CITY FATHERS FIGHTING FOR ADDED ROOM

New Administration Faces a Grave Problem—May Move Honolulu City Hall

An important problem of office accommodation is now facing the new municipal government and may result in moving the City Hall. Some of the departmental offices are now stretched for room and their heads are asking for relief in that respect. On top of that condition an office must be found for Treasurer, Mr. Teat and Mr. Shilings, who are to hold room for the treasury in the quarters of the corporations, with which they were connected, but Mr. McCarthy does not command similar conditions, and therefore must have premises found for him suitable for handling the duties of the treasurer. This does not mean that the election of Mr. McCarthy involves additional expense for office room, as the municipality has allowed his predecessor, Mr. Teat, some time after he took office.

All of the rooms on the second floor of the McIntyre building are now occupied by municipal offices. On the Fort street side, including the corner of King street, the city's department has a large suite. Next to that, on the same side, is the auditor's office. This is one small room, in which the auditor and three or four clerks are crowded. Then come the offices of the engineer and the road overseer opening into each other, which contain not too much space, especially when long drafting tables are considered.

Various plans are being considered to get up to the new board when it takes office. One plan is to find offices in some other building for the engineer and road overseer, as it is believed that these could be placed separately from headquarters with less inconvenience to the officials and the public than any other arrangement. On a former occasion, when there was a dispute with the road department about room, quarters were found for it in the Kaplan building, this arrangement having been later abandoned for economy through a rearrangement of offices in the McIntyre building.

Tentative discussion has now been started with the management of the Kapalan building for existing offices therein for use of one or more of the departments. One of the ground floor stores on Alakea street has been mentioned as possibly suitable for the treasurer, John F. Colburn, manager of the Kapalan Estate, owning the building, it is understood on the other hand, will make a proposal to the new board of supervisors to let as much of the Kapalan building as may be required to house all the departments of the municipal government. There would certainly be room enough to let, as there are seven stores on the ground floor and fifteen windows on the upper floor looking out on Alakea street. The building also contains a yard.

There are advocates, also, of the upper floor of the Pantheon block at Fort and Hotel streets as a city hall. The problem now arisen for accommodation revolves around in the question of a municipal building. It is pointed out that $25000 had been paid out by the municipality, leaving out consideration of increase in the near future, would be short only $1000 a year in paying $30 per cent interest on bonds to erect a $100,000 building. An additional $5000 a year would provide besides for a sinking fund to redeem the bonds in twenty years.

IMPORTANT BOOK ON REPUBLICAN CHINA

John Stuart Thomson, the China traveler and author of "The Chinese," will have out late this season a large new book entitled "Revolutionized China," illustrated both by choice colored plates by Chinese artists, and by many unusually fine photo half tones and colored maps. Among the photos are striking ones of the leaders of the new republic. The book of 600 pages will be published in America by the Hobbs-Merrill company and in London by Werner Laurie. It is promised that it is a most important work by a traveler and economist who spent three years on the ground. It will cover the whole new republican China of today and the future, in thirty fields, in its relation with America, Britain, Japan, etc. After his long stay in China, Mr. Thomson made trips around the world via Japan, India, Indo-China and Europe, to study trade and political relations of the various nations with the new China, which the Panama canal is bringing much closer to the American business man and statesman.

D. Appleton & Co. of New York have just published Mr. Thomson's child's story of China "Bud & Bamboo." It is tastefully illustrated by cuts made from photographs which the author took on his travels in China.

Mr. Thomson will make one of the principal addresses at the World's Oriental Congress at Worcester, Mass. this November.

Theodore Roosevelt, Hiram Johnson and Oscar S. Strauss, Progressive candidate for the governorship of New York, appeared before the enormous crowd at Madison Square Garden. The demonstration in favor of the Progressive candidates lasted 45 minutes.

CHAS. A. STANTON TALKS OF FUTURE

Forging Links to Give Hawaii Share in Profits of the Coast Progress

"I am preparing to get my share of the increased business resulting from the tremendous development of California in the next three years, and I am also prepared to give my Honolulu friends a large share in the benefit of my opportunities," said Charles A. Stanton today in speaking of his plans for the future.

Mr. Stanton leaves for the Coast tomorrow after a short business trip to this city, and promises to return the latter part of next month. Mr. Stanton since leaving the Islands has made a tour through California, visiting every county of the State except two, with the purpose in mind of thoroughly equipping himself to handle California real estate, more especially farming land, from the standpoint of the expert. He has incorporated the Charles A. Stanton & Co., Inc., and established offices in the First National Bank Building. He is also a partner in a bonding house that is in a position to finance the propositions that may be undertaken.

Mr. Stanton states that his plan of operation is not to buy up property in California and come down here to offer it at retail to large and small investors to hold during the development stage. His plan is to secure the funds locally for financing the enterprise and thus enable the local purchasers to gain the substantial profits derived from retelling the lands in lots as desired by small settlers.

California will have a most remarkable development in the next two or three years. It will be the best advertised State in the world. Its agricultural areas have hardly been scratched when it comes to estimating the possibilities of eventual development. People are coming in now from all parts of the world and they will come in still greater numbers as the Exposition year approaches. The home-sellers are multiplying, and I have secured control of some of the most attractive tracts for farmers that are to be had in the State.

Mr. Stanton states that he believes in Honolulu and its great future, especially following the opening of the Panama Canal. He expects to retain his local connections while keeping an eye open to the exceptional development of the Pacific coast, especially California.

After being ill for over nineteen weeks with what the doctors thought was a sprain, J. Oswald Lutted, the prominent Shiner and local broker suffered the loss of his right foot just above the ankle by amputation Saturday at Queen's Hospital. The operation was performed by Dr. Straub.

Mr. Lutted injured his ankle about five months ago. The doctors treated it for sprain, and it seemed to get better. Saturday Dr. Straub was called in again as the foot was causing Mr. Lutted considerable pain. An X-ray examination was made and the doctor announced that the foot would have to be amputated to save the leg. The bones of the foot had been decaying. Mr. Lutted is resting easily.

ELECTION DISPLEASES PORTUGUESE OF HILO

It is quite evident that A. Satta, the Portuguese paper published in Hilo, doesn't think much of those who have been elected to supervise the affairs of Hawaii county for the next couple of years. After commenting on the "Great Surprise" in the results of the recent balloting on the big island, it says:

"The booby prize is generally given to the worst players, but the Hilo (District) was kind enough to reserve the order by forcing the best players in the supervisory game to remain at home. The negligence of the enlightened voters to avail themselves of the ballot (both at the primaries, and at the general election) and the opportunity to elect business men for supervisors, has made it so that so far as a business administration is concerned we are going from bad to worse. It was not the choice of the people that prevailed, it was a beautiful road machine manipulated by a county employe and financed by County bonds."

An article on "State Horticultural Work," by State Commissioner A. J. Cook, appears in the Pasadena, Cal., Star of October 16, in which the history of the California campaign against the introduction of the Mediterranean fruit fly, which has resulted in Federal as well as state legislation is given. "Wherever introduced in it has brought utter ruin to the fruit industry," Mr. Cook says. "Hawaii was a frightful illustration of its devastation." Referring to the work done here by the California board of horticulture, the article quotes C. S. Marshall, who came here as a special agent from Washington as saying: "The quarantine inspection at San Francisco is 'first-class perfect'—the best in the world."

The Bulgars have again triumphed in a great battle against the Moslems, and utterly routed the flower of the Islam army. It is reported that over 150,000 soldiers were engaged in the battle.

A lone bandit in North Dakota held up twenty-five men in a bunkhouse and only secured $1.50 for his trouble. He knocked the first laborer senseless who said he didn't have any money.

The German Crown Prince, Frederick William, was injured in a hunting accident near Dauls, Germany. His horse fell on top of him.

COUNT SHOWS INCREASE IN ATTENDANCE

Several times during the year the Young Men's Christian Association makes a count of the attendance at the building, picking out an average day for the purpose. Yesterday was chosen as a test of the fall activities and the attendance was counted in the men's department from 8:30 a. m. until 10:30 p. m. and in the boys' department from the opening hour, noon, until nine o'clock in the evening. The results were interesting.

Until noon in the men's department the attendance was 234. The busy time then commenced and continued until one o'clock. About twenty-five men an hour came in from this hour on up until four o'clock, and 262 men came in during the next four hours. When the day closed at ten-thirty in the evening, 696 men had visited the department.

The attendance in the boys' department for the day was eighty-eight, making a total attendance of 684 for the entire building during the day. When the count was taken on a typical day last April, the attendance was 536.

Some came for breakfast, luncheon and dinner; some for the monthly prayer meeting; and many for the noon gymnasium class. They came to read in the reading room; to bowl; to play billiards; to attend the business men's gymnasium class, and to play tennis, bathe, attend the night school classes or evening gym. class, while many merely returned to their rooms in the dormitory.

In the boys' department they came to play games and the phonograph, to take lunch in the new cafeteria, to attend the boys' bible classes, while many came just because they wanted to come. The daily attendance is very encouraging, and General Secretary Super has expressed his satisfaction in the way the members are using the building.

DEATH TAKES WELL-KNOWN LOCAL ELK

After a short illness, E. P. O'Brien, better known as "Pop," died at the Queen's Hospital shortly after mid night last night. Death was due to organic troubles. For a number of years Mr. O'Brien has been manager of the Kalihi poi factory, and was a prominent member of the Elks, serving for many years as chairman of the finance committee of that organization, being known and liked by hundreds in this city.

He was about forty-five years old and leaves a widow and his mother, who at present is on the coast. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at three-thirty o'clock from Williams' undertaking parlors under the auspices of Honolulu Lodge 615, B. P. O. E.
