SKIN DISEASE

CURED BY

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Mr. Geo. W. Burner, Keosauqua, Va., writes, as follows:

"Shortly after leaving college, I was troubled with a skin disease which showed itself, first, at the ankles. Physicians pronounced it eczema, and treated me for that complaint. The eruption crept slowly up my limbs, and on the body, until it enveloped the whole frame. It gave me infinite trouble with constant itching, casting off of dry scales, and a watery liquid which would exude from under the scales. I treated it for over three years unsuccessfully, and was unable to check it, until I began using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I used three bottles of this medicine and was completely cured—my skin becoming as smooth and clear as before."

THE WAIANAE EXTENSION.

HONOLULU PENCIL PUSHERS ENJOY A HOLIDAY.

A Trip to the New Terminus of the Oahu Railroad at Waianae Plantation.

If there is any one thing more than another that Manager Dillingham of the Oahu Railroad and Land Company is noted for it is his courtesy to newspaper men, and yesterday's excursion proves that he is still desirous of upholding that reputation. Invitations were extended by him to every newspaper man in Honolulu to take a trip over the Waianae extension yesterday, and that the local scribes know a good thing when it is in sight was shown by the following delegation which left at 9:30 in the morning: W R Farrington of the Advertiser, Ed Towse of the Star, S E Bishop of the Friend, J M Vivas of A Sentinella, H M Whitney of the Planters' Monthly, L P Lincoln of the Anglican Church Chronicle, Ho Fon of the Chinese News, C Yak Nam of the Chinese Times, G O Kenyon of the Independent, Bishop Willis of the Diocesan Magazine, J T Stacker of the Time, F J Testa of the Makaanana, J E Bush of the Aloha Aina, J U Kawaiui of the Kuokoa, Julian D Hayne of the Hawaiian, J E Bush of Ka Leo and George Manson of the BULLETIN. Special correspondent Frank Godfrey and Representative Kamaooha were also in the party and Deputy-sheriff Sheldon of Waianae, together with Chief Engineer Kluegel, and Contractor Bickel, and the whole was in charge of Fred. C. Smith, the general passenger agent of the company.

The press train was made up of the directors' car and an observation car drawn by engine Leahi with master mechanic H. D. Roberts at the throttle. The run to Ewa was made in fifty minutes, at which place the train stopped long enough to give the party a chance to shake hands with Manager Lowrie.

At 10:30 the start was made for Waianae and Harry Roberts speeded up his engine a little, making the 15-mile run to that place in just thirty minutes. The train rolled along in a smooth and easy manner which speaks well for the efficient road building of Contractor Bickel and his assistants. Very few bridges have been required on this stretch of road and no deep cuts, except one through loose sand. The first half of the road runs through the Ewa plantation and the Dowsett ranch, and from thence skirts along the edge of the Pacific and under the overhanging Waianae range into the valleys in which the Waianae plantation are situated. Here is the present terminus of the road, from which a sidetrack runs to the mill about 200 yards distant.

Here Manager Ahrens received the party and transferred them to a train made up of four cane cars, across which planks were laid for seats, drawn by one of the plantation locomotives with the chief engineer in charge. Mr. Ahrens first took his guests to the lower valley some four miles distant from the mill, where about 100 acres of cane is cultivated. The water for irrigating this portion of the plantation is flumed from Makaha, some two miles above. Two attempts have been made to secure artesian water in this vicinity, but both bores have produced nothing but salt water. This is to be regretted, as there are hundreds of acres available for cane if the water could only be obtained.

The party were next taken to the pumping station, some 4000 feet distant from the mill. Here are powerful pumps run by a fifty-horse power engine which eject two and a quarter million gallons of water daily. The water is pumped from three 10 inch and three 6 inch wells. Pumping commences at 5 a. m. and it takes one hour for the water to reach the lowest part of the plantation, by which time the laborers are ready to use it. Pumping stops at 4 p. m., but another hour elapses before the flame runs dry. There are nearly 40,000 feet of galvanized steel flumes on the plantation and fourteen miles of railroad track is necessary to transport the cane to the mill. The main fields are clustered about the pumping station, there being altogether nearly 1000 acres under cultivation out of the 6000 the company owns. In addition to its own land the company has leases and options over others near by which only require water to turn into valuable cane fields. The party were taken through cane fields which will be cut next January and will average nine tons of sugar to the acre. Many fields cut this present season have averaged eight and over. The total yield from the crop just harvested was 2500 tons, which amount will be increased to 3000 next year. By increasing the pumping power so as to throw the water to a height of 60-feet, instead of 35 as at present, enough water can be obtained to irrigate additional lands which will bring the output up to 5,000 tons per annum. These improvements have been in contemplation for some time and will soon be inaugurated.

A short run was then made through the well-known coconut grove which Rev. Sereno Bishop said looked just the same as it did when Captain Cook was here, or rather when he visited it as a boy.

The party were then taken back to their own train, where their car had in the meantime been transported into a dining room, and every one was just hungry enough to do justice to the elegant chicken salad and other good things provided, with the exception of the small boy of the crowd, editor Towse, who had filled up on green mangoes while going through the plantation. After lunch an hour was allowed for visiting the mill and village.

Waianae consists of the mill, outbuildings, stables and offices of the company, one butcher shop with no meat in it, seven Chinese grocery stores and the cottages of the mill employes and others, with an imposing court house and jail. The population of the district is about 900 in all, of whom over 300 are on the plantation. The principal store is a branch of that owned by Wo Chan in this city.

Just previous to returning the press representatives held a meeting on the suggestion of Frank Godfrey at which H. M. Whitney was made chairman and George Manson secretary.

On motion the secretary was instructed to draw up a resolution conveying a vote of thanks to the railroad company, Manager Ahrens of the Waianae plantation and Fred. C. Smith, the general passenger agent of the railroad.

In accordance with the above, Secretary Manson drafted the following, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the thanks of the Honolulu press representatives who have this day been the recipients of the courtesies of the Oahu Railroad and Land Company and the Waianae plantation are hereby tendered to the management of both companies, and especially to Manager Ahrens for his kindness in escorting the party over the plantation, and to Fred. C. Smith, who by his courteous care and attention has made our first trip over the Waianae extension both a pleasant and memorable one.

The above resolution was carried unanimously and the secretary instructed to forward copies to Messrs Ahrens and Smith.

Just at 4 p. m. the party reached the Honolulu depot on their return, each and every one having had a good sociable time, and for a day at least having thrown dull care, the legislature, politics, the troubles and trials of editorial and reportorial life, together with all kindred evils to the four winds.

NOTES OF THE TRIP.

Frank Godfrey sampled the water at the plantation twice as an expert.

Rev. S. E. Bishop and H. M. Whitney exchanged reminiscences on the trip.

The Waimanalo was at anchor off Waianae when the press train arrived, but left soon after.

The locomotive house formerly at Ewa is being moved in sections to Waianae by means of flat cars.

The fare on the public excursion tomorrow to Waianae and back will be only a dollar and half for the round trip.

Waianae is the hottest place on the island and its residents glory in the fact, but it was noticed that most of them kept in the shade.

All the proof-readers of the senate and house were on the trip except Jimmy Keola. It was voted their pay should go on as usual, however.

Sam Parker joined the party on the Waianae plantation, having stopped at Makaha over night. He has entirely recovered from the effect of the gripe.

If Manager Dillingham had insisted on each one of the party bringing his best girl along, the pleasure of the trip would have been more than doubled.

The only dangerous person on the trip was the good-natured porter. He carried two deadly weapons in his rear pocket, one was a razor and the other was a corkscrew.

It was generally remarked there would be a quiet session in the lower House of the Legislature yesterday on account of the absence of Representative Kamaooha. The inhabitants of Waianae suffered, however.

The two regular Ewa trains will run through to Waianae on and after Friday next, the round trip fare being $3.00 first class and $2.20 second. On Saturdays and Sundays the round trip fare will be $1.75 and $1.25.

The Waianae Company has 50,000 two-year-old coffee trees on the upper lands of their ranch at an altitude of about 1800 feet. Wild coffee has been growing in the vicinity for years and the new trees are entirely from seed produced by them. Native coffee has been used at Makaha for years.

Having used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family and found it to be a first-class article, I take pleasure in recommending it to my friends. J. T. Foster, Westport, Cal. For sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., Agents Hawaiian Islands. *
