Light now estimates the European beet sugar crop at 8,235,000 tons. This is 2,599,000 tons more than the past season's crop, and 829,874 in excess of the very large crop of the year before.

William Williamson, a member of last legislature and running for the next, has just returned from California with the latest ideas on road building.

Dr. Norgaard, the territorial veterinarian, reports tuberculosis among dairy herds on Oahu almost entirely eradicated, and urges action to extend the work of testing cattle to the other islands.

It has been decided by the board of agriculture that dogs shall not be imported into the territory excepting through Honolulu, also that no substations for the dog quarantine against rabies shall be allowed at any military post.

There will be no further increase in the price of lumber, from that made in July, unless another raise is made on the Pacific coast.

Honolulu Construction and Draying Co., Ltd., has procured a lease of land at Kakaako for the purpose of erecting buildings thereon to house its animals and vehicles.

Honolulu Lava Brick Co., Ltd., will hold a special meeting on Monday to consider the issuance of $75,000 of bonds, the proceeds of which are intended to retire the indebtedness of the company. A fine quality of brick is being made by the company, which is taken fast as it can be supplied, besides which the works are turning out concrete pipes and piers that are in great favor with contractors.

A special meeting of the Mutual Telephone Co., Ltd., will be held on Friday next to consider matters relating to the capital stock. There are 5000 shares of the stock, par value $10 a share, in the treasury, the issuance of which would bring the paid-up capital up to $400,000. Instead of declaring a stock dividend, it is proposed to empower the directors to buy the stock of another corporation. It is surmised that the corporation meant is the Marconi Wireless company which is erecting a powerful station here to connect Hawaii with the world circuit of that company.

A beautiful sample of tobacco, of the 1912 crop of the Kona tobacco, is on view at H. Hackfeld & Co., Ltd. The leaf is smooth as silk and large enough to make six or eight cigar wrappers. Part of this year's crop, with all of the 1911 crop, was destroyed in the late fire.

H. Hakefeld & Co., Ltd., has received the army contract to supply 32,000 pounds of roasted coffee to the forces in the Philippines, underbidding San Francisco merchants but securing a fair price.

Retail prices of beef will be increased in Honolulu next month. The reason given is that a system of cutting the meat, copied from San Francisco, has been introduced at the slaughter house which throws a great deal of waste material on the retailer. More than half of the local supply next month will consist of frozen beef from Australia. The long prevailing drought throughout the islands has seriously affected the meat supply anyway.

The supreme court has affirmed the validity of the revolving fund act for the reclamation of insanitary lands.

Shipments of sugar by the Sugar Factory company to the end of September amounted to 472,726 tons. The shipping of the old crop will be completed early in November.

The rapid building up of the Kaimuki suburbs is illustrated by the registration of voters, which has increased in the past two years from 254 to 403, a gain of 149.

In an address on sanitation roads this week, A. F. Judd said Honolulu should prepare for a population of 180,000 fifteen years hence.

At the 10th annual meeting of the Hawaiian Chemists' Association a paper was read by R. S. Norris on sugar house laboratory apparatus and its use.

Hawaii has received a large amount of attention from the press of New York, and of a favorable character, for its exhibit at the international rubber exhibition lately held in that metropolis. Wilbur Anderson, the representative of Hawaii there, did large amount of promotion work while in attendance.

Waiohina, Hawaii, is going to have water works constructed out of the loan fund, at an expense of $5000.

Prof. S. Shiga, who lately made a lecture here in California and spent some time in Honolulu, has asked for Hawaiian promotion literature to distribute in Japan.

Kekaha Sugar Co., at a meeting on Monday, declared a stock dividend of 8 1/2 per cent, which increases the capital stock from $800,000 to $1,500,000.

The trade of Hawaii with the U. S. mainland, including only domestic products on either side, increased $10,454,665 in the seven months ended July. Sugar and pineapples are mainly the items in increased exports. Products of Hawaii to the amount of $36,386,403 were shipped.

A popular jubilation was held on Maui this week on the occasion of the opening of the extension of the Kula pipe line.

Collection of the quarantine tax on freight at Kahului, Maui, has been discontinued, as the necessity of raising sanitation funds has disappeared. The amount on hand is $18,411.

Rapid progress is being made in the construction of the Cooke block on Fort street, the California Feed Co.'s building on Queen street, the Cooke building for the Advertiser on King street, and other business structures. Building permits issued this month contain nothing of note. Two or three dwellings ranging in estimated cost from $2500 to $5500 are the chief items.

Life is one continuous struggle for something to eat and wear.

STOCK EXCHANGE BUSINESS

$123,000 IN SIX DAYS

For the six days ended at noon yesterday the business on the Honolulu Stock and Bond Exchange compared favorably with any recent corresponding period, both in volume and in maintenance of prices. The number of shares sold was 2385 and the receipts therefrom aggregated $70,228.87 1/2, while bonds to the par value of $47,000 were sold, making a total of $123,398.87 1/2. As between the first day and the last one the quotations show gains in four stocks, declines in but two and no change in seven. In the case of bonds one—Hilo Railroad Extension sixes—made an advance of a quarter point, while Hilo Railroad 1907 sixes fell off a quarter point. Stocks standing better at the end than the beginning are Ewa, McBryde, Oahu and Pioneer. Those declined are Hawaiian Commercial and Honokaa, and those unchanged are Hawaiian Pineapple, Hawaiian Sugar, Hilo Railroad, Honolulu Brewery, Oahu Railway, Onomea and Waialua. Transactions for the six days review were as follows:

Hawaiian Pineapple Co. 35a shares for $15,620; price, 44.

SUGAR MARKETS OF EUROPE AND NEW YORK COMPARED

In a communication to its stockholders, the American Sugar Refining Company, New York, gives the following comparison of sugar prices abroad and at home. It will be seen that the "trust" sells sugar at wholesale cheaper than it can be bought in any old world city excepting London, where the price is 90thms of a cent less than that obtained by the American in New York.

Belgrade, 8.7c per pound; Amsterdam, 8.7c per pound; Stockholm, 8c per pound; Warsaw, 7.2c per pound; Vienna, 6.5c per pound; Christiania, 6.3c per pound; Hamburg, 5.9c per pound; Paris, 5.9c per pound; Brussels, 5.4c per pound; Constantinople, 5.1c per pound; Zurich, 5.1c per pound; Copenhagen, 5c per pound; London, 4c per pound.

"An opportunity for a comparison of granulated sugar prices in the leading European cities with those in this country has been made possible through information obtained by consular officers in response to an order of the State Department at Washington.

"The retail price in this country varies from the wholesale price in accordance with conditions in different markets. The margin obtained by the retailer is, however, very small, and in the city of New York is estimated at about one-third of a cent per pound. This figure would have made a price of 5.2c per pound for New York as a basis for comparison with the prices quoted for the European cities.

"The figures reported, which were submitted by the President to congress at its recent session, included the following: Rome, 4.4c per pound; Madrid, 12.2c per pound; Athens, 11.4c per pound; Bucharest, 10.1c per pound.

"Your company's quality products, crystal dominoes and crystal domino granulated—both in cartons—naturally command a premium over granulated sugars in bulk."

BUSINESS SENSITIVE TO TARIFF PROBLEM

Henry Clews of New York, in his special letter of October 5, discusses business and politics in part as follows:

which were readily absorbed in this market. Europe appears to be always having its little war scares, but this Balkan situation is one of particular significance. It means that within the next fifty years important changes will be made in the map of Europe. The seat of controversy lies in a region where there is perpetual conflict between varied racial and religious prejudices. The people are warlike, and have suffered for generations from Turkish misrule.

"In spite of a temporary setback induced by disturbing news from the Balkans, the stock market showed a steady growth in underlying strength. Intrinsic conditions are sound. Business is daily becoming more active as the result of a splendid harvest. Practically all crops except cotton are beyond danger from frost. The yield has been larger, larger in many cases than Government estimates, and the quality of most crops is exceptionally fine. Cotton is still two or three weeks backward and will not be entirely gathered for several weeks to come, but the deterioration in August was below the average. The danger from early frost has been practically escaped and the outlook is now more certain for a 14,000,000-bale yield.

"Tariff Uncertainty
"Stocks have now risen between 5 and 10 points. The outlook is for even a more active and higher market. But the greater the advance the greater the temptations to realize, and it should not be forgotten that the market will then be peculiarly liable to a setback from any political development that might be construed as unfavorable to business interests. Just now public temper shows a gratifying quieting down compared with the irritation shown last winter and this summer. This is probably because the activity of business in general diverts the attention of all parties from political agitation, of which the people are more than weary. There is no subject upon which business interests are more sensitive at present than the tariff. This appears to be the only issue of great weight with either party. Both leaders have insisted upon the necessity of a revision downward, yet neither has outlined a definite tariff program. There is no doubt that the tariff can be amended in important respects without serious detriment to business affairs. But whatever changes are attempted should be carried out and the idea of affecting industry adversely as little as possible.

"A noticeable feature is the early marketing of grain. Receipts thus far at interior points are more than double a year ago and far surpass all previous records. The effect of this prompt moving of the crops will be twofold. In the first place, it will release earlier than expected the large sums of money locked up in the West to carry grain, and such funds will return to the East correspondingly early. Secondly, early marketing of the crops will greatly stimulate retail trade. The agricultural sections will have money in hand, and will not doubt spend more freely than in their former years were locked up in crops. This activity in trade will be reflected in a further revival of industry, also in railroad traffic.

"The money situation is also more satisfactory than a week ago. Funds withdrawn for October disbursements have already returned. In all probability the extreme rates witnessed last week will not be repeated for some time to come. A year ago we were lending money freely to Europe. At present we have full and profitable employment for all available funds. Nevertheless, firm rates are promised throughout the winter, and lending institutions generally are enjoying a period of exceptional prosperity. We have already taken $6,500,000 gold from Europe, and would have imported still more were it not for the outbreak in the Balkans and the fact that our needs are not urgent.

"The Balkan situation is naturally taken much more seriously in Europe than here, having induced extensive foreign selling of American stocks,

LAND SALE FUNDS ARE SPENT FAST AS RECEIVED

Money derived from the sale of Territorial lands at Hilo is turned back into that city again in the form of improvement almost as rapidly as it accumulates. Governor Frear said yesterday that $20,220 is at present in the treasury, residue from public land sales in Hilo, and that it will be expended shortly for additional improvements there.
