TO VIRGIL.

[Written at the request of the Mantuans, for the nineteenth centenary of Virgil's death.

BY ALFRED TENNYSON.

ROMAN, VIRGIL, thou that singest
Ilions lofty temples robed in fire,
Ilion falling, Rome arising,
Wars, and filial faith, and Dido's pyre;

Landscape-lover, lord of language
More than he that sang the Works and Days,
All the chosen coin of fancy
Flashing out from many a golden phrase;

Thou that singest wheat and woodland,
Tilth and vineyard, hive and horse and herd;
All the charm of all the Muses
Often flowering in a lonely word;

Poet of the happy Tityrus
Piping underneath his beechen bowers;
Poet of the poet-satyr
Whom the laughing shepherd bound with flowers;

Chanter of the Pollio, glorying
In the blissful years again to be,
Summers of the snakeless meadow,
Unlaborious earth and oarless sea;

Thou that seest Universal
Nature moved by Universal Mind;
Though majestic in thy sadness
At thy doubtful doom of human kind;

Light among the vanish'd ages;
Star that gildest yet this phantom shore;
Golden branch amid the shadows,
Kings and realms that pass to rise no more;

Now thy Forum roars no longer,
Fallen every purple Cæsar's dome—
Tho' thine ocean-roll of rhythm
Sound forever of Imperial Rome—

Now the Rome of slaves hath perish'd,
And the Rome of freemen holds her place,
I, from out the Northern Island
Sunder'd once from all the human race,

I salute thee, Mantovano,
I that loved thee since my day begun,
Wielder of the stateliest measure
Ever molded by the lips of man.

—Nineteenth Century for September.

REMINISCENCES OF HONOLULU.

XLII.

The more important measures passed by the "long parliament" of 1854, were as follows: Confirming the Charter to the Hawaiian Steam Navigation Company; To regulate the Retail of Intoxicants in Honolulu; To remove all Disabilities of Aliens by reason of not obtaining Certificates of Nationality; To further remove the Disabilities of Aliens to acquire and convey lands in Fee Simple; To provide Foreign Juries in the 3rd and 4th Judicial Districts; For the Encouragement and Support of English Schools; To repeal the Law relating to the King's Chamberlain; Relating to the improvement and disposition of the Honolulu Water Lots (esplanade); To make Vaccination compulsory; To abolish Tonnage Dues; To establish Mail Routes and employ Carriers; To create a Court of Probate and Divorce; A joint Resolution authorizing the Minister of the Interior to procure an Estimate of the probable Cost of supplying the town of Honolulu with Water from Nuuanu Valley. The Appropriation Bill for the year footed up the sum of $431,430.46—a most extravagant figure, it was thought.

On the 29th of September the steamer Akamai (S. B. Wheeler) went to sea for the last time. She started for Lahaina, having on board between four and five hundred passengers and nineteen horses. Among the passengers were the Prince Alexander and Lot, and a large number of well known Honolulu residents. When she left her guards were under water, and apprehensions were expressed that she would meet with some disaster. With calm weather she might have made the passage to Lahaina in safety; but about 10 o'clock at night she was struck by a heavy squall, a heavy sea arose, and she sprung a leak. She was fortunately got about and kept afloat into the harbor, much to the relief of her passengers, who were justly alarmed from the fear that the water was over ankle deep on her cabin floor. This was the last trip of the Akamai, she having been condemned as unseaworthy and eventually broken up.

Sept. 12, arrivhd the U. S. sloop of war Portsmouth, Capt. Dornin; and on the 22nd His Netherlands Majesty's frigate Prince Frederick, 36 guns, Commander Colonel A. C. Van Braam Houckgeest. She was en route for Japan. Oct. 17, arrived U. S. Susquehanna, Commander Buchanan, and on the 23rd, the Mississippi, both from Japan. The latter had been Commodore Perry's flag-ship, he having gone home, via Ceylon and Suez.

Early in Oct., 1854, the Hawaiian Steam Navigation Company, after endeavoring for a long time to carry out their contract with the little Akamai, put on the steamers Sea Bird and West Point in the inter-island trade. These, however, like the first named, were side wheel boats, ran at large expense, and although they were well patronized the business was not a financial success, as was proved by the fact that it did not permanently continue.

It was in October that Messrs. Swan and Clifford built an Ice House at the foot of Maunakea street, for the sale of a cargo of ice imported by them from Sitka, ex brig Noble.

In November the first steps were taken at a public meeting for the establishment of a "Sailors' Home." Prominent in the movement were—Rev. S. C. Damon, Hon. S. N. Castle, Hon. G. M. Robertson, J. T. Waterhouse, Rev. A. Armstrong, and Captains Walker, Elliot and Neil. The outcome of this was the erection of the building which stands on the corner of Merchant and Bethel streets. At the date mentioned there were over one hundred foreign vessels in the harbor of Honolulu.

It may be interesting to note here, that the lot on which the Home stands was donated by the King in Privy Council, by the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the petition for a lot of land for a Sailors' Home be granted, provided it shall be a rule established in such Home, and strictly enforced, that no intoxicating liquors shall be drank on the premises; no woman of lewd character admitted; no gambling allowed; nor any disorder tolerated. This resolution shall not be binding on the King's Government unless the sum of $5000 be raised by subscription for the purpose aforesaid, within 16 months, and on the further condition that such Sailors' Home shall be equally available to the sailors of all nations, including those of this Kingdom,—and when said lot ceases to be used for the purpose of a Sailor's Home, the same shall revert to the Government.

By order of the Privy Council, Nov. 20, 1854.

LORRIN ANDREWS, Sec'ry.

December 15, 1854, died Kamehameha III, aged forty-one years and nine months. He had been in failing health for a year previously, but was seriously ill only five or six days. At the hour of morn the announcement was made by lowering the Royal Standard to half-mast and the firing of minute guns. Large numbers of people assembled near the Palace, who testified their grief at the loss of the good King by loud and heartfelt wailing. At half-past 12 Gov. Kekuanaoa, escorted by a detachment of guards, caused the Proclamation of the new King to be read at the corners of the principal streets. Alexander Liholiho, as Kamehameha IV was King. He came to the throne by the will of the late King, and by appointment and proclamation of the King and Nobles. The funeral of Kauikeaouli was set for December 30th, but continuous storms caused its postponement until the 10th of January, 1855.

On the 2nd of December, Judge Lee addressed the King a letter in which he tendered his resignation of the office of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. His health, never robust, had been failing of late, before the advance of that fell disease—consumption,—to which he eventually succumbed. A joint letter from the Cabinet requested that the King would not accept Judge Lee's resignation. A resolution to the same effect was passed by the Privy Council; and the members of the Bar of the Supreme Court, consisting of Messrs. Bates, Montgomery, Harris, Blair, Robertson, Chamberlain, and Griswold, at a meeting on the 16th, passed a series of resolutions, one of which read thus: "That should His Majesty accept the resignation of Chief Justice Lee, it would create a vacancy in the Judiciary Department to fill which another person, equally qualified, could not be found. We therefore indulge the hope that some means may be devised of averting a result so much to be deplored." The result was that the resignation was not accepted by Kamehameha IV, who in a characteristically forcible and touching letter to Judge Lee made use of these words: "But I hope I am as tender of your comfort and health as any friend that you possess; and consequently I not only assure you, beforehand, that I shall always be willing to hear of your relinquishing for the moment, your official duties whenever your health may require a change of air or scene, but that I wish to impose it upon you, as a duty you owe to the nation and yourself, to employ every available moment in re-establishing your shattered strength, that so I may long be happy in your services."

The first public appearance of Kamehameha IV was on Sunday, Dec. 17, when he attended divine service in the Kawaiahao Church, leading his sister, the Princess Victoria, and followed by the Ministers of Kamehameha III. The Rev. E. W. Clark, the pastor, preached in Hawaiian, from Genesis 26: 28.

It was remarked by old residents of that time, as a matter of pride and congratulation, that on the occasion of the death of Kauikeaouli and following it, the utmost quiet and good order reigned throughout Honolulu and the entire island. It was remembered that the death of so high a chief in the olden time would have been the signal for an almost unlimited degree of crime, disorder and debauchery, and for the practice of heathenish customs. Drunkenness and its attendant licentiousness would have been seen in every direction; teeth would have been knocked out; the bodies of men and women of every class would have been scarified and tattooed, and passion would have run riot. All this was now happily past. There was sincere mourning and loud continuous wailing by the natives, for the death of a King greatly beloved and revered, not only for his high rank but for his amiable qualities of heart; but the demonstrations were restrained within the proper limits, and the Hawaiians thus exhibited an evidence of their advance in civilization.

LATE FOREIGN NEWS.

We gather the following items of interest from our exchanges by the steamer James Makee, which arrived on the 15th inst from San Francisco, with dates to Oct. 3rd, the Suez on the 18th, with dates to the 10th inst:.... Arabi Pasha says the first thing the English could do for Egypt would be to send all the notables and other leading men connected with the rebellion out of the country. If they do not do so vengeance will surely be wreaked upon these officials after the departure of the troops. He asserts that he never thought the English would send a large army to assist the Khedive and so was led into war. He denied that he had any communication with the Sultan during the war.... It is said that the grand shireef of Mecca was deposed on account of having had treasonable relations with Arabi Pasha.... The Khedive, with the approval of England, has offered Baker Pasha the reorganization of the Egyptian army which he accepts.... It is officially announced that General Wolseley and Admiral Seymour will be raised to the peerage, in acknowledgment of their recent distinguished services.... A closer connection is foreshadowed between England and Germany upon the Eastern question.... Admiral Seymour has accepted a decoration at the hands of the Khedive, but declines the honor of a peeerage.... Two courts will be constituted to try Arabi Pasha and other rebels, one a court of first instance, and the other a special tribunal to deliver judgment.... A private examination of Arabi Pasha was held on the 2nd inst.... Gladstone who had been suffering of late, is better. He drove out yesterday, notwithstanding the wet weather, and visited in the neighborhood of Penmaen Mawr.... An imperial decree orders that the father of the King of Corea be kept for life under guard at Hast Ting Fu.... The Corean affair with Japan has been happily adjusted through the prompt action of the Japanese Minister Hanasuba; the ringleaders are to be arrested and punished, 50,000 yen is to be paid to the families of the killed Japanese and 50,000 yen to the Government, and an envoy with letter of apology sent to Japan.... The sugar refinery of Harrisson, Havemeyer & Co., Philadelphia, an immense brick structure at Front and Almond streets, was partly destroyed by fire, on the 25th ult. The block bounded by Delaware avenue and by Swanson, Almond and Bainbridge streets was burned, and contained the mold house and filter house. These buildings were filled with sugar in the process of manufacture and ready for delivery, and both structures and their contents are in ruins. The loss will probably reach a million dollars.... General Stoneman has resigned his position as Colonel on the retired list of the army to accept the Democratic candidacy of Governor of California.... Secretary Folger is said also to have resigned to accept the nomination for Governor of New York.... W. H. Wyckerham, U. S. Minister to Denmark has resigned. .... The jury on the Star Route trial has not been able to agree upon a verdict.... French influence is actively opposing the reciprocity treaty between Mexico and the United States. .... At Chicago, on the 23rd ult, the four-year-old stallion, Jay Eye See, beat the best four-year-old trotting record twice in succession, by three-quarter of a second.... Lorillard's Aranza won the Great Eastern Railway handicap at Newmarket, England, on the 25th ult, by six lengths.... The new comet is supposed by Professor Barnard, of the Dubley Observatory, to be the Pons comet of 1812.... In her interview with the Secretary of the Navy Sept. 29, Mrs. De Long made a personal request to have turned over to her all the private and personal effects belonging to her late husband, and the request will by granted. All the relics from the Arctic region brought back by Melville were unpacked at the navy department, and a record taken.... The first detachment of household cavalry started for Alexandria Oct. 4th on the way home. The rest follow Thursday or Friday.... A transport has gone to Suez to embark the Indian troops.... Arabi Pasha demands a trial by Englishmen, saying that he surrendered to them, and he would have escaped if he had known that he was to be tried by Egyptians, from whom he expects no mercy.
