Planters' Convention.

At the afternoon meeting yesterday, the Planters' Association,—as had been foreseen would probably be the case—was merged in the recently chartered "Planters' Labor and Supply Company," and consequently the former, as a separate organization, ceased to exist. The remainder of the session of yesterday was occupied in turning over the Committees of the Association to the Company, and they continue their original functions.

The S. F. Bulletin of March 1st, thus comments on the chartering of the C. R. Bishop at this port to load sugar for New York: "This movement will have the effect to stir up increased opposition to the treaty at the East, where there is already considerable feeling in the matter. The result of the movement will be watched with interest by both foes and friends of the treaty." In another place it says that three vessels instead of one have been laid on, and adds, "It is not likely that this sugar will be offered in New York much below the price of duty paid sugar of corresponding grades, so that the Southern planters will have little cause for complaint."
