Officers and employes in practically all Inter-Island Steam Navigation lines were given every opportunity to cast their vote today, the schedules being so arranged that all vessels remained for some time at a home port.

The Mauna Kea was an early arrival from Hilo this morning. The Claudine, that usually returns to Honolulu on Wednesday morning, came into port this morning, thereby affording a chance for a number of men to exercise their right of franchise.

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.)

HILO, Nov. 4.—There will be few walkovers in the coming election on this island, according to all predictions at the present time, though a number of the local Democrats are conceding a Republican victory in most of the Legislature offices. The chief interest comes in the fight for the sheriff's office where both sides claim victory by a margin of but one hundred votes.

For Senator everyone seems sure that Metzger will poll the highest strength while Fernandez, Republican is given second place.

David Ewaldko, who has been practically in charge of the local Democratic-Home Rule fight stated this morning that he believed that in the first district two out of the four Republican candidates for the House would be chosen. He figures that Norman Lyman and Dr. Huddy, formerly from Kauai, will be winners together with Dr. Archer Irwin and Jim Kepoo of the combination slate.

From the figures given above it may easily be guessed that the amount Congress has said might be invested in purchasing a federal building site in Honolulu will be greatly inadequate.
