Last quarter of the moon Jan. 17th.

Times of the tide are taken from the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey tables.

The tides at Kahului and Hilo occur about one hour earlier than at Honolulu.

Hawaiian standard time is 10 hours 30 minutes slower than Greenwich time, being that of the meridian of 157 degrees thirty minutes. The time whistle blows at 1:30 p. m., which is the same as Greenwich, 0 hours 0 minutes. Sun and moon are for local time for the whole group.

TO INVESTIGATE WORK AT DIAMOND HEAD

"I am going out to Diamond Head to see about those Japs who are building a trail to the top of the peak," said Superintendent of Public Works Holloway yesterday. "There has been no permission given for any such work from this office. And nobody has any right to build a trail there without permission, if it is on public lands. I will bring them up with a round turn, too, if the law has been violated."

[If anybody is building a trail at his own expense to the ridge of Diamond Head, for the free benefit of the public, why object? The Territory doesn't get much for nothing and when it can it ought to jump at the chance.—Ed. Adv.]

KONA STORM BREAKING UP

The velocity of the wind fell off considerably last night and barometric conditions indicated that the backbone of the Kona has been broken, although it will take some time to ease off. The southwest gale of the past two or three days has made every harbor in the islands exceedingly rough, and reports from Kahului yesterday were to the effect that it would not be wise for steamers to leave here for that place. The channels are running heavy seas.

All the reefs along the Oahu coast have been the photographers' delight, for the sea is breaking over them in tremendous rollers. At 6 o'clock yesterday morning the wind velocity was 36 miles. At 10 o'clock it had fallen to 30 and in the afternoon it calmed down still more and last evening a perceptible change was apparent. Considerable rain fell during the evening.
