SEAMAN'S CLUB.

Mrs. Annis Montague Turner Sings for the Sailors.
The hall of the Seaman's Club was crowded to its utmost capacity last night, the occasion being a concert, of which the following was the program:
Piano Solo Mr. T. Norton
Solo—"Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep" Rev. Tubbs
Reading Miss Zimmerman
Violin Solo Miss Kinney
Recitation Mr. A. E. Murphy
Solo—"The Song that Reached My Heart" Mrs. Annis Montague Turner
Piano Solo—"Battle of Manila" Mr. T. Norton
So hearty was the applause that greeted each number that nearly all were repeated several times. Mrs. Turner's beautiful rendition of the pathetic ballad brought tears to the eyes of many present.
After the concert Mrs. W. L. Howard, who has had charge of these concerts, was presented by the club with a carved picture frame, the handiwork of the steward of one of the vessels in port.
Since its organization the club has been the means of finding employment for about 300 men, besides furnishing a place of resort for many who would otherwise spend their time less profitably.
