feeling the need of so doing. The reason is that foreigners are more useful. Commerce is growing wider, and clerks who can conduct foreign correspondence are regarded as necessary to commercial houses of importance. In this matter of the knowledge of foreign languages, as well as in the education for particular industries, it is found that foreigners outstrip the natives. The range and quality of commercial education must be raised if commercial houses would compete with European firms. Already, it appears, that about one-third of the commercial firms in London are of German origin. This subject is of interest elsewhere than in England and America. The conditions referred to are not confined to any particular country, but are everywhere compelling the furnishing of a better equipment for carrying out the widening commerce of the future.

LEGISLATIVE ELECTIONS. MONDAY, SEPT. 12, 1887. NATIONAL REFORM TICKET. FOR NOBLES. ISLAND OF OAHU. MARK P. ROBINSON, HENRY WATERHOUSE, ALEXANDER YOUNG, SAMUEL G. WILDER, JAS. I. DOWSETT, Sa., W. O. SMITH, A. JAEGER, W. E. FOSTER, W. R. CASTLE. FOR REPRESENTATIVES. ISLAND OF OAHU—DISTRICT OF HONOLULU. JAS. I. DOWSETT, Jr., FRANK HUSTACE, A. P. KALAUOKA, D. L. NAONE.

By a vote of the Board of Education, passed August 17th, it has been decided that all teachers, not possessing certificates, shall be examined by a committee, appointed by the Board and consisting of Professors W. D. Alexander, M. M. Scott and the Inspector General of Schools.

The examination is intended to set as a stimulus to all teachers to equip themselves thoroughly for their profession and to raise the standard of the rank it holds in the United States. The examination for the primary certificates will be confined to English, Arithmetic, as far as decimal fractions, and Geography. Special attention is called to the necessity of teachers understanding how to teach English to Hawaiians.

Now that the lists of the persons in the various wards of Honolulu who have qualified as voters for Nobles and Representatives have been made up and posted, it will be in order for the friends of the reform movement to scrutinize these lists with a view to their being made complete and perfect. It should be made the duty of the committees appointed by the ward associations to see that every supporter of reform principles whose name does not appear on these lists is brought up to take the oath and registered; also, that those persons, if any, who may have registered wrongfully, be reported to the Inspectors of Election for the purpose of having their names removed. The time allowed for adding to and perfecting the registry will expire on Thursday, September 1st, but this work should not be left to the hurry of the last day or two. Friday, September 2d, is the day when the perfected lists are required to be posted, and after that date no additions or alterations can be made. The interests involved in the coming election are too momentous to have anything left to chance. Although we expect to elect the whole ticket by a handsome majority, it is never safe to count too much on the weakness of an enemy, and the choice of the four Representatives may possibly turn on a few votes. Let the Reform party make the result certain by bringing out their full vote.

Just two weeks remain till the decisive hour. It will be well worth the while of every man who wishes to see good government established, to devote the bulk of that brief space to making assurance of the Reform ticket's success doubly sure. The able is keeping up a cry for the election of public officials. Such a thing would only add a fresh burden to tropical life. With a popular Legislature, there will be an availing check on the Government against improper appointments, as against other mistakes of administration.

co commercial correspondent's letter to Broadstreets which is generally reliable. A few corrections should be stated in connection with it. The Hawaiian crop of 1886 was 108,000 short tons. The crop of 1887 will be about 90,000 tons, which is a fair average of the present sugar producing capacity of these islands, with the area of sugar land now cultivated. The crop of 1888 is not likely to be larger than that of 1887, if indeed it be at large. The weather so far has not favored a large yield. Nor is there much probability of a larger crop than that of this year until the completion of the Hilo and Hamakua Railroad shall open up new sugar lands along its route.

The bulk of the Hawaiian sugar crop having been sent to San Francisco during the first seven months of this year, the shipments for the remaining five months will not more than suffice to keep the San Francisco refineries running, if they do that. Consequently, the sugar that has already gone forward to Eastern American markets is all that will be sent this year. As to 1888, it is doubtful whether the crop of Hawaiian sugar will more than suffice to meet the rapidly increasing demands of the Rocky Mountain and Pacific States. At least there can be no large surplus, unless considerable importations of sugar are made at San Francisco from Manila and Central America during 1888. These are the facts so far as they can be ascertained at present.

The Board of Education show that they intend to be up with the times. They are pushing forward the building of school houses where accommodation is needed and are repairing others. The fact is that since the Board came under the control of Mr. Gibson till his fall, scarcely anything had been done and the school accommodation of the country had fallen woefully behind. Another step in this right direction is the institution of examinations for teachers. The first of these will be held on September 13th and 14th, when primary certificates will be awarded. We understand that an examination for higher grade certificates will be held in January, 1888. The idea of the Board is an excellent one and will, there is very little doubt, commend itself to the public. A spirit of emulation will be inspired in our teachers, and they will be urged to keep up with the times. A series of lessons in the methods of teaching is to be given to the junior teachers in Honolulu, and this will enable Hawaii to supply her own teachers instead of having to seek for them abroad. Below appears the circular which has just been issued.

By a vote of the Board of Education, passed August 17th, it has been decided that all teachers, not possessing certificates, shall be examined by a committee, appointed by the Board and consisting of Professors W. D. Alexander, M. M. Scott and the Inspector General of Schools. All teachers will be required to take the examination, the only exemptions being those who already hold certificates, which shall be satisfactory to the Board of Examiners, and those who have held positions under the Board for the space of ten years, but the rule does not exempt the latter from taking the examination and obtaining a certificate, and it is hoped that they will present themselves. The examination is intended to set as a stimulus to all teachers to equip themselves thoroughly for their profession and to raise the standard of the rank it holds in the United States.

The examination for the primary certificates will be confined to English, Arithmetic, as far as decimal fractions, and Geography. Special attention is called to the necessity of teachers understanding how to teach English to Hawaiians. During the ensuing term, lessons will be given by teachers appointed by the Board, and the junior teachers will be required to attend. An examination for higher grade certificates will be held before the opening of the term of 1888. The certificates will have endorsed on them the percentage of marks obtained in each subject. I remain, yours faithfully, ALFRED T. ATKINSON, Inspector General of Schools.
