KUHIO WINS ON ABOUT $1500

Party Fund Small, and Personal Expenses, Smaller Still, Paid by Himself

Delegate Kuhio was re-elected to Congress at an expenditure of less than $1500 of Republican campaign funds, and his personal expenses ran far below that figure. Such is the statement today of Robert W. Shingle, chairman of the Republican Territorial central committee, backed up by documentary proof.

Two years ago, according to figures spoken of at that time by those close to the campaign management, something like $10,000 was spent in the territorial campaign. A. L. C. Atkinson was manager of the territorial campaign, and funds were plentiful.

This year Kuhio not only informed the committee that he wished to defray his own personal expenses, but he had all those connected with the management declared to have confined the expenditure of funds to printing, transportation and such incidentals as cable and wireless messages. There was no "barrel" opened in the Republican Territorial campaign, say those in a position to know.

Chairman Shingle was found this morning in his office busily engaged in going through the bills and vouchers on the campaign, and at work on a statement which shows that hardly a tenth of the money used two years ago was spent this year.

"My requisition on the Republican territorial central committee was about $1500," he said. "This includes a considerable printing bill as a copy of the Republican platform was mailed to every citizen in the territory. At a cost of several hundred dollars, and other large items in the statement will be the expense of hiring a special train on the Hilo railroad to bring in 500 voters from Laupahoehoe and other precincts along the road to the meeting at Hilo. This was made necessary by the prince's sudden illness which forced a cancellation of campaign dates. The figure I named above includes postage and small incidentals."

"Of course the delegate bore his personal expenses, as he informed the committee he preferred to do. He paid these from his own pocket. I expect to make public tomorrow a detailed statement.

Commenting on the election results throughout the territory, Mr. Shingle called attention to the fact that revised figures give Kuhio a majority of over 1200.

"The Republican party has been generally upheld throughout the territory," he said. "We have eighteen members of the house and nine of the senate."

MCCANDLESS NOT DECIDED ON PROTEST

Wireless from West Hawaii Urg'ng Contest Is Not Definite

Nothing tangible has yet appeared on which L. L. McCandless believes he can base a contest of the election of delegate. He said this morning that there was no information of a definite protest which might form the groundwork of proceedings to void the election of Kuhio. The only protest made so far as heard, says he, was from West Hawaii, but it is not known whether this has relation to the election of delegate. From the fact that the message came to the Democratic candidate for delegate an inference, and nothing more, is drawn that it concerns him in whole or part. This is the message:

"Kualakou, November 6.—To McCandless, Honolulu.—From De Mello, Puna. First and second precincts of West Hawaii."

De Mello was a candidate for representative. Possibly his message is a request to McCandless as leader to file a preliminary protest with the Secretary of Hawaii.

There is circumstantial evidence at Democratic headquarters indicating that the "endless chain" was used to some extent. This is a collection of specimen, or sample ballots hand-marked for Republican candidates. At best, it is recognized, these papers would be only corroborative evidence of that particular kind of fraud. In the first precinct of the fourth district, it is said, a native voter was detected putting his bunch of official ballots in his pocket as he advanced toward the voting compartments, and was compelled to deliver them up to the judge superintending the ballot boxes.

speeches and jolly the populace, and in between times talked hard for Republican candidates—this idle young gentleman is nothing if not buoyant of temperament.

Doyle and Chairman B. von Damm of the Republican county committee, were two of the hardest workers ever seen in captivity during the entire campaign. Von Damm worked so hard and put his soul into the campaign so deeply that along about nine o'clock last Tuesday night, when the ruins of the Republican party in this county were crashing about his ears and Republican candidates were going to glorious defeat, "Von" disappeared.

He "took it on the run," as the sports say, and he hasn't been seen since. He is in voluntary exile, although it certainly wasn't any failure of his in the working line that precipitated the calamity.

Returning to Mr. Doyle: He was as much interested in the campaign as anybody—more than a good many people, for he had taken a few chances with the goddess fortune in the way of those alluring "cinch bets." He was interested personally and financially, and besides, he considered that his professional reputation as a purveyor of publicity was at stake. He did his work up to the notch, but twenty publicity managers wouldn't have made much difference when the land began to slide.

Doyle stayed up at Party headquarters.

STEP TAKEN FOR DEPARTMENT HERE TEDDY HOPES TO BE NAMED IN FOUR YEARS

SHAFTER HOSPITAL STATUS RAISED

Another important and significant step toward the ultimate raising of the Department of Hawaii to division rank is indicated by the change of status of the base hospital at Fort Shafter. Heretofore this institution has been under the chief surgeon of the Western Division, and has been practically administered from San Francisco; now it is to be known as a department hospital, entirely separated from division headquarters, and regulations for its government will be made by the department commander, subject, of course, to army regulations.

According to the order just issued, the department hospital at Shafter will take care of all the serious cases, or those requiring operations, and as few sick as possible will be kept at Schofield, where the hospital facilities are crude.

One of the points brought out in the recent maneuvers, according to an officer at department headquarters, was the necessity for extreme mobility of the Schofield garrison. In case of an actual invasion of the island, Schofield Barracks would be no place

KUHIO WINS BY MORE THAN 1200

Delegate Kuhio has been reelected to Congress by a majority of 1263 votes over Link McCandless, according to an estimate made this morning by Robert W. Shingle, chairman of the Republican territorial central committee and in charge of the territorial campaign.

The figures are not yet entirely complete, because returns are still missing from one precinct on Hawaii and one precinct on Kauai. The Kauai precinct is Niihau, and Mr. Shingle yesterday received a telephone message from Mr. Francis Gay, who came to Honolulu from Kauai after the election, that all of the fifty votes would probably be for Kuhio. However, Chairman Shingle makes an estimate of 30 Kuhio votes on Niihau, added to the 199 majority on Kauai.

The missing Hawaii precinct is either Hookea or Hoopuloa, and thirty Kuhio votes are estimated to have been cast there.

The Maui majority of 932 for Kuhio was received in a special wireless message to the Star-Bulletin as published yesterday, and Mr. Shingle has not heard officially, what the Maui vote is. Taking the majority as wired yesterday, Mr. Shingle this morning gave out the following figures:

Kuhio's majority on Hawaii 920
Kuhio's majority on Maui 932
Kuhio's majority on Kauai 299
Total Kuhio majority 2051
McCandless's majority on Oahu 818
Grand total Kuhio majority 1263
Kuhio's majority in 1910 3624

PASSENGERS SAVED FROM BIG VESSEL

Royal George Grounds in St. Lawrence and Boats Rescue Those Aboard

(Associated Press Cable)
MONTREAL, Can., November 7.—The big passenger liner Royal George has grounded in the St. Lawrence river.

Four hundred passengers were saved amid sensational scenes. Boats were sent for the safety of the vessel and the boats were lowered at once and passengers kept their heads and were taken off rapidly.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 2.—A campaign of education and organization whereby the Progressive element of the Republican party may control the national convention of 1916 began with the closing of the contest for president this year. Its purpose was to secure a majority of the regular delegates pledged to the nomination of Col. Roosevelt. It is intended henceforth to make the fight for supremacy within instead of outside the party.

For months before the Bull Moose movement blossomed out over night into a full-fledged flower it was known that Col. Roosevelt and his friends were planning to give him the Republican presidential nomination in 1916. It was then proposed that Senator La Follette should make the run this year and go down to defeat in his own way. When it became apparent that the senator would not be in the running either at Chicago or elsewhere the colonel could not restrain himself and hastily plunged into the controversy, shoving La Follette aside. By so doing he created dissension within the ranks of the Progressives, but he cared nothing for that. He invites rather than avoids dissension.

Soon after Col. Roosevelt's selection by the Bull Moose convention of August 5 he made the flat-footed announcement that he had no expectation of winning this year. He was looking ahead to 1916. He wanted to make the best possible fight and form

DESPONDENT KILLS SELF

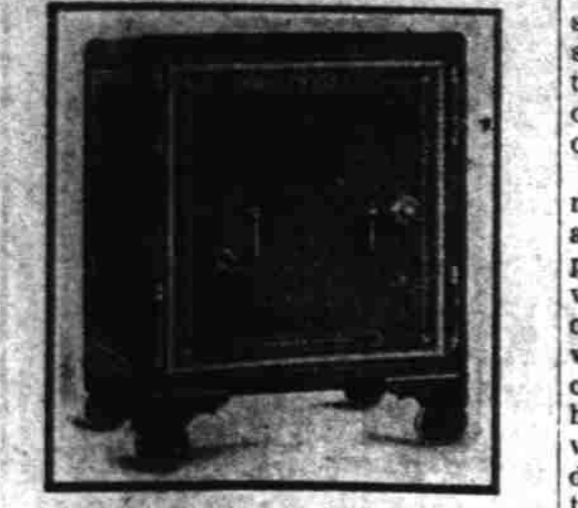

Continued illness, resulting in despondency, a Japanese listed at a local Japanese hospital as Yabuki Hiko, took his life this morning, hanging by the method pursued by the man to end his suffering.

A medical officer connected with the institution in making the rounds of the hospital wards this noon found the body of the Japanese suspended from a rafter.

The patient had utilized the "obe" of his kimono, successfully carrying out his intention of self-destruction. Coroner Rose empaneled a jury and visited the scene of the suicide this afternoon.

In the partial destruction of a small warehouse by fire yesterday afternoon, a small Chinese boy narrowly escaped death. The fire was discovered among some piles of hay and was extinguished but only after the body of the child had been dragged from a corner, the boy being nearly suffocated by smoke. Police officer Apana rescued the lad who returned to his parents.

DEMOCRATIC BOARD HAS MUCH MONEY

Supervisors Will Be Able to Spend $50,000 a Month for Two Years

With a Democratic mayor and only one Republican member on the board the Democratic supervisors-elect of Honolulu have been given a free rein in the handling of the municipal and county government, and will have ample opportunity to fulfill the pledges made by them on the stump during the campaign. In fact, their plans to the electorate have borne such fruit, in giving them absolute sway, that the general feeling is they can have no excuse for failure to live up to the pre-election promises made so enthusiastically.

One of these was that they would reduce the taxes, by cutting down the

BRECKONS TO RESIGN, SAYS RUMOR TODAY

From pre-election statements made by Robert W. Breckons, U. S. District Attorney, it is understood that his resignation from that office will be forwarded shortly to the Attorney General at Washington, D. C. It was said some time ago that if the Democrats triumphed at the polls on the mainland, presaging a change in the cabinet and consequently a new Attorney General, Breckons would move out of office with the retiring administration.

Attorney Breckons at present is confined to his home by a severe injury received several days ago, in a fall at Wai'alua mill. Mr. Breckons
