

Ex-Premier Gibson.

Story of His Resignation, Arrest and Departure.

Walter M. Gibson, ex-Prime Minister of the Hawaiian Government, arrived in this city Saturday morning by the John D. Spreckels, which sailed from Honolulu on Monday, July 11th. He went at once to a hotel, where he was found resting from his trip and trying to cure a cold which he contracted a few days before the vessel reached this port. Mr. Gibson conversed freely upon Hawaiian affairs. The principal event of importance since the receipt of the last advice from Hawaii was the signing of the Constitution by King Kalakaua.

Political affairs seem to have settled down in the Kingdom and are running smoothly under the new Ministry. Mr. Gibson said, in answer to the inquiries of the reporter, that he thought the signing of the Constitution by the King would obviate any further trouble. Kalakaua had acceded to all the demands of the opposition, and he did not see how they could ask for anything more.
