

IN THE WOMAN'S WORLD

CALLING DAYS ARE REARRANGED FOR VARIOUS SECTIONS OF CITY

As newcomers arrive in Honolulu and settle in the different districts, the calling days in those districts are rearranged. The last change made is that by the ladies of Mahoa Valley. For years it has been the custom among the ladies to keep four days of month as calling days. From the first Monday has been set aside by the ladies in the Punahou and Makiki districts. Later as the districts surrounding these grew, Monday was adopted by them. Thus, that day was kept by the residents of Manoa Valley and College Hills. These last two districts, however, have grown to such an extent that the ladies have decided to make a change and from now on will keep the first and third Fridays of the month.

For years the residents of the Plains have received their callers on Thursdays. But as the division comes at Kewalo street, callers visit residents of that street both on Monday and Thursday. The ladies of that street prefer to receive their friends on Monday.

Tuesday and Wednesday are rather full days on the calling calendar, for the former is kept by the ladies of Waikiki, Kapiolani Park and by residents of Kaimuki, Paiole and Port Ruger. In most instances every Tuesday is set aside by the ladies in both districts, with the exception of Port Ruger. The Post ladies remain at home only on the fourth Tuesday of the month. A number of the ladies at Waikiki and in Kaimuki would like to make some change in the calling days, for they find it rather inconvenient to have districts so far apart to have the same day at home.

Wednesday is perhaps the best arranged day on the calendar. The ladies of upper Nuuanu Valley keep two Wednesdays of the month and the other two days are kept by the residents below the bridge. The ladies of Pacific Heights have chosen as their days the fourth Wednesday, while those of Alewa keep the first and third Wednesdays.

Arranged as they are, residents of Nuuanu find it very convenient to call upon their friends in the valley upon a calling day. Friday for a long time has been the day of the town residents and guests at the hotels. Since the fort at Shafter has been completed, however, the ladies at that Post have reserved the first Friday. Even then Friday may not be considered a very full day for the town folk only to keep the fourth Friday.

On Saturday the residents of Kalihi and girls and teachers of Kamehameha schools receive their friends.

In the old days here the residents in the different districts strictly observed the calling days and one was perfectly certain of finding the ladies at home on their calling days. Of later years, though, the women have not been so strict in observing the calling rule and often neglect to remain at home.

The calling days are usually kept, however, unless indicated on the calling cards, for a number of the ladies have found it more convenient to observe no more than two days a month.

Safe for Woman's Use

Nothing is more annoying to a refined woman than offensive perspiration or body odors. Those who have used Tyro's Antiseptic Powder know it to be the one remedy which never disappoints. For general uses—deodorant in all cases—it should be in every household. Unequaled as a deodorant. Recommended by physicians everywhere, as it contains no poisons. One 25c box makes two gallons standard solution. All druggists or write for booklet and free sample.

CAST SELECTED FOR COLLEGE PLAY

The play to be given by the College of Hawaii, on the night before Thanksgiving is progressing finely. The parts have been assigned and daily rehearsals are taking place. The students are exceedingly enthusiastic about it and there is a great deal of talent displayed by the members of the cast.

The cast of characters for "The Revolving Wedge" is as follows:

Mr. Martin Mr. Clayton Cousins
Bob Martin, Martin's son Mr. Glenn Shaw
Ned Biddle, Martin's cousin Mr. Ted Tracy
Dr. Brown, Mrs. Martin's brother Mr. Harold Starratt
Captain Michael Dolan, of the Police force Mr. Scott Pratt
Mrs. Martin Miss Lillian Boyd
Neil, Mrs. Martin's daughter Miss Bernice Smith
Nora the maid Miss Shirley Foster
"Nora" and "Mr. Martin" offer the greatest opportunities for the display of dramatic skill and are also the hardest parts to play. The Irish dialect for Nora is extremely hard to master. Mr. Martin has a great deal of talking and acting to do. He is an eccentric individual and both his actions and conversation are hard to produce. The other characters in the play are ordinary people. Bob Martin is a young fellow who thinks football is the only thing and is a half-back on the Harvard team. His sister Nell is a young girl full of life and spirit and greatly interested in football. Ned Biddle, Dr. Brown, Captain Dolan and Mrs. Martin are characterized by their names.

Rehearsals of the play are being held every afternoon at the College. The last few rehearsals are to be held at Punahou, where the play is to be given. The students plan to construct a tennis court from the proceeds to be derived from the play.

VIVAS KILLED IN NEEDLESS AUTO ACCIDENT

Details of Sudden Death of a Maui Candidate on Election Eve

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence) WAILUKU, Nov. 7.—Another very sad accident is added to the long list of unfortunate affairs that have happened this year to people riding or driving along Maui highways. This time John M. Vivas, candidate of the Democratic party for County Attorney of Maui, was the victim. He was in Punahou, having been working hard for his nomination. J. E. Thompson, assistant manager of the H. C. and S. Co. with Dan Quill, runs for the same company came up with Mr. Thompson driving. He asked Mr. Vivas to ride up to Wailuku, and the latter accepted, saying he was very tired indeed, and was rather sleepy. Mr. Thompson drove along, and the fire and ashes from the clear he was smoking suddenly blew into his face. He covered his eyes for a minute, with his left hand to avoid getting the hot ashes into his eyes, and when he looked again saw he was heading straight for one of the poles of the electric light company. Swerving suddenly, he avoided striking the pole with the front part of the car, but scraped against the post violently with the running board and the rear fender. The top was also injured. Immediately after the accident, William and Edward Walsh, who had been following closely behind came up. By this time Thompson had stopped his car. One of the two men on the front seat who had not felt the jar particularly remarked, "How did John stand the shake-up?"

To their astonishment and horror the four men, Thompson, Quill and the Walsh brothers found him lying on the floor of the car bleeding terribly. Upon lifting him they saw he was badly wounded about the head. Taking him as quickly as possible to Mahalani Hospital, Doctor Gemers was called, who pronounced the wound a fracture of the skull. The accident happened about nine o'clock. Everything possible was done for the wounded man, but death came at 10:15. The event cast a gloom over the election on Maui. The crowds about the Maui News office that had been shouting as the returns came in were perfectly subdued.

A slighting remark was passed half an hour later by one of the crowd, and Angus McFee told him to take it back. It was a lively scene for a moment, but the good sense of the crowd soon made everybody realize that the remark was probably made under the excitement of the occasion. It is supposed that Mr. Vivas in his dazed condition may have been dosing in Mr. Thompson's car, so when the sudden turn was made to avoid the post, he was thrown forward. The blow was a terrible one, however, and the head struck the foot rest on the floor of the car, causing the ugly wound and the fracture that so quickly resulted in death.

Such an accident, with the sad attending circumstances, occurring on election night, to one of the candidates for county office, cast all the more gloom over the death of a man who has been prominent for years in the Territory, and especially prominent in Maui politics for the last few years.

The automobile was left in the road, where the accident happened. The County officials went immediately to the spot as soon as the news was received. A second examination of the machine, and review of the body were made in the morning. The inquest and examination of witnesses were held at one-thirty in the afternoon. The verdict accidental death was the unanimous opinion of all the jury.

Members of the Lulliana benefit society of Honolulu of which the deceased was a member wiredless for the body as soon as the death was known in Honolulu. The body goes down on the Mauna Loa tonight.

The fate of General Diaz, the captured leader of the Mexican revolt, is hanging in the balance. It is believed that he may not suffer the full penalty, although there is little doubt that his associates will be shot.

There were 7750 cremations of human bodies in Switzerland last year, an increase of 22 per cent. over the number of the year before.
