

CITY COUNCIL IMPEACHES POLICE JUDGE H. DONGO AT HEARING LAST NIGHT

Sustains Suspension Action By Mayor Malone; Vote On Roll Call Was Six To One

The city council at a special meeting last night impeached Police Justice Harry Dongo, sustaining the action of Mayor William H. Malone who suspended the official from office on charges of malfeasance, misfeasance and general neglect of the duties pertaining to the position a short time ago.

The vote on the question was 6 to 1, Councilman Roberts registering the only opposing vote in the matter. It required a majority of two-thirds of the vote to sustain the mayor's action, which was obtained on roll call.

The hearing was conducted with the council sitting as a governing body, presided over by its president, Leo Warren, with J. Lancelot Lester, city attorney handling the city's end of the case in the prosecution. Attorney Louis A. Harris represented the defendant during the proceedings.

Main Charge

The main charge leading up to the suspension was that Mr. Dongo had failed to have some particular warrant served on an offender of the law some time back in which John T. Thompson was the complaining witness. The party or parties in question for whom the warrant was intended were charged with disturbing religious services that were being conducted at a church house in this city at the time.

The complaining witness, Mr. Thompson, was placed on the stand, telling his story of the case, after which Bienvenido Perez, police officer, was then heard on the matter relative to what he knew of the case in his capacity as the arresting officer in connection with the proceedings.

Attorneys Heard

At the conclusion of the testimony in the hearing, Mr. Lester representing the city, made a brief argument outlining the procedure, bringing out the salient points, after which Mr. Harris, defending the police justice made the closing argument, stressing the main features pertaining to the hearing.

At this juncture roll call of the council was in order, with all members present, and by their

Cuba, black opal of the Caribbean, is erupting, for the second time within a month, in revolution that has been smoldering on an economic and political volcano for 13 years.

Anxiously watching from the north, the United States has held its fleet and marine corps in readiness, while hoping that order and a responsible government may quickly be restored from the chaos which followed the overthrow of the Machado regime.

TRAMMELL AND PORTER MAKING EFFORT TOWARD REOPENING NAVY YARD

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Senator Trammell and William R. Porter of Key West will confer this afternoon with Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt to urge reopening of the naval station at Key West, Mr. Porter announced this morning.

The Florida men will take the position that in view of the Cuban situation, which has resulted in basing of a dozen ships at Key West, without proper facilities for caring for them, reopening of the Key West naval base would be a prudent move.

The base would be highly valuable as a center for operations and a distribution and storage point for supplies, Porter said.

He and Senator Trammell will attempt to convince Assistant Secretary Roosevelt of this at their conference, he said.

Economic League Discusses Question Of Opening Naval Station And Bond Election

Opening of the naval station and getting out voters for the bond election on September 18 were the two important questions discussed at the meeting of the Economic League last night.

That there is a possibility of the naval station being put back on an active basis is the belief of league members and it was decided to enlist the aid of the Florida delegation in Washington to bring this about.

Mark Wilcox, congressman from this district, has on several occasions taken up this matter and a telegram published in the Florida press yesterday showed that he had again urged that the station be opened especially because of the disturbed conditions in Cuba and South America.

It was decided to send a communication to Senator Trammell, chairman of the Senate Naval Committee, and ask that he use his efforts in behalf of the proposition and as head of the committee on naval affairs recommend it.

The situation relative to getting out voters for the bond election was discussed at great length. Many of those who would vote and have paid their poll taxes live a great distance from the voting precincts, and in the case of older men and women would prove a hardship if they were forced to walk to the booths.

TWO DIFFERENT VIEWS IN CASE OF G. COURSON

ONE DESCRIBES PRISONER AS KIND-HEARTED, WHILE ANOTHER PICTURES HIM RATHER BLACK

(By Associated Press) TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 13.—

George Courson, sentenced to 20 years for the prison sweatbox death of Arthur Maillefert, was described before the supreme court today as a man who had kindness in his heart, and as a man whose deeds at Sunbeam Camp, near Jacksonville, justified a first degree murder conviction rather than manslaughter.

The first description was by C. A. Averitt, Courson's counsel, who brought the appeal to the supreme court. Attorney General Lanais presented the opposite view.

Averitt sought a new trial on three grounds—admission exhibits at trial, qualification of juror and reasonable doubt of trial evidence. Landis said he had examined the record and it "is as free from errors as any I have ever examined."

The court took the case under consideration.

At Cardenas Many Pack Baggage In Readiness To Board U. S. Ship If Necessary

(By Associated Press) HAVANA, Sept. 13.—Many Americans in Cuba prepared today for emergencies as they watched with growing concern the new threats of strikes, a move to train boys as soldiers and the failure of 500 officers to make peace with the new government.

A least a score of Americans were under military protection in Cristo after labor troubles at American-owned manganese mines had endangered their lives.

Across the bay from Santiago de Cuba, a number of Americans gathered for safety after leaving their homes in the interior of the Oriente Province because of unsettled labor conditions.

At Cardenas, Americans packed their baggage so they could board a coast-guard vessel if violence should result from the unrest among negroes, angered because they were not given help with other storm victims.

TO FOLLOW LINE OF STRICT NEUTRALITY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Disturbed by increasing threats of armed conflict between the new Cuban government and Havana's besieged army officers, the Roosevelt administration gave notice it would follow a line of strict neutrality.

Although reiterating both publicly and privately the desire to avoid intervention in Cuba, some officials were known to feel that it might be necessary to land American armed forces should shots be fired in Havana.

The tense conflict of interests centering around the National Hotel, where more than 300 defiant officers of the old Cuban army are barricaded, was described by several observers here as presenting dangers analogous to an open powder box.

A number of Americans reside at the big hotel. Should either the heavily armed officers inside or members of the army they once commanded decide to open fire, this country's nationals might well be endangered.

Ambassador Welles, who resided there until yesterday, moved out, explaining that because the employees had left there was no food. Secretary Hall, determined to offer no provocation to any one faction by siding with another, indicated that the United States would pursue a strictly hands-off policy until Cuba solved "her own political problems."
