DRILL FOR BOYS

It is Strongly Advocated By a New Yorker.

Many Benefits to Accrue - "It Will Make for Peace" - As Against Athletic Drill.

Dr. MacCracken, Chancellor of the New York University, made an excellent address at the National Militia Convention organized at Tampa, Fla. In his he said:

"First - Instruction in military tactics in public and private high schools, so far as tried, has been eminently useful to the boys and to their teachers and the nation, and therefore this convention should organize a propaganda to secure the extension of instruction in the high schools until instead of less than 5 per cent of the public high schools giving such instruction, there should not be 5 per cent neglecting this instruction. Also in the private high schools, so that instead of less than 15 per cent in any one of the five divisions of our country that give such instruction there should be less than 15 per cent, not giving it."

"My second proposition is that in communities where no high schools exist, and where boys are confined in the grammar or common schools until they are fifteen or sixteen years of age, this convention should encourage such schools to give military drill such as is elsewhere given in high schools. Further, that grammar schools should be encouraged to introduce the various 'setting-up exercises' as a valuable and easily arranged gymnastic. Beyond this, as a rule, the grammar school should not attempt any military tactics. Between athletic drill and military drill, I believe the latter excels in promoting symmetry and rounding out the physical being."

"Ascending beyond physical results, marching to music cultivates the ear and rhythm. Attention to orders cultivates alertness of hearing, prompt movements and concentration of thought and will. It discourages disputatiousness; it brings into contrast individualism and organization, and emphasizes the importance of the latter. It is an old proverb that those who would learn to command must first learn to obey. The youth of America are perhaps as little reverent to superiors as any youth in the world. This is the more reason that strict discipline should be a part of education. The supreme argument for military drill in our high schools is that it makes for peace. Today blind and silly optimists join to raise a cry against military drill in school as threatening us with militarism in excessive and ruinous amount. I should not fear if every one of the eight hundred thousand boys that go out of our schools every year into active life had enjoyed two or even three years of drill, that we should be one particle more likely to march into Canada or Mexico or to take ship to conquer either Europe or Asia. Nor would the fact of their drill make them one iota more ready to encourage riot or civil war."

"On the other hand, grant the United States that out of her boys leaving her high schools and the uppermost grades of her grammar schools, a hundred thousand every year with some knowledge of tactics, and at once you have the best material for our State militia or National Guard. You have the best substitute for a great and expensive standing army. You have a strong defence against threats of insurrection and anarchy."

"May this convention stir the South Atlantic and South Central States, that have today 868 public high schools for boys, but not 3 per cent of them giving military instruction, to enter on this course of work. It means more law and order in your own States. It means a larger share in the national responsibility. It means, in the final analysis, 'Peace on earth and good will unto men.'"

Three cities only in the United States make military instruction obligatory in the grammar schools - Newport, Ky., Colorado City, Col., and Butte, Mont., two of which are small cities in the Rocky Mountain region, and the third is practically a suburb of Cincinnati. Obligatory military instruction in grammar schools may be said hardly to exist. Four or five cities authorize voluntary instruction in military drill - namely, New York City, Geneva, N. Y., Yonkers, N. Y., Rochester, N. Y., and Winona, Minn.

TWO THOUSAND VOLTS. New York Electrician Who Received a Terrible Shock and Still Lives.

NEW YORK, March 7. - Joseph Hampel, an employee of the Lexington-avenue cable power-house, while working at his switchboard received and survived an electric shock of about 2000 volts. The man's body was badly burned from head to foot, every inch of clothing was torn from him and he fell senseless through a hole instantaneously burned in the floor by the terrific electrical power. The doctors who attended him say there is no case on record of a man withstanding a similar shock. The accident was caused through Hampel trying to tighten a loose screw on the switchboard and in some way closing a circuit. The enormous power of the shock may be judged from the fact that until the circuits were readjusted all the cars of the road were brought to a standstill.

SIR GEORGE, A CHAMPION POINTER. One of the attractions at this year's Westminster Kennel Club show in Madison Square Garden, New York, was the fine collection of pointers. Sir George, here pictured, is a champion pointer belonging to W. Gould Brooks, of New York. Sportsmen differ in their estimates of the relative value of setters and pointers, and it is probable the two breeds are about equal in their field work.

THE WHITE MAN'S BURDEN. (Rudyard Kipling) Take up the White Man's burden - Send forth the best ye breed - Go bind your sons to exile To serve your captives' need; To wait, in heavy harness, On fluttered folk and wild - Your new-caught sullen peoples, Half devil and half child.

Take up the White Man's burden - In patience to abide, To veil the threat of terror, And check the show of pride; By open speech and simple, An hundred times made plain, To seek another's gain, And work another's gain.

Take up the White Man's burden - The savage wars of peace - Fill full the mouths of famine, And bid the sickness cease; And when your goal is nearest (The end for others sought) Watch and hear them felly, Bring all your hopes to nought.

Take up the White Man's burden - No iron rule of kings, But toil of serf and sweeper - The tale of common things. The ports ye shall not enter, The roads ye shall not tread, Go, make them with your living, And mark them with your dead.

Take up the White Man's burden, And reap his old reward - The blame of those ye better, The hate of those ye guard - The cry of hosts ye humor (Ah slowly!) toward the light: - "Why brought ye us from bondage, Our loved Egyptian night?"

Take up the White Man's burden - Ye dare not stoop to less - Nor call too loud on Freedom, To cloke your weariness; By all ye leave or do, The silent, sullen peoples Shall weigh your God and you.

Take up the White Man's burden! Have done with childish days - The lightly proffered laurel, The easy ungrudged praise; Comes now to search your manhood Through all the thankless years, Cold-edged with dear-bought wisdom, The judgment of your peers.

HEAT IN MANILA. MANILA, March 8. - The temperature to-day at 3 o'clock was eighty-seven degrees, but the cloudy air was like steam, and the troops were greatly inconvenienced on the line in spite of the temporary shade afforded by matting and bamboo wherever feasible.

There are fever prostrations, however, from the heat. Our troops to-day are not compelled to remain in the open country to the same extent as yesterday, when they were engaged in clearing the jungle. The rebels seldom appear in the open except in the cool of the morning and in the evening. Our soldiers probably will feel the heat less when they are on the move.

SUGAR PER CAPITA. Great Britain takes the most sugar of any country - 2,600,000,000 pounds per annum - or 80 pounds to each person. In the United States 2,500,000,000 pounds are used. France uses 25 pounds a person; Germany only 18 pounds; Austria-Hungary, 15; Sweden, 20; Norway, 12, and Spain, 7.

We have saved many doctor bills since we began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in our home. We keep a bottle open all the time and whenever any of my family or myself begin to catch cold we begin to use the Cough Remedy, and as a result we never have to send away for a doctor and incur a large doctor bill, for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy never fails to cure. It is certainly a medicine of great merit and worth. - D. S. Mearkle, General Merchant and Farmer, Mattie, Bedford county, Pa. For sale by Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., wholesale agents.

For more than half a century the famous old Jesse Moore AA Whiskey has been the favorite with connoisseurs.
