forrest Duncan, of Muscogee, Okla., who will be his brother's best man, Jack Roberts, Preston Avery, Pat Eagan, Davis Yonge and Mr. Duncan.

BUSINESS WOMANS CLUB ADOPTS NEW NAME.

At their regular meeting Monday night the Business Womans Club changed the name of the club from "The Business Womans Club" to that of "Business and Professional Womans Club."

A feature of the evening was the address given by Mrs. Karl of Washington, who spoke on "Womans Work."

She brought out the motto of the club, "Others" in the latter reading. It read, "Let me live in my house by the side of the road, and be a friend to man."

She said "Woman's work is by no means confined to the walls of the home, but we are a part of every person we meet, and we come in contact with all kinds of people. There is no limit to our home. The sky is the limit. We must help to make life easier for others as far as within our power. We must take an interest in the surroundings and try to better the conditions, to make life happier for others." The members greatly enjoyed having Mrs. Karl with them.

The following were elected as members of the club: Honorary, Mrs. Thos. Brent, Mrs. J. B. McNeill and Mrs. T. P. White; active, Misses Minnie Kehoe, Helen Carter, Celia Robinson, Lella McGill, Bertha Lischten, Alberta Foll, Irene Lawrence, Eula Wilder, Geraldine Touart, Hazel Van Metre, Estelle Hicks, Minnie Russell and Gertrude Bazzell.

Chemist Wins Lasting Gratitude

"I tried several doctors and all kinds of medicine, and had about given up all hope of getting better. I did not think it possible that any medicine could be so wonderful in its effect as Mayr's Wonderful Remedy has proven in my case. You sure have won my lasting gratitude. I could not work at all and had constant pain in my stomach before taking your medicine." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Sold by Crystal Pharmacy and druggists everywhere.—adv.

New York, Oct. 22.—With the coming of fall days and their accompanying crisp mornings, warmer out-door garments for a brisk walk in the park or golf links are in demand.

It seems to me that I have never seen more attractively sporty sports clothes than this autumn. The outfit sketched today is fetching enough to lure the laziest woman in the world out of doors—just for the sake of wearing it.

The fitted skirt of Scotch plaid is the keynote for the costume. Its predominant color is peacock blue with cross bars of brown and dull sage green, relieved with threads of black and white. The jersey sweater coat repeats the blue in the plaid, with its long throw scarf lined in sage green. The soft felt hat is also of the green, while the narrow leather belt, dog skin gloves and spats are of brown.

The smart little cane which gives an added air of jauntness to the outfit has a "crook" handle wrapped in brown leather.

SMILES
It isn't the fellow who has a smile
Because of the smile of others,
But the fellow who counts is the fellow who smiles
In spite of his scowling brothers;
Or whether they smile or whether they don't
If he's true to his own soul's light
He will keep on smiling through thick and thin,
He will smile for the sake of the right.

The old song says if you smile for them
They will have a smile for you.
But the man who smiles if they smile or not
Is the man who will put things through;
The man who smiles because it's his heart
That brings to his face the glow
Of the peace and the power of doing his part
In the world's great daily show.

To do things just to gain in return
Some gift or some grace of life
Is only a half way style to win
In the toll and struggle and strife.
For the best old grace is the grace of joy
In doing and serving along
With a smile that is sweet as the smile of a boy
Till your smile makes labor a song.
—Bentztown Bard in Baltimore Sun.

TRUST IS BEST
I think if thou couldst know,
O soul that wilt complain,
What lies concealed below
Our burden and our pain;
How just our anguish brings
Nearer those longed-for things
We seek for now in vain—
I think thou wouldst rejoice and not complain.

And yet thou canst not know,
And yet thou canst not see;
Wisdom and sight are slow
In poor humanity,
If thou couldst trust, poor soul,
In him who rules the whole,
Thou wouldst find peace and rest;
Wisdom and sight are well, but trust is best.
—Adelaide A. Proctor.

DINNER PARTY FOR BRIDAL PARTY.
Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Smith entertained with a dinner party at their home in Fisherville last night for the Rodgers-Slitter wedding party. The color motif of yellow and white was prettily carried out with large yellow and white chrysanthemums and ferns.
